

A SERIOUS SITUATION.

POINTERS OF INTEREST TO BRITISH IN CANADA.

Facts of Value to Old Country Producers Who Have Settled in British America—$10,000,000 Less English Wheat Than Last Year.

London, Oct. 14.—In making our final estimate of the harvest of the year 1892, we are brought face to face with a most serious condition of affairs, at all events with respect to the wheat crop. It cannot be said, however, that the position is entirely unexpected, because during the whole of the season this cereal has been in a condition which promised nothing like an average.

On June 1 the prospect was particularly bad, for the estimates which were made for Great Britain did not reach higher than 88 1/2 per cent., and very little change took place during that month. By the end of July there had been an improvement to something like 3 per cent. in the appearance of the wheat, and some hope was indulged in that it might, with favorable weather, approach something near to the condition of the plant, combined with the weather, prevented this desired for consummation, and during the month of August a great falling-off was observable.

The deterioration continued during September, until, on October 1, it was considered that wheat was not more than 82 7/8 of an average crop.

$10,000,000 LESS THAN THE AVERAGE This figure is nearly 10 per cent. lower than the condition our reports enabled us to arrive at on October 1 last year.

How this great reduction will affect the British farmer may be realized when it is pointed out that it means a money return for his wheat of about two millions sterling ($10,000,000) less than if the crop had been one of average quantity, the value being calculated at the low price which at present prevails for this cereal.

WHY GROW WHEAT?

London, Oct. 7.—Mr. Walter Wren writes to the Times: "It is quite clear from your reports that we can buy better wheat than we can grow, and cheaper. Then, why grow it? Why this wheat and bread superstition at all? People who can get plenty of meat, fish, vegetables and fruit, want very little bread. What is the average daily consumption of bread by the readers of the Times? Shall we say a quarter of a pound per day? I don't believe it is as much. If there is a demand for flour bread, and therefore wheat in England, there will be a supply. Never mind where it comes from. The better and cheaper it is, the better for the buyers and sellers, too. I read that American wheat is of better quality and fetches a better price than English. We buy loaves of bread; does any buyer care one farthing whether it is made of Russian or Indian or American or Australian or English flour? From what I have read for a good many past years, I would far rather have bread for my own eating made of American wheat.

Why not see the fact that our climate is unsuitable for growing wheat and potatoes, as compared with more favored countries? What is to be done, then? Why do not cultivators of the soil study market reports? There has been a strong demand, a brisk inquiry, etc., for

DAIRY PRODUCE.

Our cultivators have at their doors the finest market in the world, where they decline to compete with their foreign rivals in those products which really foreigners cannot be their rivals. Most, if not all, Englishmen prefer the best English cheeses to all foreign ones. But they won't pay a higher price for inferior English than for superior foreign, and our cheese-making seems a declining industry. I read 'fine lots meet a ready sale,' but 'were not by any means plentiful!' There is a strong demand for the best FRESH ENGLISH BUTTER.

A very small percentage of us ever taste it. There's a strong demand for new-laid eggs. Foreigners cannot supply 'new-laid' eggs at all. We eat others by millions, going without 'new-laid.'

Apples are in strong demand. We pay 2d. and 3d. a pound for them at the grocer's. Twopence a pound is 9s. 4d. per bushel; lots of apples are sold in country district for 2s. 6d. or 3s. a bushel. Almost or quite all are saleable retail at prices which show a very satisfactory margin of profit for growers, if they will take care it is not all intercepted by those who stand between them and the consumers. If it pays American and Australian growers to export fruit, surely it must pay growers in English counties.

Tomatoes and mushrooms have been selling in London at 9d. and 1s. 3d. a pound. There is an enormous demand for all kinds of hardy vegetables in all our large towns and cities. Let farmers study the market reports. They will see what is in demand, and the good prices paid, and therefore what our growers should grow. I have not gone into the meat question or the horse-breeding question, or the poultry question, or the game question. Space forbids."

FARMERS' CAPITAL LOST.

Mr. Arthur B. Markham returns to the subject of wheat-growing, which, he repeats, is unprofitable because English land bears an artificial value. "The majority of farmers in this country have lost a large amount of their capital during the past few years, and this capital has been, to a great extent, paid to the landlords."

ENGLISH CAPITAL AND LABOR.

Cheshire Agricultural Laborers.

Mr. Richards, Government Commissioner, recently held an inquiry at Nantwich as to the condition of the Cheshire agricultural laborers. There was a good attendance of gentlemen interested in the question, among those present being Messrs. Henry Tollemache, M.P., Charles Rundell, M.P., and Colonel Cotton-Jodrell, M.P. The complaint was general that there was not a sufficiency of laborers for present requirements. There had been a large decrease in the number of agricultural laborers during the past 15 years, though there had been an improvement in the rate of wages. The ordinary wages for laborers were 15s. weekly, horsekeepers and cowmen 8s. extra. The hours in winter were from 6 to half-past 6, and in harvest time so long as required. In harvest time they had extra wages or bonuses. Cottages in Cheshire were generally well placed for laborers, but there were fewer cottages than formerly. Some were in a good state and some bad.

REDUCTIONS OF WAGES.

Almost the whole of the shipyard workers on the Wear have now accepted a reduction in wages. The latest section to submit to the employers' terms were the general laborers, who agreed that men earning 25s. a week should suffer a reduction of 1s. a week, and men earning 21s. and less than 25s. a reduction of 6d. a week, while men earning less than 21s. should not suffer any alteration in their present wage. The reduction comes into force in November.

At a mass meeting of the men employed by the Naval Construction and Armaments Company held recently in the Drill Hall it was proposed that 1s. per week reduction be accepted all round, and that the hours per week be 53 instead of 54. An amendment was proposed that no steps be taken to approach the masters, but the motion was carried by an overwhelming majority. If this decision is accepted by the various societies a deputation will wait upon the masters.

Owing to the serious depression in the South Staffordshire iron trade, the workmen employed by Messrs. Cochran & Co., bridge and girder manufacturers, Woodside, near Dudley, have met their employers, and, in order to assist them to compete in the iron markets, have consented to submit to a reduction of 5 per cent. in wages all round. The workmen number nearly 1,000.

THE FIRST BIG SNOWSTORM.

It did not Howl in Manitoba but it Played Havoc in Colorado.

Denver, Col., October 14.—A special from Cheyenne received at 10 o'clock this morning, says: For nearly three days the severest storm ever known on the Union Pacific railroad has been raging here and as far west as Ogden, Utah. In all directions telegraphic communication was cut off until to-night when this despatch was sent through on a temporary wire. All railroads have been blocked, the cuts being filed with snow which in some places is piled up 18 feet. Rotary snow plows have been hard at work between Granite Canyon and Laramie, the snow being 5 ft. deep on the level at the latter place.

At Granite Canyon, Conductor Roberts yesterday was blown off the platform of a car and fell down a 15 foot embankment, the deep snow saving his life. Reports are being received of immense losses of cattle and horses in Northern Colorado and Wyoming. It is estimated that almost a third of the cattle and horses on the ranges have died. An unknown man was frozen to death by the side of the railroad track near Greely, Col., yesterday.
