A GERMAN'S CONDEMNATION OF GERMANY

A GERMAN publicist, who, until September, 1914, was political editor of the Berlin "Morgenpost" (Dr. Hermann Rosemeier), has written from Switzerland an open letter to his fellow Germans, which brings home to Germany her crime in provoking the war more forcibly than anything which has been written by the Allies. He says:—

"German people, when will you awake from your sleep? When will your eyes be opened, and when will you cease to be patient as lambs? Do you still not realize that it is for your deadliest enemies you are fighting? You are fighting for the factory magnates, who would fain crush your organizations under foot. You are fighting for the lords of the soil, who send up the prices of every morsel you put into your mouths. You are fighting for the speculators, fattening on your poverty. You are fighting for an officers' corps whose ranks are sealed up so that you cannot enter them; you are fighting for a Government which is the tool of your oppressors. You are fighting for a Chancellor who, by speaking of solemn treaties as 'scraps of paper,' has destroyed Germany's moral prestige throughout the world.

"You are fighting for an Emperor who, as Bismarck foresaw and foretold, by his irresponsible, boundlessly ambitious foreign policy has brought about the fatal tension between Germany and England, and whose thoughtless, defiant speeches have created the atmosphere of suspicion and disgust which weighed heavily on Europe long before the war. You are fighting for a Crown Prince of Prussia for whom the war is a pleasant excitement; for a Crown Prince of Bavaria who is not ashamed to utter scarcely veiled hints that defenceless prisoners should be murdered; and for a whole pack of princely families who are a useless burden upon the country's purse.

"You are fighting for a General Staff and an Admiralty whose cruel and barbarous methods of warfare in flagrant violation of international law, have made your once good name abhorred by all the world of to-day, and will make it abhorred by that of tomorrow. You are fighting that the rule of the Prussian junker may be strengthened anew, and that the Prussian corporal's stick may thrash out of the men of Southern and Western Germany what little freedom and individuality they have with difficulty succeeded in preserving. In brief, you are fighting for the perpetuation of your own slavery."

A Chaplain sat down beside the cot of a Scotsman who was seriously wounded and suggested that he should write a letter for the man to his wife. The man assented. "What shall I tell her?" "Weel, a' hardly ken, sir." "Well, how shall I begin? Shall I say, 'My dear wife?'" The wounded man smiled. "Aye, pit that doon," he replied, "it'll amuse her, onywey."

There was a Highlander in a hospital in France and his condition was very bad. The doctor asked him if there was anything he could do for him, and he asked that he might hear the bagpipes. As there seemed no hope of his recovery the doctor said he might as well have his wish. So they played the pipes at his bedside. A short time later the doctor asked the nurse how he was, and she replied: "He is well." "What," said the doctor, "he is well!" "Yes," replied the nurse, "since they played the bagpipes the color has come to his cheeks and he is getting better." "Remarkable," said the doctor. "Yes, doctor, but still more remarkable, every other man in the ward is dead."
