The bylaw in regard to Early Closin passed by the Council on Tuesday eve ing, was by petition of the merchant mentioned in last week's issue, and affects those stores only. The bylaw provides that these stores shall be closed civic holidays. Closed on Saturday nights not later than eleven o'clock p. m.; closed all day on legal or civic holidays.

Philip A. Hollinger is tearing down an old land mark of bygone days, familiarly known as "Noah's Ark," and will rebuild it back from the street as a residence. In olden times it was used by Mr. Beaa in the pump business, and afterwards by Mr. Noah Eckel as a barber shop. There is some of the old time timber in it and fine hemlock boards about two feet wide.

Judge Riddell at Osgoode Hall on Saturday dismissed an appeal against the order of Judge Barrett of Bruce County, every evening, excepting Saturday, at allowing Mrs. Ida Switzer of Walkerton, six o'clock and nights preceding legal or Ont., an alimony allowance of $4 per week and costs.

Incidentally the Judge makes a remark or two about North Dakota divorces.

He recited the contention of the defendant husband, William Edwin Switzer, now living at Kinloss, Ont., that his wife was guilty of adultery with a hired man on his farm, and that a decree of divorce had been granted in Dakota after a deed of separation hed been signed by his wife.

The couple were married in Strathclair township in 1894, and they lived fogether until 1904. The woman denies the adultery charge, and alleges that her husband abused her, threatened her, accused her of unso much that he scared her into signing her $200.

She alleges that he often said to her he wished had married Maria Harris, a Switzer pleaded this divorce as an ar gument against paying alimony. The woman contended that the divorce was invalid.

The judge says: 'In January, 1906, he seems to have obtained a divorce from without personal service upon his wife,

UNFINISHED HOGS.

The Wm. Davies pork packing Co. has issued the following letter to shippers and drovers. We publish it on request in the hope that it will influence hog raisers to bring to market only such as is fully prepared:

Dear Sirs,-There are already signs of the marketing of light unfinished hogs. We want you to take this question up right away with your drovers to be dealt with by you and by them in a firm way when buying hogs.

A dropping market, some scarcity of course grains, and a high price for the same, will all tend to the marketing of unfinished hogs. For these, as we have often explained to you, there is no market and they are handled at a heavy loss. We have made up our mind that the farmers must bear this loss or the dro. ver, if he fails to refuse to take this stuff off the farmer's hands.

To this end, will you please watch carefully the sorting of every deck of hogs. Begin with a cut of 50 per cent, and if this does not stop them raise it to $1. per cwt.

At whatever cost, we must stop the marketing of this unfinished stuff.
