The C.P.R. floral department is sending out this spring over 80,000 packages of flower seeds to its employees. There are 32 varieties of seeds, and these are made up in large parcels which contain one package of each variety. These seeds are brought from China and Japan, from South America, Great Britain, Holland, Russia, California, Bermuda, Iceland, Africa, Germany, India and other countries, and, as experience has shown, are the best of their kind procurable. The success attending the beautifying of the Canadian Pacific lines has been remarkable. At nearly every station there are pretty garden plots and neat lawns and the employees are not less enthusiastic in their work of beautifying than is Mr. N. S. Dunlop, the head of the floral department who devotes a great deal of time and attention to the details of this scheme which has had such a beneficial effect in transforming the usually commonplace and uninteresting railway station grounds into beauty spots. Mr. Dunlop has received many letters of encouragement from employees of the great transcontinental line which testify to their high appreciation of the company's floral work, and indicate that their own efforts to make the C.P.R. a veritable road of roses are both willingly undertaken and enthusiastically carried out.

Fair Building

The plans of Sharron & Tripp for the new main building for the exhibition grounds have been accepted. In the design submitted it is evident that the architects have endeavored to provide a main building of attractive appearance, classic in design and having all the necessary requirements for exhibition purposes. It has been drafted with a view that it should be the one stately building of the exhibition and one that will be a credit to the fair as well as to the city. The four sides are all equally attractive and the entrances are large and convenient, each having three pairs of double doors six feet wide. These entrance doors are arranged to swing into recesses thus giving four passages to and from the building eighteen feet in width. One hundred and twelve windows have been arranged for containing some 4,500 square feet of glass. These windows are placed seven feet and a half from the floor line thus allowing exhibitors to use all their floor space and permitting light to be evenly distributed over the entire building. Lavatories are conveniently arranged and are accessible from the interior or exterior of the building.
