MEETS WITH FAVOR.

The announcement made by Premier Whitney that the mineral lands in the Gillies timber limit will be retained and developed for the benefit of the people of the Province, is meeting with hearty approval from the hands of the press all over the country. The Ottawa Citizen expresses the opinion that it is one of the most important announcements of policy that has ever been made in provincial affairs. It means the adoption of a policy of public ownership of mines, so far as that particular area is concerned The possibilities thus opened up are great. The presumption is that the people may become the owners of one or half a dozen such mines as the Timmins, Drummond and Trethewey which may yield many millions of dollars to the provincial treasury. Hon, Mr. Whitney deserves credit for the adoption of this step which may turn out to be one of the most far-reaching and successful moves ever made by a Canadian provincial government.

THE JOURNAL'S "WILD" CAT.

The St. Thomas Journal is one of the few misguided Liberal newspapers in Ontario that still has the from them. audacity to refer to the "good old days" when the affairs of this province were under the "able" leadership of Hon. G. W. Ross. The Jourmal's childish loyalty to a man who stands convicted by the Ontario electors is really pitiable. The revolting revelations which have recently come up in the House arising brand. out of the unwarranted attack of Mr. Ross on the loan brought about by Hon. Mr. Matheson, have apparently had no effect on the sluggish and prejudiced mind of the Jourmal. The air of childlike innocence which Mr. Ross assumed when he entered the plea of "I do not know" to the charges made against him by Mr. Whitney in reference to previous loans worked through by the Ross manipulators, has evidently been swallowed by the Journal man, without the least sign of suspicion.

In a recent editorial under the caption of "The cat out of the bag," the Ross advocate in the Saintly City attempts the following weak and inconsistent attack upon Premier Whitney.

"It was expected by those who elected the Conservatives to power that no time would be lost in effeeting promised reforms and putting the ship of state in sailing condition. Have these promises, made during the campaign, been fulfilled? Certainly not. • • The electors less slaughter, and bring about the Journal's "changes?"

Surely it is to Mr. Whitney's credit that he has not allowed the spoils system to enter into his mode of government. The Journal should laud it rather than condemn it. The Premier is a faithful believer in British Fair Play. Certainly it has been up to him to put the ship in a sailing condition, as the Journal aptly puts it, but every Government. aptly puts it, but every Government aptly puts it, but every Government official has been given to understand that so long as his actions are free from suspicion he will be justly dealt with. These men have, in most instances, realized that this Province has started out on a new and cleaner era in public life, and have adapted themselves to the new and more promising conditions. Why, then, does the Journal howl for changes?" Are they of the oninion that no man, having once gone astray can return to the life of uprightness and honesty?

Surely it would be a wise mor if the journal would put its "cat" back in the "bag," and allow the people of this Province to enjoy the peace and prosperity tendered them by the Conservative Government at

If the affairs of the province were in such a deplorable state and were being so badly managed as Comservatives stated, previous to the elections, is it not remarkably strange that Mr. Whitney would so cheerfully and boldly 'pull on Mr. Ross' old political shoes and refuse to kick them off, even in the fact of the ridiculous position in whoh he finds himself?"

"Mexicana," to be seen at the Grand Friday next, will be presented by an uncommonly strong company of favorites, including Louis Harri-son, Christie MacDonald, Joseph Herbert, Caro Roma, Edward Mar-tindell, and Edmund Stanley, has are tindell, and Edmund Stanley, has its exploitation in hand. The story and lyrics are by Miss Clara Driscoll, a famous young Texas author who "knows" Mexico, and Robert B. Smith, who was 'co-author of "Fantana" with Sam S. Shubert. The music was written by Raymond Hubbell, composer of "The Runaways." As its title implies, the scenes of "Mexicana" are laid in the picturesque land beyond the Rio Grande where the passions run hot and turesque land beyond the Rio Grande where the passions run hot and romance is in the very air. Typically Spanish music characterizes the score and genuine American humorpervades the book, the comedy element in the history being strong and bright. Mr. Harrison and Mr. Herbert both are given ample opportunity for the fun they know so well how to make. Miss MacDonald has a fascinating role, appearing part of the time as a boy. More than half a hundred senoritas and Vaquero girls are in the company, making the ensembles gorgeous, vari-colored and imposing. Over 100 players, mostly girls, and extremely pretty ones, too, are in the production.

A BUNCH OF KEYS. A BUNCH OF KEYS.

Thousands upon thousands of fun lovers will recall with much hearty laughter the trick stairs episode that has always been one of the many hilariously amusing features in "A Bunch of Keys," the perennial musical comedy which comes to bring good cheer and wholesome entertainment at the Grand Opera House to-morrow merbt.

In spite of the conclusion arrived at some time ago by the management at some time ago by the management who for so many seasons have exploited with no small pecuniary gain Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keys" to at least temporarily rest this wonderfully successful musical farce owing to its long continued service, and for the purpose of launching another offering of equal merit so urgent have been the requests for its retention that as a sort of farewell our funand music patrons are to be treated to another visit of this greatest of Hoyt's triumphs at the Grand on Thursday next, on which occasion the Hoyt's triumphs at the Grand on Thursday next, on which occasion the purpose will be to show to what an extent an old and tried amusement friend can be rejuvenated through the process of a new interpretation and in brand new attire. Several members of this season's "A Bunch of Keys" Company have learned to do some startling surprises on these trick stairs, such as are entitled to a high place among prises on these trick stairs, such as are entitled to a high place among funny acrobatic feats; however, these same artists simply prove themselves capable of contributing on other ways towards the incessant flow of funnyisms that form the bone and sinew of one of the cleverest and brightest vehicles ever prepared for the display of combined vaudeville arillity. vaudeville agility.

Word Oddities.

No man who is seeking political honors in these days is a "candidate," according to the true etymological significance of the word. Those who stood for office in ancient Rome were known as "candidati" because it was customary for them to wear a white toga ("candidus," white) as soon as eir canvass had begun. The Latin for "canvassing," too, was either "ambitus" or "ambitio," according to its association with or freedom from bribery and corrupt practices. Both meant "going round." "Ambitio" was the "going round." "Ambitio" was the good kind as opposed to "ambitus," which always implied dishonesty and winfairness.

"Shopping" was certainly a slang word until past the first quarter of the nineteenth century. Bee's Dictionary of Sports and Slang, published in 1825 defines the word as follows: "Shopping—Among women going about from shop to shop, buying little articles perhaps, perhaps not, but always pulling about great quantities of goods."
