

HEALTHIEST ONE IN THE FAMILY

No Sign Of Dropsy And Kidney Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-LIVES"

MATTIE WARREN
Fort Robinson, Ont., July 28, 1915.
"We have used 'Fruit-a-lives' in our house for over three years and have always found them a good medicine. Our little girl, Mattie, was troubled with kidney disease. The doctor said she was threatened with dropsy. Her limbs and body were all swollen and we began to think she could not live. Finally, we decided to try 'Fruit-a-lives'. She began to show improvement after she had given her a few tablets. In a short time, the swelling had all gone down and her flesh began to look more natural. Now she is the healthiest one in the family and has no signs of the old ailment. We can not say too much for 'Fruit-a-lives' and would never be without them."

WILLIAM WARREN.
50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

White Ribbon News.

Woman's Christian Temperance Union first organized in 1874.

AIM—The protection of the home, the abolition of the liquor traffic and the triumph of Christ's Golden Rule in custom and in law.

MOTTO—For God and Home and Native Land.

EMBLEM—A knot of White Ribbon.

WATCHWORD—Agitate, educate, organize.

OFFICERS OF WOLFVILLE UNIONS.

President—Mrs. L. W. Steep, 1st Vice President—Mrs. J. Cullen, 2nd Vice President—Mrs. G. W. Fitch, Recording Secy.—Mrs. W. O. Taylor, Cor. Secretary—Mrs. L. E. Duncan.

Treasurer—Mrs. H. Pines.

SUPERINTENDENTS.

Labrador Work—Mrs. Fielding, Lunenburg—Mrs. J. Kempton, Willard Home—Mrs. M. Freeman, Temperance in Sabbath-schools—Mrs. Dr. J. Brown.

Evangelistic—Mrs. Purves Smith, Peace and Arbitration—Mrs. J. Read, Press—Miss Margaret Barrs.

White Ribbon Bulletin—Mrs. Walter Mitchell.

Loyal Temperance Legion—Miss Egan.

Haig.

By Walt Mason.

We hear a lot of other men who've done artistic fighting, but Haig, who's won, again, again, is unknown at this writing. He doesn't hand out Haigish news to eager-eyed reporters, nor yet submit to interviews which might be called rip snorters. He doesn't hunt the 'feature' gent, or leave his post forsaken, to face a kodak in a tent and have his picture taken. I know not if he's short or tall. I've never seen his photo; but whether he is large or small, he's getting William's goat, oh. Some colonels view the hall of fame and think it El Dorado, but he who plays the mighty game is always in the shadow. I know not how he wears his beard, or who may be his tailor, but more and more his strokes are feared, and Wilhelm's growing paler. I've seen no pictures of his wife, or of his sons and daughters, or of his ancient home in Fife, beside some storied waters. The grand stand looks for him in vain, no. They have known him, but when the Prussians plant their slain, they curse him and become him.

Molly's Eyes.

If Molly's eyes should beam for me I'd give the sun fair warning; He needs't rise, To light the skies, For just one glance from Mary's eyes Would be my morning.

If Molly's lips were red for me Then all my days be sunny I'd whisper to the golden bee You needs't rob, the rose for me, Her lips are honey.

If Molly's heart would beat for me So near I just could hear it; I'd give the world, At least, my part, For just one glance from Mary's eyes, And my heart near it.

Don't try to convince a man that he isn't as clever as he thinks he is unless you have no use for his friend's arse.

If the women looked like pictures in fashion magazines the men would take to the woods.

If the average man isn't born great or is unable to achieve greatness he tries to thrust himself upon it.

A Cure for Pimples

"You don't need mercury, potash or any other strong mineral to cure pimples caused by poor blood. Take Extract of Roots—dropped into a tumbler of water, and your skin will clear up as fresh as a baby's. It will soothe your stomach and regulate your bowels." Get the genuine, 50c. and $1.00 bottles. At drug stores.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

British Tommy. "Speak English, Moomoo?"

French Storekeeper: "But—yes—a little, M'ister."

British Tommy: "Right! Then give me ten pounds o'pnds, an arse o' baccy, a pecker o' fgs, and a box o' lights, an' be alippy."

A Canadian at the front wrote his mother of a twelve-mile march through Flanders mud. "The boys said a great many things that grand us would not approve of. Thousands of Canadian soldiers are illuminating home circles with masterpieces of a smaller character, short and to the point."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Judge a man by his daily talk rather than by his daily prayers.

The Preparation of Garden Soil.

The past season saw perhaps the most extensive garden "shot" that has ever been known in this country. Because of the short time for garden preparation, the soil in many cases was but indifferently prepared. Even with this handicap the results were fairly successful and highly encouraging. With the ground now broken up by last season's tillage, gardeners will start in 1918 with much better prospects of success. In order to make success doubly sure, preparation of garden land should be started in the fall.

To have the land well prepared not only makes a great difference with the growth and the yield of the crops, but adds much to the pleasure of the later garden operations. Proper preparation of the soil in the fall makes the land several days earlier in the spring, it helps to conserve the moisture of the dormant season for the growing crop and leaves the ground in a finer, mellower condition than if all of the work of preparation had been delayed until spring. In the autumn is the time to apply fresh manure to garden land for most crops. By spring it will be rotted and mixed with the soil. If manure is applied in the spring, it should be fine and well rotted except, perhaps, for such crops as corn, cabbage and turnips.

In the fall the ground should be deeply plowed or dug, leaving a rough surface exposed to the winter weather. In the spring the plowing or working may be shallow leaving the weathered portion of the land on top. For all hardy early planted crops such as the root crops, and onions, it would pay to start the preparation of the land now. Even for potatoes and beans better results will be obtained by fall preparation of the ground than if left entirely until spring. If the weather holds open it is not yet too late to manure and plow the garden plot.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Wm. D. Galt

Pat as a Poet.

Mike and Pat, recently from the old country, were walking on a railway track, when they saw a mile-stone marked Boston—23—Miles.

"Mike," said Pat, "what can that mean?" Mike thought a moment and answered:

"Hush! The dead lies here. And a fine young man was he. His name was Miles, from Boston. And his age was 23."

DR. A. W. CHASE'S 25c CATARRH POWDER

Is sent direct to the diseased parts by the Improved Flower, Handkerchiefs, Towels, and other articles, and is guaranteed to cure Catarrh and Hay Fever, etc. in a few days. Accurate directions are enclosed. All dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

The curious and inquiring old gentleman fired out a string of questions at the young flying officer who had the misfortune to be in the same railway carriage with him. The young man answered the first twenty or so questions politely, but after that he got a bit tired.

"That's a terrible poison that's just been discovered, isn't it?" he asked the old gentleman at last. The old gentleman pricked up his ears.

"What's it called?" he asked inter-estingly.

"Airplane poison," said the R. F. C. man.

"Is it very deadly?"

"I should say so!"

"How much would kill a person?" went on the tireless questioner.

The R. F. C. man's eyes twinkled. "One drop!" he said. And silence reigned.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

'So you have twins at your house?' said Mrs. Nabor to little Jack.

"Yassum," he said soberly, "two of them."

"What are they going to call them my dear?"

"Well, I don't know for sure, but I think their names is Thunder and Lightning," cause that's the names papa called them when the doctor came in and told him about them."

—New Puck.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Albert Lea, Minn.—"For about a year I had sharp pains across my back and hips and was hardly able to move around the house. My head would ache and I was dizzy and had no appetite. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, I am feeling stronger than for years. I have a little boy eight months old and am doing my work all alone. I would not be without your remedies in the house as there are none like them."—Mrs. F. E. Yost, 611 Water St., Albert Lea, Minn.

Three Doctors Gave Her Up.

Pittsburg, Penn.—"Your medicine has helped me wonderfully. When I was a girl 18 years old I was always sickly and delicate and suffered from irregularities. Three doctors gave me up and said I would go into consumption. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and with the third bottle began to feel better. I soon became regular and I got strong and shortly after I was married. Now I have two nice stout healthy children and am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. CLEMENTINA DREHNER, 84 Gardner St., Troy Hill, Pittsburg, Penn.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice.—It will be confidential.

How They Do It In Moncton.

Two men have been arrested here by the city police, one last night and another this morning, charged with falling to register under the Military Service Act. Both cases are before His Honor, Judge Stevens, this afternoon.—Moncton Transcript.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

America entered the war when it was discovered that the Imperial Government of Germany is an organized liar.

Here's a new meatless epigram: "Don't stuff your husband; husbands you stuff. There's no waste in stuffing like that."

INDIAN TOTEM POLES

(1) Kik-Sitti Totem, Wrangell, Alaska.

(2) Totem, Wrangell, Alaska.

(3) Totem, Klug-wan, Alaska.

THE clan totem of the Indian is one of the most interesting productions of the red man. These strange specimens of wood sculpture are still to be found in British Columbia, especially along the Pacific Coast, as well as in Alaska. In many of the water-side villages these curiously created poles stand in prominent places, or along the main street, as in Alert Bay, or over the graves of the deceased, as in the village they tell the clan to which the dead Indian belonged, as well as his tribal status.

Each clan of the Indians of Alaska and British Columbia has its own totem, from which it takes its name. Thus there is the clan of the wolf, the clan of the raven, the clan of the eagle, and so on. All the members of the clan are supposed to be descended, actually and literally, from the animals whose names they bear, and to conduct themselves always with due remembrance of the fact. For example, a man isn't supposed to kill or eat his father, and, therefore, the Indians of the bear clan, for instance, are not supposed to eat or kill bear. That animal is sacred to them, and the medicine man or "shaman" of the clan will invoke the direct penalties on any member who dares to transgress that rule.

The marks and customs of the clan are regulated by their totem. It is absolutely unthinkable that two members of the same clan should ever attack each other, or that a man should marry a raven, or a fox or a beaver or a member of some other clan, and so on.

Usually these poles are very large and have a doorway cut through them in which access is had to the solidly-cult wooden house in which the clan or tribe lives. Among some of the Pacific Coast tribes, even within the memory of men not infrequently the pole of the tribe's house was set in holes in high cliffs, and the entrance to the apartments below that were reached by a rope ladder.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.

The chief with his principal "yees" entered, dressed as demona in bear and wolf skins and decorated with horns, bones, skulls, eagle's claws and panthers' teeth. A bandage was then placed over the chief's eyes, and thus blindfolded, to the sport of his "yees," he chased the terrified crowd through the house until he had caught the number agreed upon to be made a part of the feast.

The accompanying illustrations are striking specimens to be found in Alaska and while the art is crude from the white man's point of view yet they are not to be despised as the original Americans.

protected the chief, and condoned to some extent in fishing, hunting and victory in war. When the posts were placed in position and the house finished, the ceremony was generally ended by a feast. For selection the slaves were gathered into the new house, which was always the largest in the village.