Ouida Novel has a Long Record

"Under Two Flags," the novel by Ouida which the genius of William Fox has turned into a film masterpiece, has had a long history in its printed form, and as a piece for the stage. Many dramatic versions of the novel have been acted, the most important being by Paul M. Potter, who also dramatized du Maurier's "Tribes." Another version was made by Margaret Mayo, author of "Twim Bede," and "Baby Mine," famous New York farces.

A strange thing about the play is that it was given at the Academy of Music, in 1901, with Blanche Bates in the role of Cigarette. The same theater is now owned by William Fox, and his pictures are shown there regularly. "Under Two Flags" will return to this playhouse after an absence of fifteen years.

An Art Competition at the Bay-Prizes $5, $10, $15

This is a call to all Alberta, the call of a great company, a pioneer trading institution—the oldest upon the American Continent. Later in the year this great Hudson's Bay Company will celebrate the 247th year since incorporation. In order to secure the very best efforts of Calgary's art talent and to encourage this leaning in both young and old, three prizes for signs for reproduct used in connection with the Anniversary celebration.

In The Old Days

The story starts with Raddisson and Groseilliers, two Frenchmen in the employ of the company newly formed, establishing the first Post on Hudson Bay, calling it Fort Charles in honor of the sovereign, His Majesty King Charles II. of England. This fort was constructed of stone and not of wood as has erroneously been recorded in some centres.

Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal.
most beloved of Company Governors

Former Convenors

Prince Rupert, the principal figure in the formation of the Company and its first Governor. The Duke of York was the second Governor, and the Duke of Marlborough, previously Lord Churchill, the third. Other Governors followed, all of them possessing good sound business acumen, and our most intimate Governor, the late Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal. The present Governor, Sir Thomas Skinner, is an exceptionally able executive, widely versed in business law and possessing rare insight.

The Company has indeed been fortunate in selecting such men to head this vast enterprise. Born in times none too flowery for such undertakings, the Company rose in spite of fierce racial hatred and unfair competition to a commanding position in things mercantile in Canada. Safe it is to say that no institution of this nature has given to and received from the country in such equal proportions as the Hudson's Bay Company.

Suppose You Enter the Contest!

Later in the year The Hudson's Bay Company will commemorate the 247th year since incorporation as "The Gentlemen Adventurers of England trading into Hudson Bay." It has been decided to use one design typifying the development of the company since 1670 in newspaper advertising, window and store cards, booklets and posters for the occasion throughout the Hudson's Bay Stores in Canada.

We Propose

To throw open to the public of Alberta the opportunity of submitting a suitable design for the purpose. This design must be seven newspaper columns in width, and not more than three inches in depth. It should also possess a border that would surround a full-page advertisement.

The Contestants

May include any resident of Alberta, with these exceptions: Professional Artists, Commercial or otherwise; members of the Hudson's Bay Store. We eliminate these two classes entirely from the field.

The Prizes

Will be awarded on general merits and adaptability to the purpose in mind, attention being given to detail, and clearness of the expression of the theme. First Prize, $15.00; Second Prize, $10.00; Third Prize, $5.00. In addition to these we will pay at the rate of $3.00 for any further drawings we may use.

The Judges

Mr. W. F. Faux, Public School Art Director.
Harry F. Kent, of Stafford and Kent, Commercial Artists.
J. Burt Malette, Advertising Manager Hudson's Bay Co.
After the time limit set, these gentlemen will meet and decide the winners on the merit of the drawings submitted.

The Time Limit

Has been set for March 20. All drawings must be delivered or mailed to the Advertising Manager of the Hudson's Bay Company, Calgary, Alberta, on or before that date. Drawings will be in pen and ink only. We reserve the right to use an idea submitted without reproducing the drawing in its entirety. For this privilege we will either award one of the prizes or pay $3.00 for the idea.

Start Now!

Do not lose a valuable minute. You have just as good an opportunity of securing one of these prizes as anyone. There will be a great deal of publicity attached to the winners in this contest in addition to the valuable prizes. Start tonight.

IN CONCLUSION WE WOULD SAY:

Your design should be descriptive of some or at least a majority of these cardinal points in the company's development. Few institutions can furnish such a dramatic development and so much color for a design. In the centre of this announcement appears the rules of the contest. Any further information will be SUPPLIED BY LETTER ONLY. Address Advertising Manager, Hudson's Bay Company, Calgary, Alberta.

The Past Stores and Present Ones of the Company in Canada

The present stores outlined in the foregoing of this announcement number 14. They represent in accordance to population of the town or city in which they are located, the most scientific and commercially the best equipment it is possible to produce. Contrast this present state of affairs with the old log forts and later with the one and two story frame buildings one of which (the Calgary store in the early days) is shown at the right.

at Yorkton and Qu'Appelle, in Saskatchewan, at Winnipeg, in Manitoba, at Fort William and Kenora, in Ontario, at Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge and Macleod, in Alberta, and at Kamloops, Nelson, Victoria and Vancouver, in British Columbia.

132 Trading Posts

This is approximate as more are being added from time to time. These posts are landmarks on the outermost fringes of civilization.

Points in the form of Suggested inclusion in the Design

The sailing of the NON-SUCH, the first ship of the French traders and explorers in the company's service. The landing at the mouth of Rupert River on Hudson Bay and the erection of the first fort. The trading with the Indians, the troubles with the natives, the colonizing of Canada and the westward sweep. Fort building in the western provinces, and the gradual development of these forts into stores, of which there is now a total of 14. Then we must not forget the scenes enacted in old England at the time of the granting of the charter by Charles II. and the brilliant ensemble at the court. There's a wealth of data to draw from in any Canadian school history or the book by George Bryce, M.A., of Manitoba College, entitled "The Remarkable History of the Hudson's Bay Company," will be found helpful.
