

LIFE IN THE FURTHEST NORTH

Impressions of a Year Spent Among the Esquimaux

Knud Rasmussen, whose mother was an Esquimaux woman of Danish Greenland, whose father was a Dane and who has lived most of his 27 years in his native land, has written a book of his life for a year in the huts of the Smith Sound natives, the most northern people of the world. The book has been translated from Danish into German and is attracting much attention because it has great literary merit, and as the story of a primitive people it is unique.

He had rare advantages for writing such a narrative, because he is an educated man, trained as an ethnologist and partly of the same blood as the tribe that opened their doors and hearts to him. He went among them as a brother, they awakened his sympathy and affection, and their idiom differs so little from his own that he was one of them from the day they first saw him.

They told him everything, and when he left them for Denmark he wrote the first book that has ever been devoted wholly to these natives. The German edition is entitled "Neue Menschen" and it has been published in Bern, Switzerland.

The purpose here is simply to give a few incidents of Rasmussen's life among these people and some of his impressions of them. He was their comrade in the merry-making with which they brighten the sunless winter, and he joined them in the hunt for bear, walrus, reindeer and seals, and in the spring killing of the birds which they pack away for winter use.

They liked him and wished him to live with them always. They would be happy if only he would marry one of the native girls and settle down. So one winter evening when the hut was crowded with people old Sorkrak arose impressively, and made a little speech.

"Are not our maidens good enough for you?" he said. "See, there are Isigatsok and Amimik. Isigatsok has the longer hair of that which please you, and she has a brand new fox skin.

"Now, we must tell you that it does not do for a young unmarried man to be travelling around our country. You will ruin our good opinion of you and make yourself a laughing stock. There is only one young bachelor among us, and he is a babbling idiot. (This is a fact. He has been mentioned by explorers.)

"Among all things a man should possess, the chief is a wife. The first thing he gets is a woman, and next come his dogs, and then a canoe, and last, and most difficult to get, is a gun.

"You have all these things except a wife. Who will keep your things in order, and your hut as warm and go along to help you when you travel? The wife always goes with her man on his journeys if possible, and if not, he borrows somebody else's wife."

Rasmussen does not inform us what response he made to this appeal. Old Sorkrak is known as the greatest bear hunter among his people, but he did not shine on this occasion as a matrimonial agent. The people said he must tell Rasmussen the story of some of his big hunting exploits, but he refused.

"When I got out with my dogs after a bear," he said, "it is not long before my meat is in the cooking pot. That is all I have to say."

One day, however, he yielded to persuasion and Rasmussen heard the first and last story he would tell.

"It was one wintry night and very cold," he said, "when I knew that bear would be watching around the holes in the ice where the seals come up to breathe. I went out with my dogs and soon I dimly saw a bear through the twilight.

"I gave chase and my dogs were overhailing him when he disappeared within a cave in the ice. When I came along to the leader of my dog team into the cave for a bear in my way may often be driven out from his retreat without injury to the dog. But in a moment I heard a cry and my dog staggered out and died at my feet.

"I said to myself that I was going to get that bear. I could not use my spear in the small cave, and so I put my knife between my teeth and went in on my hands and knees. It was very dark and I could see nothing, but I could hear the breathing of the bear. I hugged the ground and made no noise as I crept forward, inch by inch.

"At last I felt the animal's warm breath in my face. My blade was long and I drew back and made a mighty lunge. At the same time a terrible blow fell on my body and I lost my senses.

"I do not know how long I lay there in the cave, but when I came to myself my first thought was of my dead dog. Then I felt around, thinking I had killed the bear, but he was not in the cave.

"I was very sore, but managed to crawl outside, and a few rods away I saw my bear sitting on the ice and heard his moans and knew he was in trouble. I grasped my spear and crept toward him and came near enough to see that his head was covered with blood and that I had driven my knife straight through his snout, and it was still in the wound.

"My right arm was not hurt, and I got up on my feet and drove my spear through his heart."

horizon does not embrace much beyond their mission as food providers.

"What are you thinking of?" he asked an Esquimaux, who seemed to be buried in thought.

The man laughed at the idea.

"It is only white men," he said, "who trouble themselves much with thinking. We think only about our food supply and whether it will last through winter. If we have meat enough, then thinking is unnecessary."

One day Rasmussen said to an unusually intelligent native who had been out on the sea ice with Peary: "What did you think was the purpose of all your hard work out on the ice?"

He thought for a moment, then he faded from view and you saw nothing around you excepting the grinding sea ice.

"Think," replied the man. "I didn't need to think. It was the part of Peary to do the thinking."

Rasmussen tells the story of the immigration of a number of the more western Esquimaux about half a century ago to the Greenland coast, where some of them spent the rest of their lives with the new found friends. They brought blessings also to the Smith Sound natives, for they taught them to make snow huts with a long covered approach and an entrance from below, making them much warmer; also to shoot with the bow and arrow, to spear fish and to make kajaks or canoes, so that their hunting was no longer confined to the land or the edge of the ice.

He got the story from the last survivor of the immigrants.

But the time came, one spring morning, when the young man, with his dogs and sledges, was to start south on his journey of hundreds of miles to his old home. An old woman, in whose hut he had eaten often during the dark winter, came to him.

"You are going home. Are you glad to leave us?"

"Oh, no; but I think I had better have a change."

"Now, listen to the last words to you of an old woman. You are like the king duck. When the bright spring comes the land comes to us as you did. He comes from a land that is far away, a land we do not know. You came to us like the king duck in the spring, and now you are going back to your land and your family. Hark! Your dogs are howling. Do not wait any longer, for I know you are eager to be off."

"Murderer Moir" (Special Despatch to the Times.)

Arthur, Ont., May 11.—The London officers and your correspondent arrived here to-day at noon and interviewed Moir in a little two-room lock up. He was attired in a new $12 suit, was smoking a good cigar and talked readily. He asks for police protection on his arrival at London to-night at 11.30 o'clock.

Public sympathy here is all with Moir, and the Rev. W. G. Richardson, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, is getting up a subscription list on his behalf. Mr. Wilkins, Arthur, and E. Meredith, London, will defend Moir. Moir states that he cut across country from Stratford intending to enter the States, but lost his bearings. Stories told in morning papers are correct.

FIVE CENTS.
Fireman's Refusal to Pay It Cost a Girl Her Life.

New York, May 11.—Annie Bates, a servant girl, 19 years old, was taken out alive from the flat house at No. 214 East Sixty-fifth street this morning after a fire had swept through it from cellar to roof. She was burned badly about the head and arms and was unconscious.

Battalion Chief Howe sent Fireman Dugan to call an ambulance. The fireman went to a saloon nearby and found the door open. He told the bartender that he wanted to use the telephone to call an ambulance for a dying woman.

The bartender wanted 5 cents for the call. Dugan said a rule of the telephone company allowed firemen free use of the phone in case of a fire. The bartender could not see it that way and insisted upon getting the money before the telephone was used.

It was more than half an hour before the fireman got back and reported that he had been assaulted in the saloon after the door had been locked to keep him in. He said that the bartender had pitched into him and was helped by a dozen men who were in the place. Then they opened the door and threw him out.

An ambulance was finally got from the Presbyterian Hospital. When it arrived Dr. Upton said the girl was dead. Chief Howe said her life might have been saved if an ambulance had got there sooner. The fire department has made complaints to the police department and the matter will be investigated.

HOUSES FLOODED.
Thirty of Them Surrounded by Water at Gattineau Point.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Ottawa, May 11.—A great many houses at Gattineau Point, just across the Ottawa and opposite Rockcliffe Park, are very badly flooded. Upwards of thirty of them are cut off from all communication except by boat. The occupants are living entirely upstairs and old residents of the Point say conditions are worse than at any time since the deluge of 1876. The excessive snowfalls of the winter are the cause, and unless the water goes back within the next few days—and this is doubtful—much damage is anticipated.

BRANCH IN MILTON.
Oakville Star: Mr. Gindal, manager of the P. L. Robertson Manufacturing Co. of Hamilton, is in town completing arrangements for the purchase of a building site for their Milton factory. The property purchased is that lying immediately north of the Grand Trunk station. Mr. Gindal expects that some of the machines will arrive from England shortly, and the company expects to erect a temporary building at once. This company will, besides other articles, manufacture the Robertson patent head screw. It is similar to the present screw, excepting that instead of a slot there is a square depression in the head of the screw. This requires a driver with a square tip.

OPEN FOR VICTORIA DAY.
The new Brantford and Hamilton line will be in operation on May 25th with a 1-hour service. The round trip fare will be $1, or an average of two cents per mile. The run of 25 miles will be made in 45 or 50 minutes. The service will then be discontinued until the 1st of June, after which it will run on a regular 60-minute service. The line will not be entirely completed until then.

A WALK OUT.
Chicago, May 11.—The strike vote taken by the North and West side street car men resulted in a practically unanimous vote in favor of a walk out. The matter now goes to a meeting of the union for further action. The question of "closed" or "open" shop is the point around which the entire difficulty revolves.

DIED AT SEA.
Cherbourg, May 11.—Joseph Liecht, a first class passenger on the North German Lloyd steamship Lutzow, which arrived here yesterday, died during the voyage. It was stated that Mr. Liecht was an American journalist.

LONG LEGAL BATTLE BEGUN

For the Extradition of Nelson Cannon to U. S.

Lawyers From Cleveland Here For Both Sides.

Proceedings Before Judge Snider This Morning.

The first proceedings for the extradition of Nelson Cannon were begun this morning at the Court House before Judge Snider. Mr. George Lynch-Staunton, K.C., is the counsel for the prosecution, and with him were Mr. Karl T. Webber, the prosecuting attorney for Franklin County, Ohio, Mr. McCoey, his assistant, and Mr. Phelan, the detective. Cannon was present and was defended by Senator D. D. Sullivan, from Cleveland.

The work of this morning was principally taken up with the putting in of the extradition papers, certificates, requisitions and the indictment. Mr. M. J. O'Reilly, K.C., who is appearing for the prisoner made a formal objection to the indictment on the ground that his client should not be extradited on the evidence in the indictment. Mr. Staunton asked to put in a deposition by R. H. Simpson, of Franklin County, it having certain evidence to the effect that Cannon had bribed certain city officials. Mr. O'Reilly again objected on the ground that there is no trial in the present proceedings, and that the deposition could not be put in. There was a long struggle over this point. Mr. Staunton claiming that it should be put in, but His Honor finally held that it could not.

Karl T. Webber was the first witness. He stated that he was acquainted with the facts of the case and that the legal papers made out were correct. Witness said he knew Arthur A. Beck, the engineer, who it is claimed, was bribed. Witness said he knew Cannon and that as a former meeting Cannon had tried to bribe him.

Mr. O'Reilly objected, but his Honor overruled the objection, at the same time giving Mr. O'Reilly the right to cross-examine the witness on this point. An adjournment was granted until 2 o'clock, when the court resumed. It is expected that the court will finish its work this afternoon. It is the intention of the defense to take the matter to the court of appeal, in case his Honor decides to grant an order for extradition.

Senator John J. Sullivan, of Cleveland, former United States attorney, arrived last night in response to a telegram from Cannon to help look after his interests, and in case he is taken back to the United States to act for him. Mr. Sullivan does not think there will be any occasion for this, as he does not believe that Cannon will be extradited. Mr. Sullivan is an able criminal lawyer, having prosecuted Cassie Chadwick through the United States courts. He also represented the State in a number of cases in which dishonest bank officials were sent to Sing Sing.

TRACK GAMBLING.
Washington, May 11.—The House to-day accepted the Senate amendments to the bill prohibiting race-track gambling in the District of Columbia, and thus finally passed it.

FOR BATTLEFIELDS.
(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Ottawa, Ont., May 11.—Ottawa schools and convents have so far given over $700 towards the Quebec Battlefields Association movement, and only thirty-nine out of the sixty have yet been heard from.

THE AUTO RACE.
Tokio, May 11.—The American competition in the Next Tokyo to Paris automobile race arrived here yesterday and left Tokio this morning on their way to Vladivostok. The American contestants say they are 1,200 miles in the lead.

An attempt was made to wreck a train near Petersburg by placing ties on the track.

MARINE DEPT.

Judge Cassels Begins Investigation Into Its Working.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Ottawa, Ont., May 11.—The investigation by Judge Cassels into the general charges made against the Marine Department by the Civil Service Commissioners was resumed at 11.30 this morning. During the week intervening since Commissioners Fyfe and Bazin were examined and refused to specify any individual official as being guilty of any particular act of misdoing, Messrs. Watson and Perron, counsel assisting in the present inquiry, have been going through files of the department examining accounts and vouchers.

Lieut.-Col. Wm. Anderson, chief engineer of the department since 1888, was the first witness called to-day. Examined by Mr. Watson, he explained the duties of his position, which included general superintendent of installing navigation aids, etc. His assistant was Mr. R. H. Fraser, who held the position since 1893. In respect to lighthouses, the witness explained that Mr. J. F. Fraser, Commissioner of Lights, had the principal charge of the installation of lights.

ROUTED TROOPS.
Chinese Rebels Marching to Attack Town.

Pekin, May 11.—News was received here to-day of the progress of the revolutionary outbreak in Run Yan Province. Three thousand rebels in two columns were marching on Meng-Tze, a treaty port at the head of navigation of the Songkai River. A body of provincial troops met and repulsed one of the columns at Han-Hac, on the Red River Saturday last; the other column which is following the railroad line has not been stopped and is now within thirty miles of Meng-Tze. Victorio Hsi Liang, at the head of another body of Provincial troops has left Yun Nan Fu for Ami, 40 miles northwest of Meng-Tze.

POLICE VISITED LAUNDRY.
Chief of Police Smith and two of the new constables entered a Chinese laundry on James street near Murray, yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock, in an endeavor to get evidence against the celestials for gambling. The place was crowded with Chinks, but there was no sign of any wrong doing, and the police were forced to leave without the evidence. The place has been watched for some time, and the large number of men going in and out raised suspicion.

From Its Point of View.
The fly was crawling over the butter. "Faugh!" exclaimed the insect, hastily flying down on the tablecloth and trying to clean its legs by wiping them on its wings. "That stuff's horrid!"

"Get so nowadays that you can't be sure of any thing you eat. It's all adulterated!"

Looking around for something more to its liking, it found a sheet of genuine sticky fingers and soon became desperately stuck on that.

Enchanting Echo.
"Lucy," gasped the despairing youth, "are you going to throw me over and marry some red neck?"

"No, Bob!" she whispered softly. "No, dear! Not even one more!"

Famous Expert Tells
How Fat May Be Removed Rapidly by a Simple Home Remedy Without Causing Wrinkles, Disturbing the Diet or Necessity for Exercise.

"Fat is nothing but unused energy," says a prominent physician, and the man or woman who is burdened with it can easily get rid of it if they wish. All they need is 1-2 ounce of Marmola, 3-4 ounce of Fluid Extract of Cascara Aromatic and 4-5 ounces of Syrup Simplex; all of which they can get at any good drug store for a few cents. Then let them take one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime until they are down to the weight they want to be.

This simple home receipt is far and away better than any or all the patent or secret medicines, for it reduces the fat safely and harmlessly.
