Why the Boers Allowed the Zither to be Played on Sabbath.

In an interesting article which F. C. Selous contributes to the April Strand Magazine the veteran hunter who is ac mpanying Colonel Roosevelt as far as ombasa, relates how, during his early days in South Africa, he frequently ob-tained the wherewithal to live by play-ing to the Boers on the zither.

tained the wherewithal to live by playing to the Boers on the zither.

"When travelling through the Transvaal," he says, "my musical talents used to keep me in butter, milk and eggs. When we outspanned near a Boer farm my companion would go ahead and ask the Boer housewife if she was fond of music, because, if so, he had a friend who had an instrument he could play. On her signifying her pleasure at the announcement I went forward and produced for the family's benefit my repertoire of melodies. My zither attracted great attention, and the old family Bible would usually be brought down and the drawing of David's harp compared with it. Of course, my reward consisted of butter, milk, eggs and fresh bread—if it was baking day. The older Boers are generally very scrupulous about, keeping the Sabbath, and once we came to a farm on Sunday morning. My friend at once tried to open negotiations for an impromptu musical performance in exchange for provisions. But it was only when my companion urged the identity of my zither with Israel's harp that the head of the family would consent to have it brought up to the house. When I had tuned it up he insisted that nothing should be played upon it but hymns. So I played for him the 'Blue Danube' waltz. I allayed his surprise by describing it as a French hymn. A PRACTICAL REFORM. Moving Pictures Voluntarily Submit

Moving Pictures Voluntarily Submit to Censorship.

The most remarkable development in the amusement business is the way in which the moving picture shows have found firm friends among the leaders of various civic organizations devoted to promoting the welfare of the poor in this city. These men insists that, under reasonable conditions, these moving pictures offer the best available entertainment for the poor, and that, left entirely to themselves as they have been, the picture shows have done a great deal to keep boys and girls away from vicious surroundings.

Accordingly these philanthropists have organized a censorship committee, two members being taken from the moving picture exhibitors and one each from the People's Institute, the Board of Education, and the Women's Municipal League. The moving pleture men have agreed not, to show nictures of which.

The were going through one of the streets when they came across a merry party of schoolboys, and the boys were so busy snowballing each other that they did not at all notice who was near. The result was that one of the snowballs hit the Emperor on his nose!

What a commotion there was when the boys saw what had been done, for they knew the Emperor quite well by sight, as they frequently saw, him ride ing and driving.

The little boy who had thrown the snowball, however, did not run away. He went toward the Emperor and said: "Did I hurt you, Herr Kaiser!"

This was said in so, anxious a tone

ture shows and slot machine parlors to keep open on Sunday. Canon Chase and several other elergymen appeared against the resolution, but in its favor appeared Mr. Charles Sprague Smith, of the People's Institute; Mr. John Haynes Holmes, of the Church of the Messiah; Holmes, of the Church of the Messiah; Dr. James Barr, a Methodist clergyman; Mr. Henry Moscowitz, of the Downtown Ethical Society, and Mr. Joan Collier, of the People's Institute, who organized the voluntary censorship of the films. That is probably the first lime in the history of the eity when clergymen and philanthropic workers have appeared to ask for a Sunday license for a secular entertainment. Their presence shows an awakening to the need of innocent recreation on Sunday, and is also a tribute to the general good character and good influence of the sort of enterthinment which could command advocates of such standing.—Brooklyn Eagle. This was said in so anxious a tone that both the Emperor and the Empress but the little boy was not laughing, but the field way was not yet quite happy.
