

MISCELLANEOUS.

AWFUL FATE OF AN INFIDEL.

Richard Greenwell, residing at Seaford, Del., committed suicide at that place lately, by throwing himself into the river. Greenwell was known as one of the men implicated in the forcible entrance into the jail of that place, and the taking therefrom of one James Wilson, a negro, who was arrested, imprisoned, and awaiting trial for the murder of a girl, and hanging him in the rear of the jail yard. After he was hung, shot, and throat cut, Greenwell, who was a butcher, cut and carved him as though he were beef, and then roasted and burned the pieces to ashes. He reserved the right hand of the negro and carried it home with him.

THE DISASTER TO THE JOHN T. FORD.

FATE OF THE CREW, DREADFUL SUFFERING AT SEA.

Full particulars of the loss of the American yacht John T. Ford, which sailed from Baltimore to Havre, are given by the English papers. The seaman, Armstrong, who alone survives, gives the following statement:— In all kinds of weather two out of the crew of four had to be on deck, as there was only room for two below, and then they were cramped up. On the 28th spoke a ship belonging to Yarmouth, N. S., strong wind at S. W., the boat making heavy weather. On the 29th, strong wind at S. S. W., with a heavy sea running, the boat under the foresail, shipped a sea and capsized, righted again in about a minute. The water damaged all our bread and books and wet all our clothes. On the 2nd August, moderate weather, wind at N. E., P. M., spoke a bark belonging to Shields, from Montreal, N. B., asked for a little bread, but they could not supply any, but gave a bottle of rum and a little tobacco. On the 5th, at 4 P. M., wind strong at S. W., a sea struck the boat—she turned over again, and righted almost immediately, and lost all their oil and the principal part of their water, which placed them in great distress. They were all suffering very much from the cramp and pain in their legs. On the 6th spoke a ship belonging to Liverpool, bound to Quebec. Got a supply of bread, a little oil and tobacco. The master of the boat did not report the miserable state they were in. Shortly afterwards got out of oil again, and had no light for the compass, or to make anything warm to eat or drink. They cut up the boards that secured the ballast, and all the internal fittings of the boat, to burn. On the 18th of August spoke a bark bound to Portsmouth, from Quebec, which turned them with a little bread and a few candles. Experienced very heavy weather, the wind being from S. W. to E. N. E., with a green sea. Monday, 19th, wind S. S. W., with a cross sea, bore up for Cork. Caps Clear, by their reckoning being N. E., about 80 miles. 10.30, P. M., a sea struck the boat and turned her over, a light, the ballast shifted, and all on board were thrown into the water.

The boat kept revolving round as all four of the crew were trying to get on her, until the lad got entangled between the rigging and the mast, and by that means she was kept steady until they all got on her. She continued on her side, and two of her hands were on the masts and two on the side of the keel. They were in that position all that night, frequently being washed off and on, until 30 A. M. the next day, when they observed a brig bearing down towards them. They saw a light gleamed with the hope of speedy relief, but instead of rendering them any aid, she came close to them, hoisted the Dutch colors and stood away without giving us any assistance. About an hour after the mate, John Shaney, asked Armstrong to pray for them. They all prayed together, and continued so for some time, and while they were so engaged they were now and then washed off and on the bottom of the boat. Shortly afterwards the ears of the mate were observed to swell, and his eyes protruded. He shook hands with all of them, then took his wife's likeness out and kissed it, after which he became very excited, and bit the Captain's thigh. The Captain pushed him from him, and said, "John, for God's sake, don't bite me." The mate then fell over the boat and sank immediately. About 7 P. M., the lad (Edward Murphy) asked Armstrong to make him fast. He did so to his belt. Shortly afterwards a sea swept him away, and then the Captain and the survivor, Armstrong, were washed off. The Captain cried, "God help my poor family," and he then sank. Armstrong succeeded in regaining the boat, and remained on the bottom of the craft without the least food or nourishment, and being washed off by the heavy seas, until 4 A. M. of the 28th, when the ship Aerolite, of Liverpool, Captain Allan, bore in sight and rescued him from his dreadful position. He was much exhausted and almost insensible when taken on board the Aerolite. This survivor, Andrew Armstrong, is an English tailor, who had, for some years been sailing out of Newport of Baltimore, and who, when here, made his house with Mr. C. F. Cliff, No. 38, Block street. Armstrong had been previously wrecked, rescued, and carried into Halifax, and was there when the John T. Ford put into that port. Having nothing to occupy him, and being desirous of adventure, he shipped on board the ill-fated vessel. Mr. Cliff yesterday morning received the following letter from Armstrong:— "London, August 31, 1867. "Dear Sir,—The schooner John T. Ford, the vessel that I started from Halifax in, was captured by a heavy sea, and all hands but myself lost. I held on to her keel from Monday night at ten o'clock until the following Friday morning at six o'clock, when I was picked up by an English ves-

GREAT BRITAIN. RITUALISM.—The commission upon the Ritual of the Church of England have agreed upon the following Report:—"To the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty:—"Your Majesty having been graciously pleased to issue a Commission reciting that 'differences of practice have arisen from various interpretations put upon the Rubrics, Orders and directions for regulation of the service of public worship, the administration of the Sacrament, and other services contained in the Book of Common Prayer according to the use of the United Church of England and Ireland, and more especially with reference to the ornaments used in the churches and chapels of the United Church and the vestments worn by the ministers thereof at the time of their ministrations, and that it is expedient that a full and impartial inquiry should be made into the matters aforesaid with the view of explaining or amending the said Rubrics, Orders and Directions, so as to secure general uniformity of practice in such matters as may be deemed essential,—and enjoining your commissioners to make diligent enquiry into all every one of the matters aforesaid, and to report the result in time to time as to them, or any ten of them, may appear to be most expedient, having regard not only to the said Rubrics, Orders, and directions contained in the said Book of Common Prayer, but also to any other laws or customs relating to the matters aforesaid, which may be suggested, or proposed, or amendments with respect to such matters, or any of them, as they or any ten or more of them may think fit to recommend."

"We, your Majesty's Commissioners have, in accordance with the terms of your Majesty's Commission, directed our attention to the question of the vestments worn by the ministers of the said United Church at the time of their ministrations, and especially to those the use of which has been lately introduced into certain churches. "We find that while these vestments are regarded by some witnesses as symbolical of doctrine, and by others as a distinct vesture whereby they desire to do honor to the Holy Communion as the highest act of Christian worship, they are by none regarded as essential, and they give grave offence to many of them, as they or any ten or more of them may think fit to recommend."

"We are of opinion that it is expedient to restrain in the public services of the United Church of England and Ireland all variations in respect of vesture, from that which has so long been the established usage of the said United Church, and we think that this may be best secured by providing aggrieved parishioners with an easy and effectual process for complaint and redress. "We are not yet prepared to recommend to your Majesty the best mode of giving effect to these conclusions, with a view at once to secure the objects proposed and to promote the peace of the Church; but we have thought it our duty, in a matter to which great interest is attached, not to delay the communication to your Majesty of the results at which we have already arrived. "We have placed in the Appendix the evidence of the witnesses examined before us, the documents referred to in the evidence or produced before the Commissioners, the cases laid before us, which were submitted to eminent counsel on either side of the question, together with the opinions thereon; also the report on the subject made by the committee of the Lower House of the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury, and the resolutions passed by the Upper as well as the Lower House of the Convocation, and the resolutions passed by the Convocation of the Province of York. "All of which we humbly beg leave to submit to your Majesty."

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. THIS great household medicine ranks among the leading necessities of life. It is well known to the world that it cures many complaints other remedies cannot reach, this fact is well established as that the sun lights the world.

Disorders of the Liver and Stomach. Most persons will, at some period of their lives, suffer from indigestion, derangement of the liver, stomach or bowels, which if not quickly removed, frequently settle into a dangerous illness. It is well known in India, and other tropical climates, that Holloway's Pills are the only remedy that can be relied on in such cases. Almost every soldier abroad carries a box of them in his knapsack. In England most persons know that these Pills will cure them whenever the liver, stomach or bowels are out of order, and that they need no physician.

Weakness and Debility. Such as suffer from weakness, or debility, and those who feel want of energy, should at once have recourse to these Pills, as they immediately purify the blood, and set upon the main-spring of life, give strength and vigor to the system. Young persons entering into womanhood, with a derangement of the functions, and to mothers at the turn of life, these Pills will be most efficacious in correcting the tide of life that may be on the turn. Young and elderly men suffer in a similar manner at the same points, when there is always danger; they should therefore undergo a course of this purifying medicine, which insures lasting health.

Disorders of Children. If these Pills be used according to the printed directions, and the Ointment rubbed over the region of the kidneys, a great number of children are cured of their ailments, and the kidneys are corrected without any derangement of their organs. Should the affliction be stone or gravel, then the Ointment should be rubbed into the neck of the bladder, and a few days will convince the sufferer that the effect of these two remedies is astonishing.

Disorders of the Stomach. Are the sources of the deadliest maladies. Their effect is to vitiate all the fluids of the body, and to send a poisoned stream through all the channels of circulation. Now what is the operation of the Pills? They cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver, bring the relaxed or irritated stomach into a natural condition, and acting through the secretive organs upon the blood itself, change the state of the system from sickness to health, by correcting a simultaneous and wholesale error in all its parts and functions.

Complaints of Females. The functional irregularities peculiar to the weaker sex are invariably corrected without pain or inconvenience by the use of Holloway's Pills. They are the safest and surest medicine for all diseases incidental to females of all ages.

Bilious Affections. All young children should have administered to them, from time to time, a few doses of these Pills, which will purify their blood, and enable them to pass safely through the different disorders incidental to children, such as measles, hooping-cough, cowpox, and other infantile diseases. These Pills are so harmless in their nature as not to injure the most delicate constitution, and are therefore more peculiarly adapted as correctives of the humors affecting them. Hundreds are cured yearly by the use of these Pills conjointly with the Ointment, which should be rubbed very beautifully into the parts affected.

Derangement of the Kidneys. The quantity and quality of the bile are of vital importance to health. Upon the liver, the gland which secretes it, fluid so necessary for digestion, the Pills operate specifically in all cases of derangement, and effectually curing jaundice, bilious constitutions, and all the varieties of disease generated by an unnatural condition of that organ. Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known for the following diseases:— Ague, Dropsy, Liver Complaint, Rheumatism, Stomachic Disorders, Biliousness, Constipation, Headache, Indigestion, Gravel, Secondary symptoms, Tic-Douloureux, Tumors, Ulcers, Venereal Affections, Worms of all kinds, Weakness, from whatever cause, &c., &c.
