

Household Hints.

Bed clothing packed away for summer should have a sprinkling of camphor gum. Bugs will get in where moth balls are not.

Before putting away old heavy winter boots soak them in water and thoroughly rub into them coal-oil. From this treatment they will emerge next December soft and pliable.

In boiling dumplings or any kind of paste the covering should never be removed nor water allowed to cease to boil until the paste is done, when it should be taken off or it becomes soaked and heavy.

If you are troubled with wakefulness compose your mind carefully before lying down in bed, banish all business thoughts, and count slowly to yourself one hundred. In nine cases out of ten you will not reach eighty before consciousness is lost in slumber.

NITRATE OF SODA FOR STRAWBERRIES.—An old strawberry grower says that wonderful strawberry can be grown on poor, light sandy soil by applying in April 500 pounds of nitrate of soda to the acre.

Every kind of vegetable intended to be eaten whole should, when put to boil, be placed at once in boiling water. When fresh, it is required to produce a pulpy food, as in the making of soup, the vegetables should be put in cold water, and the heat raised to the boiling point gradually.

OAT MEAL BLANC MANGE.—A delicious blanc mange is made by stirring two heaping teaspoonfuls of oatmeal into cold water, then stir with a quart of boiling milk, four and one-half pints into cold water, when cream or jelly may be eaten with it.

ICE CREAM.—Two quarts of rich milk; one quart of cream whites of five eggs one and one-half pounds of sugar. Whip the quart of cream, also the white of the eggs, add to the eggs three tablespoonfuls of sugar, place in freezer and flavor; then freeze.

EARLY TOMATOES.—Tomato plants for an early start can be grown in a box in the kitchen window. Suppose, also, you want some potatoes ahead of your neighbors, then sprout a peck or so in a box of earth behind the kitchen stove, planting them out as soon as the ground is warm enough.

FEET.—Never wear rubbers in dry weather, or any length of time in any weather, but change your shoes and dry the feet, wet by the retained perspiration. Let your boots and shoes be plenty large, and thus avoid corns and discomfort. Tight boots retard the circulation and promote coldness. Never go to bed with cold feet.

RANCID BUTTER MADE SWEET.—To one quart of water add fifty-five drops of the chloride of lime, stir thoroughly in this mixture five pounds of rancid butter. It must remain in the mixture two hours. Then wash twice in pure water and once in sweet milk; add salt. The preparation of lime contains nothing injurious.

TO KEEP MILK SWEET.—The experimenters continue to announce means of keeping milk sweet. Among the latest we find the following: (1) A spoonful of horse radish in a spoonful in a pan of milk will keep it sweet for several days, even in the open air or in the cellar.

TO CLEAN SILKS, SATINS AND RIBBONS.—Take one-half quart of a pound, soft water quarter of a pound, soft water quarter of a pint, mix thoroughly. Apply it to the material to be cleaned as it lies on the table, and brush it well, more especially in the soiled places, with a nail-brush; rinse it then by dipping it in cold water having provided two or three basins for the purpose, and dipping in each one after the other so as to cleanse it thoroughly; then hang it on a line to drain. As soon as the dripping is ceased, iron it on the wrong side. After this treatment it will not be found to look greasy or become stiff after the ironing.

To the Medical Profession, and all whom it may concern. Phosphatine, or Nerve Food, a Phosphate Element based upon Scientific Facts, Formulated by Professor Austin, M. D. of Boston, Mass., cures Pulmonary Consumption, Sick Headache, Nervous Attacks, Vertigo and Neuralgia, and all wasting diseases of the human system. Phosphatine is not a Medicine, but a Nutrient, because it contains no Vegetable or Mineral Poisons, Opium, Narcotics, and no Stimulants, but simply the Phosphatic and Glyceric Elements found in our daily food. A single bottle is sufficient to convince. All Druggists sell it. $1.00 per bottle. LOWN & CO., sole agents for the Dominion, 55 Front Street East, Toronto.

The Mail on Manners. Things have surely come to a pretty pass when the chief organ of the Times sets itself up as a sort of journalistic Prof. Fanning, and proceeds to give instructions in the art of behaving. It declares that "Mr. Blake's manners are getting to be intolerable—even to his own party." This is a very unfortunate state of affairs, and needs looking after at once. What the alleged gentlemen does not know about good manners would make a large-sized book. But this does not restrain it from dealing with the subject in the most impertinent way. The idea of the Mail getting itself up as an instructor in good manners is ludicrous, doubly so when the object of its instruction is a man like Mr. Blake. But this is a world full of accidents and surprises, and you can never tell to a certainty just what is going to happen. Some day, when nobody is dreaming of such a thing, the Mail may turn over a new leaf and become a respectable journal.—[Telegram.]

Big Words, and how not to Make use of Them.

In promulgating your equestrian cogitations, or articulating your superficial sentimentalities and amicable, philosophical, or physiological observations, beware of platitudinous ponderosity.

Let your conversational communications possess a clarified conciseness, a compact comprehensibility, coalescent consistency and a concatenated cogency.

Eachew all conglomeration of flatusulent garrulity, jejune babblement and asinine affectations.

Let your extemporaneous descantings and unpremeditated expatiations have intelligibility and vivacious vivacity, without rhodomontade or thronical bombast.

Sedulously avoid all polysyllabic profundity, pompous prolixity, psittacous vacuity, ventriloquical verbosity and vaniloquent rapidity.

Shun double entendres, prurient jocosity, and pestiferous profanity, obscuring or apparent.

In other words, talk plainly, briefly, naturally, sensibly, truthfully, purely.

Keep from "slink" don't put on airs; say what you mean; mean what you say; and don't use big words!

The Doctor's Secret.

Probably no new development will more surprise the public, than to learn the secret of success of certain leading physicians, when they have a difficult case of throat or lung disease that baffles their scientific skill, they prescribe Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, having it disguised in a prescription bottle, with their own directions and name attached. The patient is cured, and they get the credit.—Tribune. Trial bottles free at Rhynas' drug store. Large size $1. (2)

The Doctor's Last Easy Resort.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 11, 1882. I recently had a very difficult case of Consumption. I treated it in the most scientific manner possible, but to no effect; patient grew gradually worse. Rather than give up, and as a last resort, I decided, much against my wish, to try a remedy that had cured one of my former patients. Greatly to my surprise, the patient began to gain, and in a much shorter time than I dared to expect, she was completely cured.

Going to His Grave. There he goes again direct to a saloon and pours down another heavy draught of strong drink, not so much because his appetite demands it, but for the artificial buoyancy it produces—the after effects of which leave him more miserable than before; it is this dreadful practice that is daily sending thousands to their graves.

Left on the shelf. Mr. Thos. Clayton, Shelburne, Ont., writes: "I have been suffering with a lame back for the past thirty years, and tried everything I heard of without success. Not long ago I was persuaded to use St. Jacobs Oil. I purchased a bottle, and, strange to say, before I had used it all, I was perfectly cured. I can confidently recommend it to any one afflicted. No one can speak too highly of its merits." Mr. W. E. Weekley, also of Shelburne, thus mentions a matter of his experience: "I have been a sufferer with rheumatism for years. I was laid up with a severe attack short time ago, and I can truly say that St. Jacobs Oil produced the quickest relief that I ever experienced. I cheerfully recommend it to every sufferer."
