MULLALY & CO'Y.

Two National Games.

Players of games, especially, we may claim, English players of games, are continually doing what seems impossible to most of us," says the Mail. "Taylor won the German golf championship by doing nine holes in twenty-eight strokes, an average of just over three a hole."

In some games, such as billiards and croquet, and now, it is rumoured, in lawn tennis, skill so increases as to force alteration of the rules. But, in spite of miracles of skill, golf remains a game so honorable and ancient as to be beyond the need of restrictive legislation."

A Profound Frivolity.

"The games which were played when we won India and Canada would seem very haphazard and half-hearted to the players or spectators of to-day," says the Times. "It was only the gamblers and fribbles of the eighteenth century who made a business of pleasure, and nobody admired them much for it. The danger of our present manner of playing games is that it provides an object in life for people who are by nature serious, but not very discriminating. They can go to a golf course day by day just as solemnly and with a sense of duty just as well satisfied as if they were going to work in an office; for they live in a world in which golf has become a business and in which a golf course seems a great work of utility, to which one would rightly sacrifice any antiquities or natural beauties. There is no Roman thoroughness in this state of mind, but rather a frivolity so profound that it has ceased to see the difference between pleasure and business indeed, the same kind of frivolity, though more innocent, as that which in Rome produced the Coliseum for the wonder and disgust of posterity."

"England has won the Triangular Cricket contest," says the Pall Mall; "and nobody who had seen the previous Test matches, or has even studied week by week the tabulated averages of the English, Australian, and South African players, can have been surprised at the result. Greater English elevens have gone into the field than that which won; just as far greater Australian teams have visited us than that so gallantly captained by Mr. Gregory this summer. Mr. Fry, however, had rare powers at his disposal in every branch of the game." The Times says of Mr. Fry's innings that "it was as near perfection as can be imagined. It was a great feat."

The National Game.

"The concluding match was attended by about fifty thousand spectators—a sufficient comment on another piece of latter day nonsense, to wit, that cricket was losing its hold on the affections of the English public," adds the Pall Mall. "Indeed, if this summer—this grim, forbidding summer—has proved anything, it has proved that cricket is as popular as ever. Otherwise, under the conditions that have prevailed there would have been no appreciable 'gates' at all. As a matter of fact, all the counties that have played a masterful game have drawn crowds as 'keen and very nearly as large as in any average summer. It is only inept and stupid cricket that fails to attract, and what else could be expected of it?"

"The game that can show us such batting as that of Mr. Fry, Mr. Douglas, Hobbs, Woolley, and Rhodes, such bowling as that of Mr. Hazlett and Woolley, and so delightful a little sport of plucky play as Messrs. Macarney and Jennings gave in Australia's second innings yesterday, is utterly incapable of losing the love of a people who can appreciate manly courage and skill. Cricket is still the National Game," concludes the Pall Mall, "and long may it continue so!"

Makes Hair Grow.

MEMURDO & CO. HAVE IT.

All drug stores sell SALVIA, and it is guaranteed to grow hair or money back.

The time to take care of your hair is when you have hair to take care of. If your hair is getting thin, gradually falling out, it cannot be long before the spot appears.

The greatest remedy to stop the hair from falling is SALVIA, the Great American Hair Grower, first discovered in England. SALVIA furnishes nourishment to the hair roots and acts so quickly that people are amazed.

And remember, it destroys the Dandruff germ, the little pest that saps the life that should go to the hair from the roots.

SALVIA is sold by first-class druggists under a positive guarantee to cure Dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in ten days, or money back. A large bottle costs 50c. The word "SALVIA" on every bottle.

NO ARREST MADE.—Up to last night the police had no arrest made in connection with the $150 burglary from the halway station at Carbon-ear.

Empty Cradle.

Yes, I know you miss your darling And the house is long and still. And 'tis hard to yield in patience To the Heavenly Father's will.

And I know you miss the prattle And the dainty baby ways. And the many sweet endearments That have brightened all your days.

And you miss the dimple fingers. And the baby face so sweet. Little arms that held you closely. And the rosy restless feet.

And I know you miss her playthings And the dainty things she wore. And your eyes are dim with weeping And your heart is sick and sore.

But above in heaven's garden There was need of one more face. And your baby was the blossom Cuddled to fill the empty space.

Think of when this journey's ended With its trials and its pain: Oh what rapture there in meeting With the dear one once again.

Then what joy to clasp your Darling Pure as when from Heaven she came. Kept from all life's temptations. Saved from every spot and stain.

Never more the pain and longing. All forgot the weary years. Safe within the Father's dwelling No more sorrow, no more tears.

Yes, I know your tears are falling And my heart is sore for you; And for me the days are dreary. I have known the shadows too.

German Postoffices.

A Sure and Safe Way to Free His Mind About Their Method.

The postoffices in Germany are peculiar institutions, says F. Horns Deans in the Wide World Magazine. They are a far-sighted people, the Germans and they allow for expansion. If there are any postoffices in the country of less than three stories I must have overlooked them. Every floor is divided into about four departments, and every department has about a dozen offices.

In some of the smaller towns where business is not very brisk the staff consists of one official. You have to make an appointment with him if you want to be served. Entering on the ground floor you run round and tap with your money at every pigeonhole until he answers. You then ask him for a stamp, whereupon he orders you to go to No. 1 pigeonhole and wait there till he comes. You wait patiently for about five minutes and then he pops his head out of No. 3 and wants to know if you've gone to sleep. When you ask for a five cent stamp he says, "Oh, I thought it was a penny one you wanted," and instructs you to try at No. 7. he probably discovers he has run out of five cent stamps and you have to go to windows No. 3 and No. 11 and get two two cent ones and a one cent.

By this time you are getting quite friendly, and when you ask him where the telegraph office is he will probably get out his guidebook and hunt the place out for you. He may even offer to take you there himself, as he's the telegraph clerk as well and has got to get there anyhow in order to attend to you.

The Germans themselves when they go to buy a stamp make a day of it and take their lunch with them. It is quite a pretty sight to see the mother and a group of children sitting on the stairs, eating their bread and sausage and wondering whether father will remember them when he comes back with the stamp.

Nox a Cold Now

Don't Let a Cold Take Hold of You—"Nox a Cold" Will Nox It Now.

"Nox," known as "Nox a Cold," is a safe and effective specific for weak lungs and bronchial troubles. Use it as prescribed by a leading English physician, whose prescription it is, and quick relief will come to you. Dr. A. A. Hall, Detroit, says: "I have used Nox in my practice and have found it gave beneficial results." Sold by leading Druggists, 25c. per bottle.

An English barrister was once engaged in a nautical case, in which it appeared that a vessel had been exposed to a very severe gale of wind and had been thrown upon her beam ends. The barrister, ignorant of nautical matters, asked a seaman who was in the witness box how it was they did not lower the topmast, upon which the witness said, with a sneer, "if you knew as much of the sea as I do you would know that this is not a very easy matter." This incident led the counsel to turn his attention to the subject, and he invented an apparatus which he obtained a patent and realized thereby upward of $100,000 by his invention.

Are Your Hands Chapped?

Zam-Buk Will Cure Them.

The particular danger of chapped hands and cold cracks (apart altogether from the pain) is that the cold is likely to penetrate and set up inflammation, festering, or blood-poison. Directly the skin is broken by a cut, graze or scratch, or chafed and cracked by the action of the cold winds and water, the one necessary precaution is to apply Zam-Buk freely.

The pure herbal juices from which Zam-Buk is prepared are so perfectly combined and refined that the immediate effect of these Zam-Buk dressings is soothing, antiseptic, and healing. Pain and inflammation are allayed, disease germs expelled from the wound or sore, and the latter is quickly healed.

Zam-Buk is not only a powerful healer and skin purifier; it is strongly antiseptic and germicidal, and so forms the ideal protection for the skin against disease germs.

It quickly heals cold cracks, chaps, chilblains, cold sores, etc.

Mrs. O. M. Phoen, Neuchatel, Alta., writes:—"I must tell you how pleased I am with Zam-Buk. My husband had an old frostbite on his foot for many years, and had tried almost every known remedy without any effect, but the first application of Zam-Buk seemed to help him so much that he persevered and the sore is now cured. We would not be without Zam-Buk in the house."

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for piles, eczema, ulcers, abscesses, scalp sores, blood poison, bad leg, eruptions, etc. Its purely herbal composition makes it the ideal balm for babies and young children. All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk 50c. box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld., for price. Try also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

A QUICK TRIP.—The schr. Pearl Evelyn reached port yesterday afternoon from Santo Palo via Gibraltar. The vessel is a fast sailer and made the run in sixteen days which is excellent at this time of the year; summer-like weather prevailed throughout the passage. She brought a cargo of salt for A. S. Rendell & Co.

At a hotel in Cornwall a few days ago, writes a correspondent, I came across an old waiter who in his palmy days, was in the service of the late Lord James of Rereford, at the time when, as Sir Henry James, he sat for Taunton.

On the occasion of one of Sir Henry's fights the late Mr. Henry Labouchere, who had a good reason for talking an interest in Taunton, was so certain that Sir Henry would be defeated that he sent a message to him, offering, if he got in, to carry him from Taunton to Westminster on his back.

To this Sir Henry sent back a reply, through the man now serving as a waiter, that he quite gave up donkey-riding when he was a boy.
