The Appeal for Munitions

Lloyd George has opened his campaign as Minister of War in Manchester, his native city, which is the centre of the great engineering centre of South Lancashire, and the headquarters of the Whitworth Munition factories, which now constitute a branch of the great armament firm of the Armstrong and Whitworth Company. The object of the appeal is to make employer and employee realize the importance of the supply of shot and shell. The reverse sustained recently by the Russians is due to the superiority of the German supply of these munitions. The retaking of Przemyśl by the Germans and Austrians pointed the moral of his appeal in a way that could not be gained. Sir John's French call is for munitions, munitions. An overwhelming supply of shot and shell is what is required. The great Kitchener army is being kept back for equipment and shot and shell. Men are ready, their equipment is not, and the great British stroke contemplated cannot be delivered effectively until the British can throw more shot and shell at the Germans than the Germans can throw at them. No of the patriotism carry on this appeal to the patriotism of the workshop than Lloyd George, and as head of the new department of munitions he is being put in a better position to make it. The grand primary objective of the campaign in Turkey is to obtain control over the waterways between the Black Sea and the Mediterranean, so that Russia may be supplied with what she needs in the way of munitions. A secondary objective is to gain control in the South Russia which will aid in keeping down prices in Great Britain.

Amusements.*THE ROYAL BOX.

The week end picture at the Casino is nettled The Royal Box and Judge from the many pleasing words of approbation expressed last night it is up to the standard of excellence as can be seen only at the house of masterpieces. The Royal Box is a story of an actor who played in Drury Lane a century ago and who not only famous for good character production but who was equally famous for garbousness of manner and gentlemanly qualifications. These accomplishments won him the patronage and friendship of the Prince of Wales and other notables. His association involves actor Clarence in many difficulties and after a public insult to the Prince for which he is forgiven he goes to America. Miss Gertrude Coughlin, the famous actress appears in this picture. This famous picture will be shown to-night and to-morrow night.

THE GREAT CONTEST AT ROSSLEY'S.

Last night both the Rossley theatre were crowded to the doors with a holiday crowd who enjoyed the show and a first class entertainment. The comedy sketch entitled off duty was one continual laugh. Jack Rossley, as the policeman; Mr. Ballard Brown, as the Soldier; Mrs. Marie Rossley, The Mistress; and Miss Madge Locke, The Maid, had the house in roars. Besides a singing and dancing act and the pictures, which are the best seen in the city in years; Rossleys have everything up to date. The contest to-night will be a big one, there are lots of names, and the winner of the first six prizes can have either the week's engagement or the money, as some can not get away to fulfill the week's work. The early doors will be open to-night at 6.45 p.m.

"OURS" IN THE WEST END.

There was a crowded house last night at each performance at the popular little theatre and the sweet little singer had to respond over and over again to the solid applause given Always a good show; the very best of pictures, good music and comfort at the cosy little house. To-night's contest at Rossley's East End Theatre promises to be the best yet to judge by the number of names given in.

Sir Edgar Bowring.

The news that Newfoundland had been honoured on the King's Birthday by the conferring of a knighthood on the Hon. E. B. Bowring has afforded much satisfaction. For a quarter of a century, Sir Edgar Bowring has been the head of the Newfoundland firm of Bowring Bros., being appointed after the death of his uncle, Hon. Charles Bowring. He is also director of the parent Company Liverpool. Sir Edgar is a son of the late John Bowring and was born in St. John's in 1858. He was educated at the C. of E. Academy in this city, and at Liverpool and Scarborough. He has been prominent in fostering many local industries, outside his own firm, and has taken a lively interest in public questions, and for a long time was the Treasurer of Bishop Field College, which always received strong support from him. When the Dominion Commission was appointed to investigate the resources of the Dominions of the Empire, he was appointed the representative of Newfoundland, and for some years past, he has devoted most of his time to the work of that Commission, travelling through most of the Colonies. A few years back in the Centenary of the firm, he was instrumental in obtaining from it, a large donation of a site was purchased at Waterford Valley which was placed in the hands of ornamental gardeners, and last year on the occasion of the visit of H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught was handed over to the Municipal Council as a Public Memorial of the Centenary of the Bowring firm. We congratulate Sir Edgar on the royal mark of recognition he received yesterday and express the hope he may live long to enjoy his honors.

Attempted Suicide.

Yesterday afternoon a young woman of the East End, named Annie Rolls, aged 25 years, unmarried, attempted to end her life by drowning near Quidi Vidi cove. This unfortunate creature had been mentally unbalanced for some considerable time past. Yesterday she wandered off to the lake side, where she leaped a distance from the head of the pond, and was seen there acting strangely by several persons who passed by in that vicinity, including a man named Patrick Walsh, who was going trout fishing. The woman kept continually walking back and forth at great speed, and Mr. Walsh in the meantime kept his eye on her, as he suspected something was wrong. Suddenly she disappeared having thrown herself into a running river alongside. Luckily Walsh and another man saw the woman's rash act and hurried to save her from drowning, which they did, barely in the nick of time. When rescued there was very little life left in the woman and a few seconds longer and she would have succumbed. When she began to come to herself she remonstrated with her rescuers and wanted to get in the water again. One of the men watched her while the other acquainted the police authorities by telephone. Immediately Constable Woodford drove to the scene and conveyed the woman to the police station where on being examined by Dr. Mitchell, she was pronounced to be in an advanced state of insanity and forthwith was taken to the Lunatic Asylum.
