Our Montreal Letter.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

VACATION SCHOOLS

From the large number of letters both from autos and from the youth of this City vacation time, ways and means should be adopted to have vacation schools. The children of the nine or ten weeks of vacation are exposed to many dangers in every part of the city and growing city. With such a number of country places in proximity to the city on the St. Lawrence River, Lake St. Louis, Richelieu and Ottawa Rivers, it should be a matter for the Provincial Council, the School Boards and the City Council to provide such vacation schools. The children should be divided into dormitories, halls and recreation rooms, and in the morning and the same in the afternoon could be devoted to school work, the balance of the day filled in with games of different kinds, hunting and swimming, and evening a variety of entertainment. The money would be raised by subscription and benefit of children mentally, physically and morally.

KNIGHTS' CONVENTION A GREAT SUCCESS.

The Convention of the Knights of Columbus was a great success in every way. It was the largest Convention ever held in the Metropolis of Quebec. Fully ten thousand visitors were in the City during the Convention. The parade to Notre Dame Church was nearly a mile long. The religious service at the Notre Dame Church was one, that for the first time, was only excelled at the time of the famous Eucharistic Congress. The great beauty of the large sanctuary with its hundreds of electric lights and other decorations; the large number of priests and church dignitaries, with the Apostolic Administrator of the Archdiocese, His Grace, Archbishop George Gauthier, as the central figure; the fine music rendered by a large male choir; the two excellent sermons delivered in French and English by Monsignor Deschamps, Vicar General of the Archdiocese and Donnelly, Domestic Prelate and Pastor of St. Anthony's Church; the large and devout congregation, numbering over six thousand; made a memorable scene in the old historic Church. The Commemorative Service for the deceased members of the Order was another event that left a great impression on the minds of the visiting delegates and others. St. James Cathedral or the Basilica was heavily draped for the occasion. The singing of "Peregrin's Requiem" by the choir was excellent. The delegates and visitors, especially from the United States, were loud in their praises of the religious celebrations. The business part of the Convention was held at Mount Royal Hotel. Nearly three days were occupied at several sessions, in which many things for the good of the Order were discussed and adopted. Probably one of the most important, and one that will be far-reaching in many ways for the extension of the Order was the decision to launch immediately a movement which will deal with the Catholic Boy Problem. This question according to Supreme Knight J. A. Flaherty has been under consideration for some time and is one of the principal problems confronting the Order. Rev. Brother Barnabas, an American member of the Brothers of the Christian Schools and one who has made the "Boy Problem" a life study, addressed the members on the subject.

"As the twig is bent, so the tree grows" stated Brother Barnabas of Toronto, member of the Catholic Boy Life Council of Canada, in emphasizing the need of an organization for the guidance of boys out of school. The average boy spent 1,000 hours out of a possible 4,000 in school. "How are the other 3,000 hours being occupied?" It is estimated that there is possibly between one and two million boys in the United States, between the ages of nine and sixteen years, eligible for membership in this Junior Boys' organization.

This movement, it was announced will be controlled through the 2,800 councils in existence in America, and approximately 800,000 will be expended in educating two men from each metropolitan centre, who will take special courses in Boy Leadership. Definite plans have not yet been worked out but the proposed movement will likely operate along the lines of the Boy Scouts and the Boy's Federation plan in the United States, operating in a manner to counteract the effect of the movies, detrimental environment, poverty, lack of parental control and other disastrous elements and to assist the underprivileged boy who constitutes 50% of the boy population, stated Brother Barnabas. He urged the young members of the association to take up the work as a profession, stating that at the present time there was a scarcity of workers in this connection.

An open meeting was held in the banquet room of the Mount Royal Hotel, at which a large number of delegates and friends gathered. An enthusiastic ovation was tendered Mr. James A. Flaherty, Supreme Knight, as he rose to address the gathering. Mr. Flaherty stated that the convention had been one of the most successful ever held. "We have had a strenuous time, but a happy time. By this convention the name of Quebec and Canada have become more widely known and have become more popular than ever."

THE HARDEST ANIMAL TO KILL.

"The human being is the hardest animal to kill," a young surgeon remarked in the course of a conversation the other day.

"I have made this statement to many noted surgeons, among them George W. Orle, and all have agreed it is true," he continued. "Remember Tom Longboat, the Indian," he said. "He was a perfect physical specimen of a man. He kept himself in the finest condition by constant training. Longboat ran against a race horse for ten miles and won."

"Rabbits can be run down by tiring them out. Reindeers have like wise been run down by man on foot. The reason we have come to this point of man as a weakling in physical power is because he has abused his body. Yet the best evidence of man's tremendous resources is the fact that his body can stand this abuse. He overworks, overexerts, and underexerts. He takes no exercise, lives in stuffy rooms and then in a sudden crisis, withstands the shock of a major operation."

"No other animal on earth could do it. Nor should man try to do it. If a man took half the care of his body that the average animal does, his effectiveness would be tripled."

PRaises QUEBEC LIQUOR LAWS.

Great praise is bestowed on the working of the Quebec liquor laws by Mr. R. Barry-Doyle, distinguished priest, lecturer and former chaplain with General Allenby's expedition in Palestine. Just before leaving the Canadian metropolis for New York the Monsignor said that he wished that the Montreal system of temperance could be put in force in every city in the world. The distinguished chaplain paid a great tribute to the tolerance that is so evident in Montreal and was enthusiastic over the reception accorded him by the Catholics and non-Catholics of the city.

Monsignor Doyle was sanguine that his appeal for $50,000 for a building to house Catholic orphans in Athens, Greece, would be favorably considered by the executive of the Knights of Columbus.

HOTELS CROWDED DURING JULY AND AUGUST.

All records have been broken at the large hotels here. During July the Mount Royal accommodated 25,000 while the Windsor, the Queens, and the Ritz Carlton were completely ly filled up, and at each hotel hundreds had to be refused. This month is still worse. The Mount Royal expects to handle over 40,000, and a few evenings ago, 200 had to be refused. On the side streets in the vicinity of the hotels, hundreds of cars are to be seen each morning as the owners are unable to find room in the garages.

A VERY DANGEROUS AND SPECTACULAR FIRE.

On Sunday, Aug. 12th, during lunch hour, a very dangerous disaster, but spectacular fire destroyed the Jennings-Ledoux Garage Repair Factory situated in Osborne Street, just across from the Windsor Station. Thousands of spectators watched the big building burn itself out. A general alarm was sounded, but the firemen could not get within easy reach of it owing to the terrific heat from the flames, together with the danger of explosions from two gas-line tanks and large casks of varnish and paint. Two explosions took place, a large number of costly cars and heavy auto trucks were destroyed. The walls crumbled and fell in different directions. All the firemen could do was to save the adjoining buildings, the stables and equipment building of the Bell Telephone Company. The water pressure was low and the fire took about an hour to destroy over $200,000 worth of property including cars, the building, paints and gasoline. It was one of the most spectacular fires here in recent years and did the largest amount of damage in the shortest space of time. Had there been a strong wind, or had it taken place during the night the whole block on both Mountain and Drummond Streets would have been wiped out, together with several buildings in Osborne Street.

ANOTHER PROHIBITION JOKE.

Under the above caption, the Montreal Herald says editorially the American papers are making merry over the latest attempt of the Pusey-footers to arrest the immutable laws of Nature. Under regulations just withdrawn by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, anybody was allowed to make 200 gallons of fruit juices a year, with no restriction on the ensuing alcoholic content. This concession to nature stirred the wrath of the Pures and the derision of the Wets. The Commissioner by a new set of regulations authorizes the manufacture of cider and fruit juices for home use without permit or bond. Prepared for winter use, they must be treated like other preserves put up by the housewife. Nature in them mustn't be allowed to "work." They must always remain within the modesty of one-half of 1 per cent. Now the question is, how is this law going to be enforced.

A GREAT CRICKET MATCH.

The McGill cricket team had a very narrow escape from losing the John Ross Robertson Cup with the Toronto's here on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 10th and 11th. The day opened with shower weather and McGill on going to bat faced badly put-ting up only 78 runs, the lowest score this season. Wooley, the Toronto team was the rock on which they broke, as he took 7 wickets for

aug 23, th. f. s. the noon

27. The Toronto's put up 138, which left McGill 60 short. On going to bat the second time, McGill promised a score of over 200, but Wooley both-ered them after they had lost four of their best batsmen, G. S. R. Saunders, the captain, well known in St. John's, Goodman, Godsell and Hedg-egs. They totalled 187 which left the Toronto's 130 to win. Wooley took 7 wickets for 60. The Western lads fared badly until the 8th man fell having made only 87 runs. But McGill struck a snag and had a very hard time in trying to dispose of the two remaining men. Seven bowlers were used and Seagram lost the chance when he was run out. The Toronto's totalled 111 or 249 for 2 innings against McGill's 265. McGill won by 18 runs. A funny incident took place during the second innings of the Toronto's, Capt. G. R. Saunders of McGill threw his brother, Captain of the Toronto team out by a chance shot from midfield. Messrs.

Chas. J. Ellis and Cyril J. Cahill, delegates of the K. of C. Convention, together with A. Hiseock and J. Ryan of St. John's and your correspondent witnessed the famous cup match. Chas. Ellis was very much interested in the batting of Messrs Saunders, Godsell and Goodman of McGill, and the bowling of Wooley of the Toronto's. Speaking of the latter's bowling, he said that it reminded him very much of the bowling of the late Wm. Nicholls of Shamrock fame. McGill played a very poor game on the field, the men being badly placed, and over 40 runs in both innings were earned by Toronto in that way. When McGill let out to drive they didn't send the ball as far as expected, and on several occasions Charley Ellis remarked, "If Jack Donnelly or some of the other old time batters of our day had that chance, the ball would be landed out on Sherbrooke Street." R. J. LOUIS CUDDIHY.
