Amalgamation of the Office of Registrar of Titles and Registrar of Supreme Courts.

The administration of justice and the constitution of the Courts of Law of the Colony, cannot fail to be an interesting subject to everyone having any part, lot, or share in the prosperity of the country. Although there have at times been heard, demands for a Court of Appeal, and for a third judge to constitute such court to the satisfaction of those who are not content with a dualistic court of appeal, and although since the Union much grave dissatisfaction has existed at the inconvenience and absurdity of keeping up two distinct courts for the Mainland and the Island, yet there have been few complaints or grounds of complaint against the administration of justice in any part of the Colony. Nevertheless, there is nothing which more urgently demands the attention of the legislature than the amalgamation of our Supreme Courts. The attempt at legislation of last session was a complete failure; the present position is all but ridiculous; the same lack of an administrative head, to grapple with suppositions difficulties, as is apparent in the failure to curtail expenses in other departments of the government, is painfully conspicuous, when we contemplate the position of the judiciary of the Colony. It may well be urged that both judges have claims to precedence, which cannot be ignored, but is the whole Colony to suffer because the Executive cannot devise some plan by which both occupants of the Judicial Bench can retain every whit of the dignity of their several positions. Could there not be a Chief Justice of the Court of Vancouver Island, and a Chief Justice of the Court of British Columbia, and two courts if this difficulty cannot be got over, but both courts having concurrent jurisdiction in all parts of the Colony. The official staff of the two courts could in fact be amalgamated, although in name preserved distinct; for instance, one individual might be Registrar of the Court of British Columbia, and of the Court of Vancouver Island, and every Deputy Registrar might be sworn in as an officer of both courts; the question of precedence would naturally arrange itself without trouble to the public or the Executive when it exists between men of such high standing and great ability as are the Supreme Judges of this Colony. The necessity of a third judge to constitute a Court of Appeal did not seem to arise in places where the litigant population has been more than ten times larger than that of this Colony. In Bombay and Madras, from the time the Supreme Courts were established, until 1862, when the sudden additions, or native Courts of Appeal, presided over by members of the East Indian Civil Service, were amalgamated with the Supreme Courts in all three dependencies of India, under the designation of High Courts of Civil Judicature, the Courts were composed of a Chief Justice and one Puisne Judge, the full court sitting as a Court of Error and of Appeal. What was found sufficient for places with such large populations and of such great commercial wealth as Bombay and Madras, might surely suffice for this Colony for sometime to come, until at all events, business shall no increase as to make the appointment of a third judge more of a necessity than it can be said to be at present. In justice position with the judicial establishment, both in Victoria and at New Westminster, although not in any way pertaining or belonging to it, are the offices of the Registrars of Titles and Lands. Whilst legislating for the better arrangement and constitution of the courts and the judges thereof, the Council would do well to consider how far the duties of Registrar of Titles might be discharged by the same individual as should be chief Registrar of the Courts; the work in the Land Registry cannot be heavy, either here or on the Mainland, yet under the present system it is necessary for the convenience of the public that an office should be kept open day by day and that a Registrar should be retained at a high salary for the sole purpose of keeping the office, if it so happens that he has no titles to register. It is essential under the system of registration of titles, which maintains in Vancouver Island that the incumbent of the office should be a lawyer on the Mainland where the system is the more mechanical one of recording the deeds affecting the titles to land, this necessity does not exist; no doubt it would be better to assimilate the process of registration in all parts of the Colony. If then the head office be established in the Capital with branch offices in all towns where there may happen to be an assistant or deputy registrar of the Supreme Court, no inconvenience would be experienced by the public. The barrister holding the office of Registrar of Titles might be appointed Chief Registrar of both Supreme Courts, with as many deputies or assistants as there is any necessity for. The urgent need of retrenchment and amalgamation of such offices as can, without detriment to the public service, be placed under one head is very generally admitted, in some instances such amalgamations can only be made under our present very imperfect constitution, by the Governor; the alterations which we have now suggested might be made by the Legislature, they have already made one attempt to deal with the Courts, and they must necessarily make another during the next session. Let us hope that they will be more successful in their next attempt.

Monday, Sept 14
Sandwich Islands.

THE FAVORITE. This vessel returned from the Sandwich Islands on Saturday morning, making the round trip in 57 days, being 37 days in going and 20 in coming back to this port. The public will remember our account of this vessel being built a short time since at Sooke, and of her leaving for Honolulu on her first voyage. It is gratifying to find she has realized all expectations formed of her sailing powers, and proved herself a first-class vessel of her kind, reflecting credit in every respect upon our shipbuilding capacity. She reports the Robert Cowan discharging at the Islands, and that she and the Mauna Loa may be expected here daily. Trade was tolerably brisk, especially in sugar, which was bringing good prices. The volcano was still on fire, but emitting no lava. Much uneasiness was felt by the public from the constant occurrence of severe earthquakes. The Favorite has brought 400 barrels of molasses and 620 barrels of sugar; she is consigned to J. B. Stewart.

MR. COLEMAN. Mr. Coleman of Mount Baker celebrity, returned from the Sound on Saturday evening by the Revenue Cutter Joe Lane. He speaks highly of the courtesy and hospitality experienced at the various stopping places on the American side, and of the urbanity and consideration extended him by Capt. Scammon, U. S. N., who received him as his guest on board during Mr. C.'s stay at Port Townsend, and at the request of the Collector of Customs, conveyed to Victoria. The vessel touched at Protection Island on the way over, which enabled Mr. Coleman to make some sketches of its fine scenery—so highly enjoyed by Vancouver.

NEW CLUB. A number of young men in this city have formed a club for the purpose of giving social dancing parties during the winter, probably, once a month. They gave the first party a few nights ago, in the Alhambra Hall, and intend having another in a couple of weeks.

GAS REDUCTION. The Gas Company of this city have reduced the price of gas from $7.50 to $6 per thousand cubic feet. The system of discounts adopted last October, however, will be discontinued upon the reduction of the price of gas.

FUNERAL. The funeral of John Holder took place yesterday from the hall of the Oddfellows' yesterday. Some thirty members of the Order formed the procession, but without regalia.

THE FINEST SHIP. A large flock of sandhill cranes passed over the island, bound southward the other night, being the first warning of the approaching close of the year.

THE STEAMER KATIPRIE arrived from New Westminster early on Saturday, bringing down a few passengers and a small express. She afterwards went to Esquimalt for some of the cargo of the Princess Royal.

The steamship Active arrived from Nanaimo yesterday, bringing down 256 tons of coal. She leaves for Portland this morning as soon as she can clear at the customs.

THE GAZ. S. WAGNER. This steamer arrived last night from the Sound, and will make a short stay before leaving for Portland, sailing this morning at 11 o'clock.

THE WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH COMPANY have reduced their tariff between this city and Williams Creek, to $5.50 for ten words.

Editorial Correspondence No. 9.

LEOMINSTER, Mass., July 19th, 1868.

Nowhere in the Old Bay State—noted as it is for ten thousand lovely nooks and retreats, to which heated and tired denizens of crowded cities delight to make an annual pilgrimage, exists there, a lovelier spot than that from which this letter is dated. Attracted hither some ten days ago by a desire to visit and examine for oneself the numerous objects of interest, around which thickly cluster memories, the pen of the historian, seems never tired of sketching, we sailed for the Empire city at six o'clock in the evening. The steamer in which we embarked was one of a line running between the town of Bristol, Rhode Island, whence over a line of rail the passengers are transferred to the famous city of Boston—the scene of the Boston Tea Party and the earlier struggles of the colonists to free themselves from British rule. Remaining a day in Boston, we strolled through the broad and beautifully arbored Common, which ever presents a scene of loveliness and interest; visited and ascended the Bunker Hill monument, a grey granite shaft 221 feet in height, the summit of which is reached by means of a winding stone staircase with 295 steps. The view from the top of the monument, for extent, variety and beauty, is certainly one of the finest in the world. Boston, its harbor, and the beautiful country around, dotted with villages and cities, are spread out like a vast painting, and on every side the eye of the tourist may rest upon localities filled with historical interest, where

"The Old Continentals
In their rugged regiments
Fought our wars."

We lingered in the chamber of the monument as long as circumstances would allow, and descending, rode back to the city, where we visited Faneuil Hall, the old South Meeting House, the Brattle Street Church, and the new Masonic Hall. The Brattle Street Church still exhibits, half buried in its brick front, a cannon ball said to have been fired from the British fleet that assisted in the bombardment of Boston, while the battle of Bunker Hill was in progress. The ball is said to occupy the identical spot where it lodged on the memorable day in 1775 when the fight occurred. Near the old South Meeting House, a new Masonic Temple was dedicated by President Johnson in August last. It is built of granite and is the most chaste and exquisitely beautiful edifice I ever saw, which, from the proverbial penchant of the brethren of the mystic tie for handsome structures, is saying a great deal. From Boston to Leominster there are two lines of railway, both of which appear to enjoy a profitable share of public favor. The road winds through a fine rolling country stamped with the impress of industry and thrift, in a high state of cultivation and smiling with abundance, and threaded by purring streams of crystal clearness. The enchanting magnificence of the scenery keeps the attention of the traveler alive, while its varying character, continually opens new sources of enjoyment, or awakens new trains of thought, and

"River and fountain, brook and rill,
Besprinkled with lively gay,
Of silver droplets, whirling way."

Leominster is a town of some 8000 people, and contains many handsome modern buildings and residences. It was settled nearly 125 years ago, but has grown more in the past ten years than during the previous 115 years. Being supplied by Nature with abundant water power, numerous manufactories have sprung up of late. There are no less than twelve comb factories here—the most extensive being that of the Union Company, which turns out many thousands of combs of all kinds daily. Two-thirds of the combs made in America are produced within the corporate limits of Leominster. Two large horn button factories are in full blast here, the largest being that of the Gibson Bros., who are kept busily employed with orders from the famous A. T. Stewart, the dry goods "Prince" of New York. Four piano factories turn out seventy-five instruments per week. Jewett, Allen & Co. and the Arlington Piano Company, produce very sweet toned square pianos, and sell their best and most handsomely finished instruments at from $300 to $400, which is from $100 to $150 lower than the same instruments can be bought in the showrooms of New York or Boston. The manufactory of Shumway & Co., whose agricultural implements took the first prize at the late Paris Exposition, and the manufactory of Lockyer & Company who produce the wonderful little machine known as the Yankee Apple-parer, are located here. Did you ever see an apple-parer? You place an apple on a fork and turn a crank when a little blade whirled round on a cog wheel, and presto! before you have had time to think, the jacket of the apple lies at your feet. A poor young man of this village invented the parer, and for $800 sold the right to Lockyer & Co., who built a workshop and made independent fortunes by the sale of the little machine, which, strange to say, has lessened the opportunities for love-making in Yankeland. Before the parer made its appearance, it used to be the custom of farmers to invite the lazes and laddies for miles around to parings. The boys and girls who came were each provided with a knife and given a certain number of apples to pare. This was called a "stent" (stint), and after the paring a dance was improvised and maintained with vigor until early morning. These parties were given "turn about" by the farmers, and many were the conquests which Cupid made, and many the well-mated couples who date the commencement of their happiness from an apple-paring. In addition to the manufactory I have named, there are two woolen and one linen mill, a paper mill, and several carriage, furniture, tin and nail factories, all of which enjoy a full tide of successful prosperity. The Town Hall is a fine brick edifice, containing besides offices for the transaction of public business, a free library and reading room. There are several large blocks of buildings, among which I may mention Wood's and Percy's blocks, and Britton Hall. The latter has just been completed by Mr. Josiah P. Britton and is leased by the Young Men's Christian Association and the Sons of Temperance. There are four handsome church edifices in the town, and the attendance is large. Leominster, during the late war, sent 300 of her sons to the field and welcomed back less than a third of that number. The lost ones are commemorated by a granite slab which rears its head in the public square—the most fitting tribute a grateful people could offer the brave spirits who fell nobly fighting to save (as they believed) their country from dishonor. To-morrow we leave this picturesque spot. Our way will lie through a country where the scenery is constantly changing, from the romantic and beautiful to the bold and rugged, and again from the sublime and fearfully grand, to the sweetest pictures of gentle beauty. But I venture to say that nowhere between sun and sea will more hospitable people nor a lovelier spot, nor a place that will more strongly tempt a traveler to repeat his visit, and linger to explore new beauties which the eye in the rolling car does not detect, than Leominster, be found.

Ayer's
CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the result of serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humor—purge the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity.

Disease is a solid matter somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general exhaustion, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the most serious and dangerous disorders. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well-known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1866.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of a severe attack upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother had been long gravely afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

As a Family Remedy.

From Dr. E. W. Carrington, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purgatives. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Feul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR BRO. AYER: I cannot express you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say that we ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on first effecting a cathartic in my daily contact with disease, and believing, as I do, that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

Perrine, Pa., May 1, 1867.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache anybody can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PERRINE.

Clerk of Superior Court.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any other remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the physician and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Washington, D. C., 7th Feb. 1867.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since your medicine, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Sincerely yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Belates, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alternative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhoea. Their sugar-coating makes them very agreeable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. H. Ames, Pastor of Adams Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends.

Yours, J. V. HAMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 31, 1866.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountain of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Catarrhes, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, &amp;c.

From Dr. J. E. Fausch, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of constipation. If others of our fraternity have found them so efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it, for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe cathartics to originate the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promovers of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very efficient to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Haines, of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

FRAUD. HON. J. B. SWANN, Esq., Jan. 6, 1866.

SCORPION SIR: I should be ungrateful if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating rheumatic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Mr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

BENJAMIN CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 6 Dec. 1865.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me many years.

VINCENT SALLER.

Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which although a valuable remedy in small doses, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Price, 25 cents per Box, or 6 Boxes for $1.
