Mr. Mowat at Gitawa.

There are rumors in the air now, and there may be music in the air-at Ottawa -some of these days. Mr. Mowat is not at the capital for nothing, it is whispered ; people, for unfortunately those who send somebody is surely going to be invited to take something—into serious consider-ation, that is. Mr. Blake is incubating a who have adopted the country as their great speech, which is to throw all his own. The World has frequently referred previous efforts into the shade. And this to this matter, but, unfortunately, the speech-who can doubt it ?-is to be on majority of our contemporaries have that one dread subject, the franchise bill. ignored it and preferred to shut Only this and nothing more, it is said ; but with Mr. Blake "this" means a great is being done in the premises. To deal, in the present instance.

A grand opposition coup de main is in but to those who have means of knowing preparation, and the conservative chieftain may need all his generalship to meet it. truth is the men who slander their country Still, he has out generaled some pretty "smart" fellows before now, and he may means of adding to the miserable salary any day turn the enemy's flank ere the paid them by these boasted enterprising enemy aforesaid knows where to look for sheets, whose main and only holt is outside northwest by north. be a pleasing pastime with some prominent bers of the opposition to speculate on Sir John's probable break-down from overwork and worry; and many winks and nods were exchanged over thoughts which were but too evidently fathered by corresponding wishes. We do not like the way in which our correspondent "Scotch the conservative party, and that he would Canadian" speaks of some public men ; but we print his letter, because it gives sug. gestions of subterranean things, that is, of shings going on beneath the surface. The of prescience, for by a simple process of bottomless pit itself, which is surely far exclusion the result is easily and certainly bottomless pit itself, which is surely far enough below the surface, has been deemed unfit for mention to ears polite, at least by its old fashioned name. a day when the oppertunity presents itself? Citizens whe ewn carriages and horses, or by their means can hire the same, are privileged to drive around the city and suburbs, and thereby experience the enjoyment of the day; but the honest workingman has to centent himself with the surroundings of the backyard. Toiling all the days of the week, he looks forward to the rest and relaxation of the Sunday. If we had Sunday street cars running our hard workers could visit the outlying suburbs of the city and see friends and exchange that greeting which links souls together in one bond of common manhood. There are hundreds in this city who are unacquainted with the beauty of the Meantime the "ocean greyhounds" are atching it in the papers, and the public are being liberally cautioned against steamers that make fast time over a route abounding with icebergs and fogs. It does seem as if twenty-four or forty-eight hours saved on an ocean trip can in very few individual cases be of sufficient importance to balance the risk which is too frequently run.

The Great Strike

Somewhere from 50,000 to 100,000 men are now on strike in the iron districte of Western Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois. A number of large companies have signed the "amalgamated scale," as it is called, which lays down the terms de manded by the workmen; but still over 10n iron mills and thirty or forty nail factories are closed. The outlook appears a threatening one, but nevertheless the suggestion is anything but a "fighter." Dalton Mois made that perhaps it may soon appear | Carthy is not a politician at all-that is, is made that perhaps it may soon appear is made that perhaps it may soon appear that capital and labor are practically working together toward an end that is considered desirable by both. The New York Times has an idea that the men have entered upon the strike in a spirit that indicates a deliberate purpose to curtail production until prices shall so advance as to justify the scale of wages which they demand. The officer of the amalgamated association of iron and steel workers, says our contemporary, are men who have studied the condition of men who have studied the condition of right hand in the commons.
