Bureau—Enlargement of the federal prohibition guard along the Niagara frontier recently was due to a "benign attitude" by Canadian officials toward liquor smuggling. Collector of Customs Allen Bradley and U. S. Attorney Richard H. Templeton said here today.

Attorney Templeton believed that "authorities across the border have deliberately winked at open smuggling of liquor into the United States in utter disrespect for public opinion in the United States," while Collector Bradley declared that we've tried persuasion and co-operation; neither worked; now we're going to show these people that we can take the "kick" out of their game.

ILLITERACY IN CANADA.

Marjorie Bradford, Social Service Council of Canada.

To provide educational facilities in the frontier settlements of Canada, the Minister of Education in Saskatchewan has recently announced the decision of his department to establish the "Outpost Correspondence School" for the purpose of serving children who live beyond the borders of organized school districts. This will do much to relieve the minds of parents who are pioneering in remote districts and whose ordinary hardships are sufficient price to pay for the new home in a new land. These children need not be deprived of at least the elementary education which is so necessary to their happiness and success in life.

Unfortunately illiteracy in Canada is not confined to its frontiers and newer territories. Defining illiteracy as inability after the age of ten years to read or write in any language, an analysis of the census statistics of 1921 shows that 5.10% of the population of Canada is illiterate. Of the Provinces, Ontario has the lowest illiterates—2.96% and New Brunswick tops the list with 7.61% illiterate. Manitoba comes second to New Brunswick with an illiteracy of 7.69%. In that Province the high percentage is due in great measure to the large immigrant population in which illiteracy is much higher than among Canadian born. Of the foreign born in Manitoba 20.72% are illiterate. In the three Western Provinces there are 62,626 illiterates and of these 71% are foreign born and 19% Canadian and British born—a condition which should make us, as Canadians think. Compulsory education laws are doing much, but in spite of these, many Canadian born children of foreign parentage as well as many children of Canadian illiterate parents are perpetuating their family names in the ranks of illiteracy. For instance 29.46% of foreign born Ukrainians in Canada are illiterate and 7.65% of their Canadian born children can neither read nor write! Illiteracy however, must not be confused with inability to speak English. This is another problem and a serious one. In Saskatchewan alone over 40,000 citizens cannot speak English.

The economic waste and the dangers of illiteracy in a democratic country are self-evident. Henry Van Dyke says: "To place the ballot in the hands of illiterate people is like hanging a diamond around the neck of a little child and sending it out into the crowded street." Four million illiterates vote in the United States and two hundred and fifty thousand are eligible to vote in Canada.

A much lower urban than rural illiteracy in Canada, even among foreign born demonstrates the excellent work that is being accomplished by night schools. It is evident that we need many "outposts" if we are to deal with this vexing problem.

"HANDLING NATURAL SWARM"

(Experimental Farms Note.)

There is a swarm of bees clustering in one of my trees—what shall I do? comes the telephone message. If you have no beekeeping equipment, invert a box over the cluster and smoke or crowd the bees up into it; then place them where they will be undisturbed and secure a hive as soon as possible.

A beekeeper would use a complete hive containing frames of full sheets of foundation or drawn comb and would have a smoker going in case of need.

To prevent the swarm from deserting, open brood is often used, if procurable, or an excluder is placed between bottom board and hive body.

If the branch on which the swarm is clustered is unimportant, it should be cut without disturbing the bees, carried to the hive and the bees shaken from it in front of the entrance. Direct bees into hive by a few puffs of smoke.

Should the cluster support be immovable, brush, jar, crowd or smoke bees into a box from which they are dumped in front of the hive entrance.

In case of a queen with clipped wings, procedure is more simple. While the swarm is in air, the clipped queen should be found on grass a Report of Inter-Allied Military Control Commission Made Public.

Paris.—The report of the Inter-Allied Military Control Commission, which formed the basis of the Allied note to Germany regarding disarmament, was made public Monday afternoon. The annexes which contain the details of violations of the Treaty of Versailles by the German government, however, were not published.

The Commissioners after resenting the various measures of obstruction which the Germans resorted to prevent effective resumption of control over German armaments, continue with the statement that the evidence collected, despite this obstruction shows that Germany is far from having disarmed as obligated by the Treaty of Versailles.

The document tells how German officials held themselves to be the sole judges of what evidence the Commission ought to be permitted to have and how the keys of offices were lost and found only after documents or other evidence on the Commission was seeking had been removed through side windows.

The members of the Commission, the report states were frequently told on approaching a munitions depot where they had reason to suppose they would find unauthorized stocks, that it was worth their lives to try to open the doors, which had been arranged with powerful mines that would be touched and blown every time the key was turned.

This obstruction, the Commission concludes, was strong evidence in itself that Germany had not complied with the Treaty but it refers to other, more specific evidence, contained in the annexes, which, it is understood are being kept secret because, otherwise, German citizens who had denounced violations to the Commission would be compromised.

Radio was "discovered" by the public four years ago. After the Dempsey-Carpenter fight had been successfully reported by wireless telephone on July 2nd, 1921, the first broadcasting station—a temporary one—was established in New York.

Since then the business has pyramidized as follows:

1921	5,000,000
1922	60,000,000
1923	120,000,000
1924	250,000,000

It is now estimated that there are four million receiving sets owned in the United States with sixteen to eighteen million potential listeners.

The following estimates present a picture of the infant industry:

Manufacturers	2,100
Distributors-jobbers	2,000
Retailers	15,000

It is the contention of leaders in the industry that the mushroom growth of radio resulted in a poorly balanced financial and commercial structure, but that organization's weaknesses are rapidly being corrected.

Healthy Children Are Happy Children

The well child is always a happy child—it is a baby's nature to be happy and contented. Mothers, if your little ones are cross and peevish and cry a great deal they are not well—they are in need of a medicine—something that will set their bowels and stomach in order, for the bowels of all children should move from a disordered state of the bowels and stomach. Such a medicine is Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and thus drive out constipation and indigestion; banish colic; break up colds and simple fevers and make the baby healthy and happy. The Tablets are guaranteed to be absolutely free from opiates or other harmful drugs—they cannot possibly do harm—always good. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SUGGESTIONS ON PRESERVING

Correspondent Believes Profitable Market Can be Worked up in Preparation And Export of Genuine Fruit Juices.

Preserving is one of the most important words today. There is health, wealth, courage, faith, etc., but I am speaking in particular of "Canada's Worth of Pure Fruit Juices."

When I first kept house in Canada years ago we always preserved quantities of Cherries, Straw, Rasp and Blackberries, Currants, Gooseberries, Plums, Quinces and Apples. In late years it became clear to me that the most important part of some of these was the juices. It was less laborious and simpler. I have never regretted making the change. Each time I would have guests they would remark—Why this is the real thing, no one gets pure fruit juices in the cities.

I am sending you, Mr. Editor, today with this article, a sample package of Jelly Powder, Strawberry flavor, chemically manufactured and developed. This is what our American neighbors must use, when we here in Canada can flood them with the best and purest fruit juices.

Is it not time some young genius works up amongst us and took this industry to herself?

The preserving of fruit juices is entirely a woman's business, that is why I alluded in my first article to a Woman's Exchange in each town, where all this work should be done.

Sugar being the other chief component is as cheap as ever today, and is likely to remain so. The enormous sugar crops are kept up to the highest notch, to fill up the gaps created by prohibition.

1. Women's Exchange should control picking of ripe berries and see to a constant, steady supply, for which they pay the picker immediately fixed prices.

2. The cooking of juices should be made at once and the juices kept in barrels and stored in cool places. When cold weather comes they can be bottled or shipped.

Now you ask—How shall we sell them. Let each member of your Exchange send say 1 oz. or 2½ oz. bottle (Pure Gold Extract) as a sample to each relative or friend in the U. S. or Western Canada and ask for orders in pint or quart bottles.

I think 50 cents per pint or $1.00 per quart would be a fair price at the start.

I am sure the quantity ordered by your friends would be sufficient for your output the first season.

You will say where can we get the bottles. Just by asking for them in the papers. Heaps and heaps are lying around in every house and no one has come to collect them and I am sure people would only be too glad to help you.

It is a mistake to think you must start a new business on a large scale. Only by small stages, persisting and persevering, can you succeed today.

You need not advertise; a good article always is the best ad for itself. Later on mass-manufacturing of juices will bring the cost down to a profitable point.

I would suggest—Annapolis Valley Pure Fruit Juice Co.; that is a good name for the future to take up.

There is a National Dessert, famous
