BRIDGETOWN FLOWER SHOW FIRST SINCE 1912 WAS A PROUNOUNCED SUCCESS

The Flower Show held in the Town Hall, Bridgetown, August 20th-21st, was the first of its kind attempted in the town of Bridgetown since the year 1912, when in August of that year a very successful Show was held in the Mason's Halling.

Several of the successful competitors at that show have continued in the growing of flowers, and were prominent among the prize winners again this year. These Veterans were not, however, the only ones skilled in the art of growing flowers as was made evident by the keen competition in the various sections this year; every entry, including the graceful Gladioli to the humble Zinnia, was well up to standard, and added to the beauty and excellency of the show.

It is planned to make this show an annual event, and by so doing it is hoped that many who are lovers of flowers, but who do not grow them will be induced to make a start and thereby foster a love for gardening and enhance the beauty of their respective properties and the community in which they live, whether in town or country.
