

Catholic Notes.

It is estimated that as many as 150,000 pilgrims visited Argenteuil during the novena in honor of the sacred tunic.

The Cathedral in the City of Mexico is 475 feet long, 200 feet wide, and 175 feet high. It has two towers 247 feet high.

At a mission conducted by the Dominicans during the first days of May at Harrisburg, Pa., thirty-five converts were received into the Church.

The A. P. A. is illegal in New Jersey. A new statute, banning the purposes of the vicious society, has been added to the State code.

Cardinal Vaughan says that in England "in the present day, there is scarcely a family in the land but what is obliged to admit, that amongst its kith and kin there were persons who were Catholics."

The Archbishop of New Orleans had an audience with the Pope on June 10, in which His Holiness informed him that he would maintain his policy in regard to the Church in America in its entirety.

It is probable that no city in the world has so strong a series of organizations as the Catholics of New York. The society of the Holy Name, for instance, has five thousand members, all grown men, devoted to securing reverence and respect for the name of God, and to charitable works.

The sacred garment now being exhibited at Argenteuil, a small town to the northwest of Paris, famous for its asparagus beds and fig trees, is declared by the Sacred Congregation of Relics to be the veritable seamless garment or tunic (sadin) which the Saviour wore at the crucifixion.

A native of Ireland recently landed at Greenock, and wanted to take the train to Glasgow.

Never having been in a railway station before, he did not know how to get his ticket, but he saw a lady going in, and determined to follow her lead.

The lady went to the ticket box, and putting down her money, said "Maryhill, single."

A ticket was duly handed to her, and she walked away.

Pat promptly plucked down his money and shouted, "Patrick Murphy, married!"

A Man and a Lamp. A story is going the rounds to the effect that a married lady had a birthday anniversary a short time ago, upon which her husband presented her with a fine piano lamp.

"Well," said she, "you know, dear, it has a good deal of brass about it, it is handsome to look at, it is not remarkably brilliant, requires a good deal of attention, is sometimes unsteady on its legs, liable to explode when half full, flares up occasionally, is always out at bedtime, and is bound to smoke."

It has been asked, "Does advertising pay?" A German journal, the Mainzer Nachrichten, replies to this question by giving the following fact, the authenticity of which it guarantees: A person advertised that he would pay five marks to the sender of the largest potato. In less than fifteen days the clever advertiser found himself in possession of as many sacks full of the very finest potatoes, which, after paying the five marks promised for the largest sample, might be reckoned a very profitable speculation.

The Bank of England is the most extensive banking institution in the world. It employs over 1,000 clerks, and its buildings cover 8 acres.

HOW IS THIS?

Something unique even in these days of mammoth premium offers, is the latest effort of Stafford's Magazine, a New York monthly of home and general reading.

The proposition is to send the magazine one year for one dollar, the regular subscription price, and in addition to send each subscriber fifty-two complete novels during the twelve months; each week.

Think of it. You receive a new and complete novel, by mail, post paid, every week for fifty-two weeks, and in addition you get the magazine once a month for twelve months, all for one dollar. It is an offer which the publishers can only afford to make in the confident expectation of getting a hundred thousand new subscribers. Among the authors in the coming series are Wilkie Collins, Walter Besant, Mrs. Oliphant, Mary Cecil Gray, Florence Marryat, Anthony Trollope, A. Conan Doyle, Miss Braddon, Captain Marryat, Miss Thackeray and Jules Verne. If you wish to take advantage of this unusual opportunity send one dollar for Stafford's Magazine, one year. Your first copy of the magazine, and your first number of the fifty-two novels (one each week) which you are to receive during the year will be sent you by return mail. Remit by P. O.
