

- Côte d'Ivoire: United Nations Operation in Côte d'Ivoire (UNOCI)

Canadian police in Côte d'Ivoire have worked in various positions within UNOCI including HIV/AIDS training, coordinating logistics and Formed Police Units, and heading up a post in Abidjan. These tasks contribute to the restoration of the Ivorian police presence throughout the country including the restructuring of the internal security services, monitoring and mentoring, and ensuring compliance with international criminal justice and human rights standards.

- Democratic Republic of Congo: United Nations Stabilization Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (MONUSCO)

Canadian police officers within MONUSCO worked to build the capacity of the Congolese National Police (CNP) in a variety of areas through monitoring, mentoring and training on CNP reform, selection and training, and human rights and gender issues.

- Kyrgyzstan: Organization for Security and Co-operation (OSCE)

A Canadian police officer, working with the OSCE's Community Security Initiative, assisted in strengthening the professionalism and development of the local police. The Canadian also helped implement community policing practices to support the local police's ability to be more responsive to the needs of the local population.

- Haiti: United Nations Stabilization Mission in Haiti (MINUSTAH)

As Canada's largest deployment, Canadian police officers were a key component of MINUSTAH, which supports the Government of Haiti in restoring the rule of law and contributing to public security through professionalization of the Haitian National Police. Canadian police officers consistently held key leadership roles within MINUSTAH.

- Special Tribunal for Lebanon in The Hague, Netherlands (non-ODA)

A Canadian police officer participated in the Special Tribunal for Lebanon (STL) in The Hague, Netherlands, which is mandated to prosecute persons responsible for the February 2005 attack resulting in the death of former Lebanese Prime Minister Rafic Hariri and the death or injury of others. The Canadian police officer worked with the tribunal to review, collect, source and verify information in order to prepare for trial. Canadian participation ended in October 2012.

- South Sudan: United Nations Mission in South Sudan (UNMISS)

Within UNMISS, Canadian police officers played a key role in the training and mentoring of senior South Sudan National Police Service officers to increase their capacity to provide policing services for the South Sudanese population. Canadian police participation was suspended in February 2013 pending review by Government of Canada officials.

- South Sudan: United Nations Development Programme (UNDP)

Within the UNDP Rule of Law mission, Canadian police officers worked in the Community Security and Arms Control Project (CSAC), which aims to build confidence, security and stability in South Sudanese communities. Canadians provided technical expertise to help assess police services at the state and county level. This includes project management, mentoring, training and advising members of the South Sudan Police Service, and assisting in the planning and installation of police posts within the country.

- West Bank: European Union Police Coordinating Office for Palestinian Police Support (EUPOL COPPS)

Canadian police officers participated in EUPOL COPPS, which supports the Palestinian Authority (PA) in building policing and criminal justice institutions in the West Bank. Canadian police officers assisted the Palestinian Civil Police by training and advising its members, specifically senior officers, on criminal justice and rule of law, in accordance with the best international standards. Canadians sought to assist the PA in making the Palestinian Civil Police a competent security force based on the principles of democratic policing, neutrality and community service.