

HAMILTON NEWS
TROOPS ARE READY FOR WINTER'S WORK

Three Thousand Men in All Are to Be Quartered in Hamilton.

RECRUITING RESUMED
Endeavor Will Be Made to Secure Hospital Accommodation for Soldiers.

HAMILTON, Thursday, Nov. 11.—Now that the big military trek is over, manoeuvres in this city will be a thing of the past, with the possible exception of a parade by the different units which are stationed here, consisting of the Hamilton Machine Gun Battery, 12th Royal Regiment, 91st Highlanders, Mounted Rifles and Dragoon Battalion.

Yesterday the mechanical transport was busy picking up the field equipment at the various camps along the route and by today the last signs of the big trek will have disappeared. The 96th spent yesterday in preparing their quarters at the army, where they will winter. Drill for them will start immediately at Victoria Park on Monday.

Asked when the machine guns for the battalion were expected, Lieut.-Col. Stewart said that while definite word had been received, he had been given to understand from a semi-official source that a few guns would be along shortly to permit of the training of the men in their operation.

The suggestion has been made that one of the women's organizations of the city might undertake the work of providing the corps with a set of colors. The local militia regiments have both regiments and the King's Own Rifles, but few of the active service battalions have any. It is thought that one of the chapters of the Daughters of the Empire, under the task of supplying the 86th with a set of King's and regimental colors.

Liquor Restrictions. Official notification was received yesterday by Major Robertson and Lieut.-Colonel Stewart that the military authorities and Ontario Liquor Commission had placed all liquor stores in this military district out of bounds for soldiers at all hours and all day long.

Recruiting is neither on the ebb nor flow, but maintaining the usual average of 25 enlistments a day. The 12th Royal Regiment yesterday took on 15, while the 91st Highlanders took on the remainder. Now that troops are no longer interfere with their work, the recruiting sergeants are working on the quiet corners of the city. The long-expected uniforms have not arrived yet and at the depot, Lieut. Webber of the 91st Highlanders has 170 men out yesterday, of whom only a dozen were in uniform. Arrangements for the entire depot were set down, however, the number of medals will be lessened upon their arrival.

Americans Ready. Lieut.-Col. Labatt, who has had much to do with the being about the organization of the American-born battalion, announced yesterday that recruiting would commence locally with a day or two. At the present time they had enlisted, and as soon as they had completed they will be sent to Toronto for the 27th, as the Americans will be mobilized at that time. It is not proposed to train any of the men in Hamilton.

It had practically been decided that Hamilton will have another thousand soldiers remain here over the winter, making about three thousand in all. No more is being sent to the front. The master-Sergeant, Bentham and Controller of the construction of buildings in the city, old Gage Avenue School, and two weeks the officers and men will be able to occupy their quarters.

Hospital Accommodations. Following a communication from Lt.-Colonel Macdonald, A.D.M.S., second division, a special military hospital opened in Hamilton. The Mills hospital, on East Barton street, will be used, accommodating about twenty-five patients. As it is desired to provide for about fifty patients, it is likely that the offer of ex-Ald. H. G. Wright, who has offered to donate the use of a large house, on King street, opposite the hospital.

Lieut. Fearman, 91st Highlanders, had the 2nd corps out to practice at the armories last night, following which the regiment, under the command of Lieut.-Col. Bruce, had a short route march through the city.

It is now believed that the proposed draft of 150 men from D Company, Hamilton Machine Gun Battalion, will be back, owing to changes made by the military authorities.

Drafts from the 30th, 31st and 40th regiments, now stationed at Toronto, and composed largely of Hamilton men, will be sent overseas within a few days. Lieut. Hargrave and Wallace will command the 40th draft.

TWO THOUSAND BIRDS AT THE POULTRY SHOW
Annual Fall Exhibition Brings Out Fine Display of Stock.

HAMILTON, Thursday, Nov. 11.—The annual fall show of the Hamilton and West North York Poultry Association has been a big success. Large crowds have been attending yesterday's afternoon and evening shows. The poultry show of the year. While not so many birds were entered as in former years, the quality is considerably better, and keen competition is waged in every class. There is experienced difficulty in awarding the prizes. Nearly 2,000 birds of all kinds are shown, besides many pigeons, rabbits, ducks and other pets. The majority of the classes have been judged and the remaining prizes will be awarded this morning.

HOWELL-LAMOND.
HAMILTON, Thursday, Nov. 11.—The wedding took place yesterday in the parlour of the Centenary Methodist Church of the Rev. George Lamond to Mr. Walter Howell. The bride, Miss H. Williams, officiated. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Howell are for a trip to Buffalo and other eastern cities.

ORDER INCLUDES UNUNIFORMED MEN

A New Wording for "Out of Bounds" Order.

BARS AND NOT HOTELS
Overseas Men Only Kept Out of Where Liquor is Sold.

A new wording for the "out of bounds" order was issued by Col. W. A. Logie yesterday afternoon. It now reads:

"Regulations of hours for the sale of intoxicating liquor to soldiers, second division area:

"All liquor stores are placed out of bounds to all soldiers, whether in uniform or out of uniform.

"All bars are placed out of bounds to all soldiers, whether in uniform or out of uniform, except between the hours of 5 p.m. and 8 p.m."

The two changes from yesterday's order are that soldiers wearing uniforms are now brought within the order; and that the last clause has been changed to read "bars" instead of "hotels."

Five Battalions at Once.
When asked about the suggestion of Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia, that Toronto raise twenty new overseas battalions, Col. Logie stated yesterday that "no orders to raise twenty battalions in Toronto had been received," but that "we have been instructed to raise fifteen battalions in this division. Five of these are raised at once in Toronto, and ten in other districts."

He said that after the Grenadiers Overseas Battalion had been completed, another battalion would be organized to be commanded by Lieut.-Col. Vaux Chadwick, and the 43rd B.E.F. and 8th Miscellaneous Horse would be the chief organizing factors.

Seventy-Four Enlist.
Seventy-four men were enlisted for active service in Toronto yesterday. It was an increase of 26 as compared with the previous day, and brings the total for the week up to 254.

Col. Logie Pleas.
Col. Logie has notified all the registrars taking part in the drive from Niagara to Toronto of his pride and satisfaction with the "magnificent spirit" and "wonderful show" shown during the whole tactical movement.

Some 542 men of the 84th Battalion were in the city yesterday afternoon, on the trek back from Niagara, under the command of Major Jesse G. Wright and Colonel W. T. Stewart. The two companies in uniform were the 1st and 2nd, and left for their place at 2.30.

The major and Controller Thompson met the men at the Humbert and escorted them into the city with the 10th band. The major regretted they were not to spend the winter in Toronto, as they were entirely a Toronto unit.

In Accord With Ministers.
Major Le Grand Reed, chief recruiting officer for Toronto, stated last night that the recruiting depot was nearly in accord with the Ministerial Association.

He declared that the Sunday night meetings in the theatres would continue as in the past, but that also were going to use the pulpits which the ministers had been so courteous in offering to them.

Another Khaki Club.
A second "khaki club" for the active service soldiers in Toronto has been opened at the St. Andrew's Church Institute Building, at 71 St. Andrew street. It is open from 5 to 9 p.m. on week-days and from 4 to 9 on Sundays. It has been arranged by a committee of ladies of the congregation of New St. Andrew's Church. Every man in uniform is welcomed.

There are reading and billiard rooms, a new "khaki club" with a bowling alley, gymnasium, shower baths and light refreshments.

The 91st Rifles paraded at the armories last night with Lt.-Col. L. Levesconte, commanding. The guard duty, including men on guard duty, was 877.

Fifth University Camp.
Capt. J. Kelly has received authorization for a fifth university camp in Toronto. Toronto will supply one platoon (sixty men).

Thirty-five recruits for a new platoon in the Divisional Cyclists' Corps are being called for by Lieut. M. Macdonald, O.C. of the Corps of Guides. The cyclists will be commanded by Lieut. R. C. Saunders. Applicants are asked to enquire at the armories.

From now on the civic motor cars which will take returned soldiers to the station to their homes will stand with signs showing that the men riding in them are war heroes.

Captain R. D. Panton promoted. A notice received from Shorncliffe, England, that Captain R. D. Panton, formerly of Toronto, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and attached to the No. 8 General Hospital, which is slated for service at a Mediterranean theatre.

Promotions of five of the non-commissioned officers of the 37th Overseas Battalion are announced, as follows: Sergeant, signaller, will command the 2nd signaller, in place of Lieut. Dudley Waters, who was transferred to Ottawa; a lieutenant, Corp. Wallis of the signaller will be signal officer and a lieutenant, Corp. G. W. B. Kinneir will become lieutenant in command of the signaller of the 85th Battalion, Quartermaster, Corp. G. W. B. Kinneir will be a machine gun officer, and Sergeant, McQueen, physical drill instructor of Col. Sharp's battalion.

No Particulars Yet.
Particulars regarding the death of Pte. Geo. C. Mowbray, 288 Warren road, Toronto, have not yet been received. He died very shortly after being wounded while at the front with the 20th Battalion. This battalion was in camp at Exhibition Park on Tuesday.

At a meeting of representatives of the drilling battalions at the Market Col. Galway reported that the Women's Auxiliary Corps would rent a suitable place for their headquarters in the city. He said that the Irish Red Cross, Property Commission, had objected to turning out other organizations.

He decided to also be granted use of the Toronto Civilian Rifle Association and the Irish regiment on all nights, and the Rifle Association stated that they were doing good work by interesting civilians in military drill, and were getting many new members.

CANADA STANDING UP UNDER TEST

Sir George E. Foster Reviews Effect of War on the Dominion.

SOLIDIFYING EMPIRE
Every Blow of Mailed Fist Makes the Bonds Stronger.

Sir George E. Foster did not have much to say about the war and military matters to the members of the Dominion and its growing responsibilities, until at the present crisis it was called upon to take its stand with the nations of the world in a fight for the defence of freedom and the rights of weaker nations to exist.

Other speakers were E. A. Donovon, M.L.A., of Brockville; W. K. McNaught, Controllers Foster and Thompson, and Miles Vokes. All complimented Toronto on the splendid showing of its troops on parade, and on the ready responses of its citizens to the calls for funds for Red Cross, patriotic and recruiting fund purposes.

The general trend of his remarks was more on the development of the Dominion and its growing responsibilities, until at the present crisis it was called upon to take its stand with the nations of the world in a fight for the defence of freedom and the rights of weaker nations to exist.

At Testing Time.
After a brief review of the administration policies of Canada, its growth along industrial lines, and the development of a splendid transportation system, Sir George said that the Dominion had arrived at a great testing time. Canada and the British Empire he said, had stood the test in times of peace, but now in a war of which it would not be saying too much that, putting all the past wars of the world into one as regards the distribution of the war, methods and equipment, and the effects of the fighting, it was yet even a greater conflict than these former wars. Canada, he said, had stood the test in times of peace, but now in a war of which it would not be saying too much that, putting all the past wars of the world into one as regards the distribution of the war, methods and equipment, and the effects of the fighting, it was yet even a greater conflict than these former wars.

Solidified Empire.
The German people he continued, inoculated with their ideals of civilization in their possession was to be sent to the front of the country, but stated that the destination was the United States. The chief decided that the police commissioner had better take charge of the money until after the war, and allowed the men to go.

Serious Offense Charged.
George Hacken, 202 East Queen street; Amos Battrie, 1411 Yonge street; Alexander Secour, 206 Dundas street; John Shibly, 336 Yonge street, were charged yesterday morning by Detectives Maure and McConnell on a charge of having poor German papers in their possession. Under Order-in-Council 31, police have power to arrest those carrying papers of an anti-British nature. The fine or 20 days' imprisonment, or both.

DROWNING ACCIDENTAL.
The jury under Coroner W. J. O'Neil at the Morgue last night returned a verdict of accidental drowning at the inquest on the body of W. A. Duran, aged 20, of 11 Alma avenue. Duran was drowned in the bay on Nov. 4, when he missed his footing while crossing from a tug on which he was working to a platform, and fell into the bay.

KNOX NOT FOR UNION.
Voting to date on church union at Knox Presbyterian Church is more advanced than ever. The results are as follows: For church union, 130; against, 45 members and 20 adherents. The previous vote taken registered 100 for and 236 against.

JOINT COUNCIL OF THE ALLIES

Britain, France, Russia and Italy Are Expected to Participate.

WILL AID CAMPAIGN
Asquith Makes Announcement Also of Reforms in War Office.

The public was aware, was composed of very able, distinguished officers, no less than 26 of whom had actual experience in the present war.

With regard to the relations between the British staff and those of the allied powers, it would be a great mistake, the premier said, to suppose that they had been living in watertight compartments without communicating with one another. There was a British military attaché at French headquarters, and a distinguished French officer in attendance at the war office in London, while arrangements now had been made for more intimate cooperation, and for the interchange of views for common development of plans for all the military operations in the different theatres of war. A distinguished French staff officer, the premier stated, will be in daily communication with the general staff at the British war office, and Great Britain is sending to France officers instructed with a like mission.

"It is more than possible," added the premier, "that this organization may be still further developed."

Common War Council.
"I am bringing no secret," continued the premier, "when I say that the distinguished man who now holds the post of prime minister of France is anxious—and I am as anxious as he is—that we should develop the system of informal occasional conferences, which has taken place in the last few months, into a permanent body, into something more definite and better organized. Neither he, nor I, is without something in the nature of a common war council, on which shall sit ministers of the crown and ministers of the republic, which will, with the expert advice of their united general staffs, control and direct our conjoint military and naval operations."

To Increase Efficiency.
"I do not place any limit on the extent to which this co-operation will be carried, and we shall be only too glad to increase it. It is my hope that the purpose I have indicated, with a broad-based, well-considered and sympathetically-worked system of that kind we have every confidence that the operations of the war will be still more efficiently conducted and co-ordinated in the future than in the past, and that the fine spirit and resources of the allies will bring the war to a triumphant conclusion."

Mobilization of Assets.
The adjournment of the house having been moved to enable the debate to take place, Lord Curzon, Unionist member for Colchester, expressed surprise that the prime minister had not given the house a comprehensive survey of the financial policy instead of details of the daily expenditure. He suggested that the government should mobilize the nation's assets and ascertain exactly what foreign securities were held in the country, and, if necessary, submit to their being requisitioned by the government for the purpose of supporting national credit.

Leifchild Jones, Liberal, was confident that great economy could be effected by the supervision of contractors. Henry E. Duke, Unionist, condemned the extravagance of the public departments. There was not a member of the house, he said, who was not aware of the waste arising from slovenly methods being in control. There had not been the stringent, pitiless control needed for economy.

A long debate followed, covering the financial, military and naval policy. The chief complaint of the members was to the effect that Premier Asquith had not given a comprehensive review of what Sir Joseph Hamilton described as the "grave financial situation," that no steps had been taken to enforce economy, and that the supervision of expenditure had not been strict enough.

ALLIED NATIONS WILL MAKE THEIR OWN GOODS
Hon. George E. Foster Speaks of Conditions After the War.

Sir George Foster, who was at the National Club yesterday, stated in an interview that the antagonism and rivalry of the nations would probably reflect itself in two forms of treaty and tariff arrangements after the war.

"It is only natural to suppose that the allied nations will very largely undertake to manufacture in their own countries goods that had previously been imported. Necessity will teach them that, and what they have begun they will most likely be able to continue," concluded the minister of trade and commerce.

SUITS OF CHARACTER
Hickey's Clothes Are Finished With the Finesse of the Expert Tailor.

When a man decides on a new suit or overcoat he gives earnest consideration to the quality, texture and finished lines of the wares offered by the different tailoring firms before making purchase. He rightly looks for the best value and character in his attire. That requirement is measured up to in the offerings of Hickey's, the high-class clothes and haberdashery store on Yonge street. The clothes are finished with the finesse of the expert tailor and are guaranteed to please.

LORDS CALL FOR RIGID ECONOMY

Lord Devonport Suggests That Separation Allowances Are Too High.

GLOOMY PROPHECIES
Forced Loan May Become Necessary Unless Outlay is Cut Down.

The government would have to resort to a forced loan. "We cannot go on indefinitely and maintain our financial solvency," he said. "There is no doubt that the next year's loan will be subscribed. But what the loan after that, and the loan after that, that is what is at stake."

Allowances too Generous.
Could not the government, he continued, close the door to goods not essential to the country's existence? He estimated that the country imported from $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 worth of goods annually, could be well done without. The government well done without. The government well done without. The government well done without.

"The government," he declared, "is urged, should have courage to renege the system of separation allowances, so that no family should be more than it received before the war. This would save from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 a year."

Army and navy pay sheets should also be rigidly scrutinized, because living on the public purse who were giving no adequate return in service. "Rackless Expenditure."

Baron Joicey, who is a large colliery owner, speaking as one connected with commercial affairs, said he had no hesitation in saying that the financial situation of the country at the present time was causing a great deal of anxiety. He declared, "The government did not seem ready to grasp the financial position, the waste, extravagance and reckless expenditure taking place through the country in connection with military affairs."

In reply the Marquis of Crewe said that everybody now realized the national strain imposed by the war. The importation of munitions and loans to the allies and dominions represented $1,750,000,000 for a half year. It was obvious, therefore, that financial anxiety must be principally on the question of the foreign exchange. He did not think he would like to change positions with Germany, where the question of foreign exchange was relatively small.

Lord Crewe said that the savings proposed would amount to some $250,000,000. He concluded, by expressing the conviction that for the whole course of the war sound international finance and domestic economy should go hand in hand.

"If this is persevered in," he said, "we will find when the war is ended that we are standing on the moral rock of financial stability, while our enemies will be foundering deeply in the swamp into which their feet are already beginning to subside."

The debate will be resumed tomorrow.
