

BRITISH GOVERNMENT WILL NOT INTERFERE IN INDUSTRIAL WAR

Will Limit Its Action to Safeguarding Life and Property.

London, Aug. 4.—The government has decided to revert to its pre-war policy of non-interference in industrial disputes, says The Daily Mail today. During the war the government was compelled to prevent strikes and lock-outs and impose terms which were often costly for the state, but henceforth it will leave employers and workers to adjust their own differences, limiting government action to safeguarding life and property and maintaining essential public services.

Monday was generally quiet in the strike areas, the rioting in Liverpool was not renewed.

Riotous crowds were driven from the streets early this morning by troops charging with fixed bayonets. The rioters filled the streets during the night, and it was not until daylight that the soldiers were ordered to charge. The cruiser Valiant and two destroyers have moved in to the Mersey River to protect the docks.

The employees of bus and tramway lines failed to report for work this morning. No notice of a strike had been given, but it is not believed that the movement was taken in sympathy with the policemen's strike.

Damage by Rioting.
The rioting thus far has resulted in damage to the extent of $1,250,000, it is estimated. Nearly 200 small shops have been wrecked and looted. One man has been killed, two others wounded by shots and 70 or 80 by glass, stones or police batons. There have been 400 arrests.

The strike of the engineers of the Southwestern Railway hampered service throughout the day and at a late hour this evening the shops were thronged with people waiting for trains. The officials express confidence that the strike will not spread. There is nothing at present to indicate that the strikers are backed by their union or are supported by the National Union of Railwaysmen.

Yorkshire miners voted today on a proposed endorsement of their leaders' action in refusing the government's terms to settle the strike, in which more than 200,000 men still are out.

Herbert Smith, president of the Yorkshire Miners' Association, said branches of the organization are passing resolutions approving the decision not to accept the government's plan.

ESCAPED CONVICT CHASED IN CAR

Required Several Shots Before Latimer Surrendered to Police.

Gun play from motor cars featured the arrest at 5:30 yesterday morning of James Latimer, Saville street, a member of the gang of drugstore looters sentenced to long terms at Buxton during the last criminal sessions. Latimer was sentenced to 18 months at Buxton, and while being escorted on the train to the prison he slipped, Guard Hill, and, leaping from the train window while the train was traveling at a fast rate, made good his escape.

Policemen Vernon and White of East Dundas street station were responsible for the arrest of Latimer. They were driving down Saville street in the police car when they were passed by a motor car. Glancing at the motor license number, the police remembered that the car had been reported stolen, and they tried out to Latimer to stop. Latimer speeded up the car and drove on up Saville street to Winchester, where he turned east along Winchester to Sumach, south on Sumach to Gerrard, and over the Don bridge. When Vernon and White reached the bridge, the police car stalled, and Latimer increased his lead by continuing east on Gerrard street. A passerby with a high-powered car was stopped by the police, and, getting into the car, the officers resumed the chase.

Opened Fire.
Nearing Boston avenue they were gaining on Latimer, and getting within a few yards of the stolen car, Vernon and White opened fire with their revolvers. Several shots were fired in the air, but this did not stop Latimer. The policemen then aimed three shots at the rear tires. After a number of shots had been fired, Latimer gave himself up and drove the stolen car alongside of the curbstone. He was taken to No. 4 station, where Station Duty Constable Campbell recognized Latimer as being the prisoner who had escaped from custody. The automobile was the one stolen from the garage of George Gardiner, 1560 Danforth avenue, Saturday morning. The garage was broken into and the car and several suits of clothing stolen. Latimer was charged with shopbreaking.

The gang arrested several weeks ago and sentenced to imprisonment were the burglars who were robbing drug stores all over the city. They used motor cars and usually made entrance to the stores by forcing the front doors with "jimmies" and Morphine and cocaine were usually stolen from the stores by the gang. A "jimmy" was found on Latimer's car, the police stated, when they arrested him yesterday.

The police learned last night that a civilian had attempted to arrest Latimer on the Kingston road Saturday afternoon. The civilian was driving south on the Kingston road when he recognized Latimer, and knowing he was wanted by the police, he drove. Latimer suddenly drove his car to the roadside and the civilian, who was speeding, was unable to stop his car for some distance. Latimer swung his car down a side street and disappeared.

There are some things beyond the scope of the human mind, and wise is the man who is willing to let it go at that.

LAST RITES TODAY

The remains of the late Kenneth D. Rogers of the postal staff will be laid to rest this afternoon at Mount Pleasant cemetery. With all military honors his friends will pay their final respects to the memory of a decidedly conscientious and popular man, an athlete and a man who would have made his mark in life. Although Ken Rogers was well connected in Toronto, being related to Dr. Naamith and Colonel Bert Rogers, he was always one of the boys, and in common with many another fine type of Canadian, renounced his commission so that he might get on to the real fighting line.

PHOTOGRAPH SALON AT EXHIBITION

International Display Includes Three Hundred Examples in All Processes.

An international photographic salon will be one of the features at the Canadian National Exhibition this year. A. S. Goss, M. O. Hammond, Dr. King and the members of the Toronto Camera Club have been diligently working on the plans since early spring and have received entries from England, Holland, the United States, France, Australia and Canada to the number of three hundred prints. The committee are now at work unpacking and selecting the pictures, which will be shown in the big centre wing of the Applied Arts Gallery.

The prints so far unpacked show a high standard of artistic merit and include samples of all the different processes in use at the present time in the youngest of the pictorial arts.

Canadian Paintings.
The Applied Arts building will also house the Canadian paintings this year. Because of the great amount of space required for the war memorials paintings it was felt for a time that the Canadian section should be abandoned this year. All the wall space in the fine arts gallery and a new addition, 130 x 30 feet, to the rear, is needed for the war paintings. However, the artists have taken the patriotic stand that the war memorials should be given precedence and are entering freely from the exhibition in the applied arts gallery, where two wings will be given over to the miscellaneous Canadian section, thus preserving the continuity of the old established display at the Exhibition.

R. F. Gagen, secretary of the Exhibition fine arts commission, who has been sketching in Maine, will return this week when the work of selecting the paintings will be proceeded with.

HIS TECHNICAL POINT

"I thought you were going to have a car and some new fur when the war was over."

"I was, but my husband says the peace terms aren't signed yet, and the war may break out again any minute."

RUMANIAN TROOPS REACH BUDAPEST

Calvary Barracks in Outskirts Placed at Disposal of Force.

Budapest, Aug. 4.—The outskirts of Budapest were occupied today by Rumanian troops that advanced from the River Theiss, in spite of representations made by Lieut.-Col. Romanelli, the Italian representative of the allies at Vienna.

When the Rumanian troops arrived at the city boundary of Budapest, where they were met by Joseph Haubrich, war minister in the new Hungarian government, and the burgomaster, the Rumanian commander, Gen. Burescu, informed them he had no instructions to occupy the city itself, but only the country up to the city boundary, according to Budapest advice. He said he would not interfere with the preservation of order in the capital.

Minister Haubrich placed two cavalry barracks in the outer confines of the city at the disposal of the Rumanians and issued an order enjoining the inhabitants to maintain good behavior toward the Rumanians on pain of severe penalties.

Two Regiments in City.
Berlin, Aug. 4.—According to newspaper reports received here Gen. Burescu, the Rumanian commander, decided to occupy Budapest for strategic reasons, but was persuaded by Lieut.-Col. Romanelli, chief of the Italian mission at Vienna, to content himself with two regiments as the occupying force.

Joseph Haubrich, war minister in the new Hungarian cabinet, agreed with Gen. Burescu, according to the reports, to demobilize and disarm the Red army immediately, except for 4,000 soldiers in Budapest and 20,000 in the remainder of the country to preserve order.

The Zeitung Mittag prints a despatch from Vienna which says that the entente is sending 5,000 men to Budapest at the request of the Hungarian government.

PRINCE OF WALES OPENS PARLIAMENT SEPTEMBER FIRST

Will Also Lay Cornerstone of Tower of New Buildings—Expect Short Session.

Ottawa, Aug. 4.—Parliament meets on Monday, September 1. On the same day the Prince of Wales will lay the corner stone of the tower of the new parliament buildings. It is also stated he will open parliament.

The session is not expected to last more than four or five weeks. Ratification of the peace treaty will be the principal business. Since prorogation on July 7, there has been considerable correspondence with the imperial government in regard to the necessity of early ratification of the treaty. Already a bill to approve ratification has passed both houses at Westminster and received the royal assent. Deposit of the British ratification is therefore but a formal step, awaiting the approval of the overseas parliaments. Through the correspondence, it is authoritatively stated, the Dominion government has taken the stand that before the formal deposit of the ratification at Paris the communication from the imperial government on the subject emphasizes the urgency. For this reason parliament has been summoned to meet four weeks from today.

While consideration of the peace treaty itself will be the primary business before parliament, there will necessarily arise the question of continuing legislation in connection with the war measures.

Prohibition and Racing.
With the proclamation of peace, the war measures set will cease to exist, and with it will terminate the life of the Dominion order-in-council prohibiting the manufacture, importation and inter-provincial trade in alcoholic liquors, the order-in-council forbidding race-track betting and a number of others. During the session, which closed a month ago, the government brought in a bill to continue the prohibition order-in-council for twelve months after the termination of the war. But a second reading was not completed.

Another bill will be introduced to reclassify the bill which was still on the order paper when parliament prorogued and there is the bill to continue the law prohibiting the sale of liquor in operation. Both will, no doubt, be brought before parliament in the coming session.

It is fully realized here that the date set for the opening of parliament will be somewhat inconvenient for those engaged in active farming operations, but the necessity of the situation, it is emphasized, had made it necessary to take the course which has been taken.

There will further be a double ceremony in Ottawa on the first of September. The gathering of members of parliament on that date, it is felt, will be very appropriate for the laying of the corner stone by the Prince of Wales. Members will further be afforded an opportunity of being present.
