LABOR POLED BY VOTE JACOBS HAD OVER 2000 BALLOTS BUT MAJOR BEATTIE WON

East Northumberland Also Returned Owens, Conservative—North Wellington Elected Martin, Liberal—Contests Quiet and Not Much Interest Shown.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The contest here to-day resulted in the election of Major Beattie, the Conservative candidate, by over one thousand majority. The result was not unexpected. That it was no worse adds considerable comfort to those who have a close understanding of ways political in London. The Labor candidate is defeated, but neither he nor the men who have espoused his cause have any need to feel ashamed of the result.

John D. Jacobs polled 2173 votes. That means that over two thousand men are independent to think over questions of public interest and record their votes in favor of a progressive platform. These votes largely represent themselves. There was no organization to compel them to come out, and there was no money to entice them. These men recorded their votes through what under difficulties, too. On Saturday last a decided vote was made to lay off men in several of the large shops in the city. No less than forty men were laid off in one shop. In that shop before this there were about one hundred pledged to vote for Jacobs. There were no more than ten or fifteen votes at the outside polled for him.

That was true of other shops. Workmen in many instances were afraid that their jobs were in jeopardy, and on account of the hard-times coming, which were more than vaguely hinted at by many employers of labor, the workmen decided in large numbers to remain at home and refrain from voting. The workmen did not record his vote in nearly his full strength, and the result is obvious. The Liberals turned out much better than was anticipated, and a considerable percentage of them voted for the Labor candidate. The party made absolutely no effort at registration, and consequently a large portion of their usual voting strength was lost. They did not swing to Beattie, as it was hinted they would, because John D. Jacobs polled over one thousand votes less than Billy Gray in his last election. They polled a good majority. That Major Beattie regards W. F. Jackson as a dangerous man was clearly evidenced to-night, when he called him a socialist. He declared that the election clearly taught the Socialists from Toronto, Montreal and Hamilton that the people of London wanted no interference. But the fact still remains, that to-night the Liberal candidate secured a vote which was equal to the credit for the good vote polled by the Labor candidate, and it is a good vote, is the member for South York. That is a vote which should be given to the Liberal candidate, and it is a good vote, is the member for South York. That is a vote which should be given to the Liberal candidate, and it is a good vote, is the member for South York.

In addition to that, he will have to face Hyman and the Labor party in all probability in the coming general election, and the future is bright with any degree of comfort for the party.

Small Votes in London. LONDON, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Major Thomas Beattie was elected in every ward, a majority of 1086, securing a majority in every ward.

EAST NORTHUMBERLAND. CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 29.—The election in East Northumberland, to fill the seat left vacant by the death of Edward Cochrane, was held to-day, and resulted in the election by the majority of 256 of the Conservative candidate, Mr. C. L. Owens.

The Liberal candidate was Major Mulholland. Both candidates are residents of Campbellford. The town of Campbellford and the adjoining Township of Seymour furnished the bulk of Mr. Owens' majority. Campbellford giving a majority of 84 and Seymour a majority of 93 for the Conservative candidate.

At Campbellford, when the result became known, a large procession was formed, and headed by the band, marched through the principal streets. On the corner of Front and Bridge streets, the member-elect addressed the large crowd for a few minutes, who were the citizens of Campbellford for their good support. He also his friends through the constituency for their noble support. He would represent them to the best of his ability, and would stand only for an honest government, and would support any good measure that he considered to be for the benefit of the people. After the address the procession returned to his home, where he was carried by his many warm friends and supporters to his home.

Colborne Village gave the Liberal candidate a majority of 23. This village has always gone Conservative before, but, owing to the fact that the government is building a new dock, the people here took this way of showing their appreciation of the same. Some of the figures from East Northumberland follow: Brighton Town gave Owens majority of 40; Brighton Township, Owens, 19; Campbellford,

ENGINE BURSTS TWO MEN ARE KILLED

Accident on G.T.R. at Newbury—Railway Commissioners On Wrecked Train.

THE DEAD. R. RUTHERFORD, engineer, London. J. ROBERTSON, fireman, London.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—By the explosion of Grand Trunk engine 446, near Newbury, last night, Engineer R. Rutherford and Fireman J. Robertson were instantly killed. This was an accommodation train, bound from Chatham to London (No. 26). Of the 13 passengers, several are believed to have sustained serious injuries. The railway commission's special car was attached to the train, but none of the commissioners was injured. A special train with six physicians was sent out from London. The train was running at a fair speed at the time of the explosion. It is believed that the water in the boiler had run low, and that the injection of cold water caused the accident. The railway commissioners arrived at London early this morning, via Glencoe. Chairman Killam took charge of the work of rescue at the wreck.

He said that the reciprocal trade treaty should be arranged between the two countries, and that it should be mutually advantageous. SIR FRED. WON'T RESIGN SUPREME COURT HEAR G.T.R. APPEAL

Minister of Militia Declines to Follow the Precedent Set by Mr. Emmerson When Bringing Action for Libel.

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—It is stated here to-night in usually well-informed circles that Sir Frederick Laurier has called for the resignation of Sir Frederick Borden, and that the minister of militia has refused to resign. By Canadian law, the premier, of himself, cannot enforce his demand.

This action on the part of the premier is the outcome of the libel action instituted by Sir Frederick against The Nineteenth Century Magazine of London, which, in an article by Hamilton Fyfe, repeated the story told by The Calgary Eye-Opener, that a Canadian cabinet minister had been implicated in an unsavory incident. No name was mentioned, but Sir Frederick Borden, considering the scandal leveled against himself, is pursuing the magazine. Previous experience shows the premier's attitude in matters of this kind. When the Hon. H. R. Emmerson resigned under somewhat similar circumstances last session, he did so in the following terms: "Feeling, as I do, that it would be unfair to you, the premier, to my colleagues and to the party generally, that I should be under such an imputation while occupying a place in your cabinet, I have, therefore, to ask you to accept my resignation as minister of railways and canals."

In announcing the resignation to the house, Sir Wilfrid said: "The minister of railways and canals absolutely denies the truth of the allegations, and in order to better vindicate his character, has tendered his resignation, and it has been accepted."

The refusal of Sir Frederick Borden to adopt a similar course to that of Emmerson is inexplicable, the it is stated that the minister of militia will change his mind within a very short while.

OLD MEDICINE CONTAIN A POISON?

Analysis to Determine Cause of Mr. Polson's Death May Involve Large Accident Policy.

Prof. W. H. Ellis, provincial analyst, is analyzing the stomach of F. B. Polson, president of the Polson Iron Works, who was found dead at his home, 4 Beaumont-road, Monday afternoon.

Dr. Harry B. Anderson performed a post-mortem Monday afternoon, in which he was assisted by Dr. E. B. Elliott, the attending physician, Dr. Walter P. Thomson, brother-in-law of the deceased, and Chief Coroner Arthur Jules Johnson. The analysis is to determine whether a prescription given Mr. Polson by a Chicago specialist, and which he had been taking up to the time of his death, had anything to do with the cause of death, which a post-mortem did not wholly explain. A bottle containing a quantity of this prescription was also turned over to Prof. Ellis for analysis.

It is not thought by any of the physicians that Mr. Polson had any knowledge that the medicine contained dangerous ingredients, if, indeed, it did contain any such, nor is there the remotest suspicion that any drug was administered either by the deceased or anyone else. No death certificate has yet been filed, but will be filed to-day.

The post-mortem, which as yet is incomplete, discovered an inflamed condition of the digestive organs, and a further indication of a poison which might, however, have been generated in the organs themselves. One matter upon which the outcome of these examinations will bear is the claim of Mr. Polson's estate to the proceeds of an accident policy of $30,000, which would be payable in the event of accidental poisoning being shown to its cause.

A World reporter called upon Dr. Elliott last night. The doctor said that he had been attending Mr. Polson since Saturday, when he had complained of indigestion. He had remained in bed on Sunday and had not risen on Monday. "I had not looked for any fatal termination of the illness," said Dr. Elliott, "and I was terribly shocked when I called at the house about 2 o'clock Monday, to learn that Mr. Polson was dead. Having regard to his prominence and because he had told me of taking this medicine, of the contents of which I am still ignorant, I decided that the best course would be to have a post-mortem performed. I called in the best doctors I could and also summoned the chief coroner."

"The outcome of this, while it is still incomplete, decided us to have the analysis taken both of the contents of the stomach and the contents of the bottle."

"I want you to say, so that there may be no sensation, that there is absolutely no suspicion that Polson knowingly took his own life or that poison was administered by another."

KING AND QUEEN OF SPAIN WITH PRINCE IN LONDON

Populace Displayed Great Interest in Infant Heir to Spanish Throne.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The king and queen of Spain arrived in London to-night. It was raining hard, but in spite of the depressing weather their majesties were met at the railway station by members of the English royal family and the Spanish ambassador to Great Britain, Senor Villa y Urrutia. The visitors drove at once to Kensington Palace, where they will reside until next Monday. They will then visit King Edward and Queen Alexandra at Sandringham.

The London populace displayed the greatest interest to-night in the infant son of the Spanish king and queen. "CHERBOURG, France, Oct. 29.—The king and queen of Spain had another close escape from injury or death early to-day. The journey from Paris was made in safety, until just as they were entering Cherbourg, when it ran off the rails. The royal party escaped injury.

HOTELMEN MAY BUILD BREWERY If They Can't Get a Reduction in the Wholesale Prices.

The Toronto hotelkeepers held a meeting yesterday to consider the increase made by the brewers in the price of beer and ale. It was unanimously decided that the rise of $1 a barrel was not justified by the rise in the price of malt.

It was resolved to offer the brewers 50 cents a barrel increase, and a deputation of 28 hotelkeepers will meet the brewers to make this offer. In the event of its not being accepted, the meeting pledged itself to build a new brewery and run it on co-operative lines. It was decided not to raise the price of beer and ale to customers, also, but as soon as existing stocks of city-gars were sold out, to sell only union casks, made in Toronto. The retail liquor stores will raise the price of bottled ale and beer on Monday—quarts 10 cents and pints 15 cents a dozen.

One of the leading brewers said last night that the increase in price was not excessive, in view of the very heavy increase in the cost of production. Malt, which could be had last year at 70 cents a bushel, is now hard to obtain at $1.25. Owing to the failure of the crop in the west and the partial failure here, barley is hard to get, and even United States brewers are coming to this province in an endeavor to get supplies. Only one brewer in the city has yet begun to malt, and this is usually under way early in October.
