

Rowat's Special Tea

Buy it when you want the best.
60c, 70c, 80c, $1.10 per pound.
T. A. ROWAT & CO.

VICTROLA RECORDS WORTH GIVING.

In the Victor records you will find the selection of the world's greatest artists. The Victor has been successful in list- ing the interest of Caruso, McCormack, Alma Gluck, Sir Harry Lauder, and al- most any other world-famous artist you can name. Here is a suggestion for Christmas. Give one or more records for a Christmas gift and be sure each will be appreciated. In the Victrola Par- lora of Heintzman & Co., Limited, 242 Dundas street, London, there is simply an enormous range of records—giving you really anything you may ask for. b

LIEUT. HOWARD ILL IN HALIFAX HOSPITAL

Flight-Lieut. Clarence Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard, 73 Adelaide street, was taken from the liner Royal George at Halifax on Tues- day suffering from pneumonia. He was taken to the Camp Hill Hospital in Halifax. Lieut. Howard had been overseas several months. He has been on an extensive tour of France, Italy and Belgium and is believed to have contracted the disease aboard ship.

QUEEN OF ALL GEMS

What a wonderful stone! Its hard- ness, brilliancy and incomparable beauty make it so. The ancient attributed to certain medicinal and mystical prop- erties and even in the present day. Many regard it as their "lucky stone." In the Middle Ages it was called the "Peace Maker." This wonderful stone, the diamond, is found in many places. The blue white is the most prized, as possessing higher refractive qualities than any other. This is the quality sought by John A. Nash, My Jeweler. His store is 206 Dundas street, "where you will eventually buy your diamonds."

TAYLOR'S CREAM OF ROSES

is an antiseptic, greaseless lotion for face and hands. Cures rough red- chapped skin, and removes tan and sun- burn. 25c bottle, only at the 6 Taylor Drug Stores.

Give Her a Pair of Spats

We can show you the season's latest shades. We have them in all sizes and guarantee fit. Nothing would please sister more than a pair of these stylish Spats.

Cook's Shoe Store

If you want the "Newest and Best" in bookkeeping and stenography you should attend the

London Business College

Dundas and Richmond Streets.
J. MORRIS, Principal.
N. FORTNEY, Vice-Principal.
Phone 7380.

"IN THE PUBLIC EYE"

BY Brown Optical Co.

GLASSES YOU WEAR SHOULD BE MADE FOR YOU

LASSES that merely seem helpful to your sight are not necessarily the lenses that will correct your vision any more than a pleasant-taste drug is certain to correct some other physical ailment. Allow our optometrist to look back through your pupil back through the corner of your eyes at the crystal- line lens. If there are no opacities he will discover by other tests the manner in which your weakened eye muscles have interfered with your sight.

Brown Optical Co.

Eyes Examined. Glasses Ground
223 Dundas St., Phone 1877.

Eczema Easily Relieved

JUST APPLY KINS-HAW

And see how quickly relief is obtained. At all drug stores for $1 and 50c per bottle, or mailed direct on receipt of price.

MUTUAL PHARMACEUTICAL CO.
Box 448, London.

HOT DRINKS

Hot Bovril, Hot Chocolate, Coffee, etc., now being served at our foun- tain.

TRY OUR DELICIOUS CHOCO- LATES.

Annis' Candy Shop

393 Richmond, Opposite Smallman's.

A Picture

A gift you may select with assur- ance it will give daily pleasure to the recipient.

There is a subject that appeals to the particular taste of everyone.

Our selection is worthy of con- sideration.

COLERICKS'

212 Dundas Street.

Send it to the Launary

Make Your Dollars Count

By using Forest City Rough Dry Service. You will find it comes a great deal cheaper than doing your own wash- ing. Clothes sent home ready to iron at your leisure. Think it over.

FOREST CITY LAUNDRY

DRY-CLEANERS & DYERS
Phones 3881 and 3862

COUNCILLORS ADMIT THEY ALWAYS WORK FOR THE LABORERS

Disch a r g e d Garbageman Brings His Troubles To Committee.

FOR DRINKING TEA

Supt. Dodd Says He Also Con- sumed Half An Hour's Time—Was Fired For Insolence.

For the second time within a few weeks, members of the garbage de- partment found it necessary to go over the head of Superintendent W. C. Dodd and visit No. 2 committee of the city council to lay their troubles be- fore that body. The council nearly upset the ink pots in their haste to assure the men that their requests would be granted and that they (the aldermen) always labored overtime to see that the workmen (and every other man with a vote) got his rights, and anything else he asked for.

The above resolution was unanimously adopted at the regular meeting of the council last night in its club rooms on Dundas street after consid- erable discussion as to the position of the meeting of the labor representation committee. The discussion followed the report of the delegates appointed to the meeting of the labor representation committee. The delegates informed the meeting that it was made distinctly clear to the labor representation committee that there were no members of the sol- dier citizens committee, which had action taken by them in any way com- mitted their individual organizations to the meeting of the L. R. C. was granted to the soldier representatives as a demonstration of the unanimous consent of the labor delegates at the meeting.

Election of Officers.

It was decided by an unanimous vote to make the end of the business year coincide with the financial year, which ends on December 31. And in accord- ance with this decision the nomination of officers will take place on the next regular meeting night, and the election on the first meeting night in the new year.

The following comrades were named to make the committee to draft bylaws for Unit No. 25: Comrades Casson, Pol- combe, Blathwaite, Pritch and Glenzie.

Visits to sick comrades Friday and Saturday were reported by the sick-visiting committee, and the committee in- structed to see that special Christ- mas cheer was carried to these com- rades, and any others that may be ill.

Entertainment Party and Smoker.

The entertainment committee reported progress and announced that a smoker party will be held on Tuesday night next to celebrate the open- ing of the new club rooms.

Notice was given of the meeting of the new club on the question of the wiver lock and the committee on the wiver lock was instructed to see that the wiver lock was made to the secretary.

Six new members were initiated.

A motion calling for the pass- ing in open meeting of the matter of transactions was given and the matter was discussed at the next regular meeting.

SUCCESSFUL RECITAL GIVEN BY MISS DEWEY'S PUPILS

A very successful and well attended recital was given by the violin pupils of Miss Florence Dewey, assisted by the recital pupils of Miss Ethel Ray- nolds, at the London Conservatory Hall on Tuesday evening. Those who took part were: Norman MacLeod, Eleanor Egan, Dorothy Rey, Fred Mil- ler, Ena Thirs, Maurice Shapiro, Harry Gray, Eunice Tholmes, Jean John- son, Ernestine Partridge, Leigh Taylor, Dorothy Alderson, Ruth Barbour, Jessie Rose, Oliver Frank, Ted Hart, Ethel Harrington, Della Packham, Lauretta Hollis, Agnes Harrison, Mar- guerite Gibson, and a very commendable number was given by the primary class of the violin department.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE (Tablets). It stops the Cough and Headache and works off the Cold. E. W. GROVES' signature on each box.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too harsh.

Mr. Brazier also held the opinion that there is an organized movement against Mr. Dodd. He said that the aldermen charge, claiming that aldermen in the room had been approached for the pur- pose of electing a committee to investi- gate the matter. Mr. Brazier said some of the men evidently expected that Acting Superin- tendent William Walker would be back on the job as he had held the position during Mr. Dodd's absence overseas. Mr. Brazier said there was not the slightest possibility of this, as Mr. Walker would not do the job.

Pray for Pay-Day.

Another "William Walker," secretary of the Charlemagne Union, said that he had always found Mr. Dodd "square." When Mr. Dodd returned from overseas he was more used to military than civilian discipline. What might be considered an insolent reply in the army might be so in civilian life. At the same time he felt that somebody was trying to "get" Mr. Dodd, and that some of the men were nagging at him for that purpose. As a businessman he had taken more insolence during the past four years than ever before, but it was a case of keeping the business running, he said, and it did not pay to be too