The scope of legislation was shown to be very full, covering all power undertakings in the province, or by which power was brought into the province, with authority to purchase, lease, expropriate, transmit, generate, or otherwise deal with power, the main object being the control of rates.

With respect to the opposition to the power legislation and the contention that it was ultra vires of the province, Mr. Beck declared that the government was advised that the legislation was well within the rights of the province. In consideration of the moral aspect of the question, the essence of the crificism touched two main points, the right of the government to employ public moneys in constructing and operating undertakings which might compete with those established by private enterprise, and the right of the government to stay actions and to validate contracts. The commission was appointed by

WANTS NEW PRINCIPAL

C. M. A. Thinks Technical Needs Big Man,

That the board of education should cast about for a new principal of the technical school is the suggestion conveyed in a letter to the board from the secretary of the Toronto branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. The association also suggests the appointment of an advisory committee, composed of two annually appointed representatives from each of the three bodies, the C.M.A., the board of trade and the trades and labor ecuncil. The letter of Secretary Scully "We would urge the board to secure at the earliest possible date a principal for the technical school who combines. as far as possible, with the highest educational qualifications, a thoro experience in technical school work, constructive ability, organizing initiative and personal force. The man secured should be able to assist materially in planning the new buildings and in de-termining what courses should be in-training and experience essential to the head of a large technical school such as Toronto is shortly to have. It would seem possible for the board to re-arrange the work of the school so as to place the commercial work in a separate building under the present principal, thus leaving itself free to secure an experienced head for the more purely technical education work."
