DISGRACED RECTOR WINS WAR GLORY

heard of since in the United States or England, until a few days ago.

For a year he has been fighting in the foreign legion, but it is not known under what name. His persistent courage finally drew attention to him. In addition to other honors, it is understood, he was offered a commission in the British army by the King; but declined, preferring to fight in the ranks with his present comrades.

Once a Reporter.

The former rector's wife was Miss Nora Davis, of Philadelphia, a sister of the late Richard Harding Davis. He had met her when he was a Philadelphia newspaper reporter, and they had been married only five months when his disgrace came.

Farrar is a son of the late Canon Farrar, author of the famous "Life of Christ."

He graduated from Cambridge in 1897, and in 1907 he succeeded to the rectorship of Sandringham. Many celebrities were at his marriage at St. Andrews, Westminster, to Miss Davis.

Then suddenly he was reported to be suspected of an offense that made the retention of his high office impossible. He is said to have refused to resign when asked. The next day he disappeared. It was reported later he was in British Columbia.

Charged With Stealing Coat Confesses to Theft of Rug

James Munie, 165 Centre avenue, was arrested last night by Detectives Newton and Sackett on a charge of stealing a coat from S. Bean, 184 West Richmond street.

On complaint of Mr. Bean, the theft was investigated by the detectives, who recovered the coat from a local pawnshop. The pawnbroker said that he had paid him fifty cents for it, and also that he had bought a motor rug from him. Munie told the police that he had stolen the rug from a motor car on Sheppard street. The police are trying to find the owner of the rug.

Kitchener, Nov. 10.—Pte. Jack Suffolk of this city, just returned from the Somme front on furlough, stated today that the crushing of the Prussian Guards has left the German troops dispirited. He was allowed home on leave, owing to the critical illness of his son.

SOCIETY

Conducted by Mrs. Edmund Phillips.

Miss Hughes left for Lindsay last night at 6 o'clock. Lieut.-General Sir Sam Hughes and his staff, who have been at the King Edward, leaving in the minister's private car at 11 o'clock for Ottawa.

Madame O'Gorman, who was in Canada a few months ago in connection with the French Wounded Emergency Fund, and who is at present in France, in shortly leaving for Shanghai, Isle of Wight, where she will take a much-needed rest at her former home. Mrs. O'Gorman's husband, General O'Gorman, is at the front in command of a division.

A number of entertainments are being arranged for the British ambassador, his excellency, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, and Lady Spring-Rice, during their stay in Ottawa. The Hon. Frank Cochrane and Mrs. Cochrane gave a luncheon on Saturday at the Foxborough. Sir Charles and Lady Spry are giving a dinner party, and Sir Joseph and Lady Pope will entertain at luncheon for the distinguished visitors.

Sir Adam and Lady Beck are in New York for the horse show in Madison Square Garden. The party is exhibiting, and Lady Beck has been asked to be a judge of saddle horses, for and Mrs. Kilgour are also there exhibiting horses. The Messrs. Davies are also in New York with their horses.

Mrs. R. A. Pyne is spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. Davies, at Beaumontville.

Mrs. Frank McEachern received yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Flavie, for the first time since her marriage, when she was looking extremely handsome in her exquisite wedding gown of white satin and carriage cross guipure, of which the corsage was almost entirely made. The petticoat of the gown reached the ground, and was fringed and embroidered with silver. She carried a very lovely bouquet of white mauve and yellow and orange chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Flavie, wore a satin and nixon gown of a shade of prune, the nixon part embroidered with pale blue and silver, and her corsage bouquet of violets and crimine roses looked very beautiful against the gown, the violets being as large as pansies. They received in the palm room, where the chrysanthemums were a bouquet of bloom, and scented the atmosphere. In the dining-room the large table was arranged with a large centre of Venetian embroidery and a large bowl of chrysanthemums in many shades of blue. Mrs. Wallace Barrett and Mrs. McEachern poured out the tea and coffee. Miss Jeanne Flavie and Miss Muriel McEachern were their hosts. Miss Muriel McEachern wore their bridesmaids frocks of pink tulle with large ash bows of tete de negre tulle, their hair being of the same shade of tulle, and, as the bridesmaids, they carried the prettiest girls in town. The other assistants were Miss Vera Barker and Miss Marguerite Cotton, all the girls wearing corsage bouquets of roses given by their hosts. Mrs. Milner assisted in the drawing-room wearing crimson chiffon velvet and a black velvet coat. The evening gave a theatre party in the evening for the assistants, returning to Hollywood for supper.

Mr. Benjamin Gould and his guest, Major George Putnam, New York, lunched at headquarters yesterday at the Exhibition Camp with General Logie and the headquarters staff.

The Toronto Local Council of the Girl Guides has been invited to see the conservatories at Casa Loma this afternoon by Lady Pellatt.

The French war exhibit at Simpson's was very largely attended yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Donald Barron opened the musical program by singing the Marseillaise, the Misses Ivey also singing French songs. Mrs. R. A. Falconer and Mrs. V. Henderson were in charge. The evening was pretty girls, who took tea with the artists in the directors' tea room. Mrs. Stearns Hicks gave each of the singers a corsage bouquet of roses and violets. Miss Rita Haynes played the accompaniments beautifully as usual. Mr. Macdonald, a returned soldier, spoke and explained things in a very interesting manner. He will be at the exhibition all day today. Among those present were Col. and Mrs. Denison, the president of the university, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Haynes.

Mrs. Fairbairn, Charles street, asked a few people in to play bridge yesterday afternoon, among whom were Mrs. Charles Fuller, Mrs. Douglas Burns, Mrs. Pettit, Mrs. Ian Bond, Mrs. Norman Allen, Mrs. evergreen Shaw, Mrs. Hirschfelder, Mrs. Hubbell, Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Harvey Sloan poured out the tea and coffee, the table being adorned with real lace and a silver bowl of yellow chrysanthemums.

This is the last day of the French war exhibit for the Red Cross at Simpson's, and the anti-suffrage branch of the Red Cross will be seen charge—Mrs. H. D. Warren, Mrs. Arthur Van Koughnet, Mrs. Graham Thompson, Mrs. H. C. Rea and ten girls. The students in the various colleges have been invited to be present during the day.

Miss Catharine Welland Merritt, honorary secretary of Queen Mary's Needlework Guild, is spending a few days at the Windsor. Montreal, Miss Merritt is sailing for England shortly with her brother, Major Hamilton Merritt (St. Catharines), who has been on special leave, and will spend Christmas with her family in England.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Bowby have returned from a hunting trip at the summer house of Dr. and Mrs. Minthorn, Cannon Hill, Timmins.

Mrs. William Gibson, Calgary, is in Hamilton visiting her sister, Mrs. R. O. MacKay.

Mr. W. G. Rooke is at the Hotel McAlpin, New York.
