

while others
Saviour with eternal salva-
much appre-
comfort and
COLWELL.

the progress in becometh the quickening in
where special
tion of about
e but few and
mission derived
There is not a
ne family and
ats of another
great man it
at have two or
could reason-
two or three ble to devote
urch and con-
parsonage and
and both par-
e town to the
A good organ
For this we

rance and our
ery efficiently
s state. We d, and we are
ion last year,
nily who took
some distance
t very bright.
ly, some have
some, we fear,
Members, 111.
A. GORDON.

re of temporal
rst year of its
the degree of
e very hopeful
e, resulting in dition to the
g places, one
will be built.
ANDERSON.

CRYSTAL CITY.—By the blessing of God we are enabled to report some progress this year on this mission. At several of the appointments there is a marked increase in the number and spirituality of the congregations. We held one revival meeting, which resulted in the addition of twenty-two members to the Church. We have organized three Sabbath-schools this year, making in all four Sabbath-schools on this mission; they are doing a good work for God and the Church. Our class and prayer-meetings are fairly well attended. Upon the whole the outlook is most encouraging. Members, 74.

C. CRICHTON.

OTENAW.—The past year has been one of hard toil, but we are glad to be able to report a measure of success. Our revival services were a great means of quickening among the members, and a few were added to the Church. The people are kind and most of them liberal according to their means. Members, 60.

J. HOSKINS.

CYPRESS RIVER.—Your missionary has labored earnestly during the past year to supply all the settlers on this extensive mission with the regular means of grace. Special attention has been given to pastoral visitation, resulting in some instances in a better attendance at the services, as well as a stronger attachment to the missionary. The people, irrespective of denomination, have contributed towards our support, consequently the subscriptions are considerably in advance of last year. Our connexional funds are slightly in advance. Many express their regret that through straitened circumstances they cannot help the cause more. It is thought that the line of railway surveyed through, and located on a part of this mission, will be built this summer. If so, the establishment of a station or two will contribute very largely to its well-being. Three union schools have been in operation during a part of the year. Six regular preaching appointments have been punctually sustained. We have been long praying for the descent of the Divine Spirit in such measures that many may be quickened into newness of life, and glorious trophies won for the Redeemer. Members, 31.

J. PETERS.

CARTWRIGHT.—Two things have militated against the success of the work of God on this mission: (1) The great extent of territory travelled by your missionary, and (2) the want of proper places in which to hold our services. The sparseness of settlement renders the former difficulty necessary, and the poorness of the people prevents overcoming the latter. The mission embraces about six hundred square miles, and has a membership of sixty, or one member to every ten square miles. Notwithstanding these difficulties, we have endeavored resolutely to hold the fort, looking anxiously to heaven, to the Government, and to the Missionary Society, for relief; but from no quarter has sufficient help come to relieve our embarrassments, or to enable us to pronounce the year's labor a success. Members, 69.

A. STEWART.