ARE SATISFIED

Turned Tables on Clippers Last Night by 5-3--Game a Good One--Protested Game Settled Friday Night.

The Portland Y. M. C. A. S. turned the tables on the Clippers on the Victoria grounds last evening, winning out by a 5 to 3 score. There was a fair attendance and it was well within the truth to say that these present saw a good, snappy game of ball. The last time these teams met the Clippers came out on top by the narrow margin of 1 to 0. But the latter game has been protested on account of less than four innings being played. The league executive are to deal with the question at a meeting Friday night, should they rule that the disputed game must be played again, a three-inning game, for the premier honors will result. As all three teams are playing fairly, it is said that a dead-end game will be a hat finish. The teams lined-up as follows:

Portland Y. M. C. A. S. Clippers.
Howard... Pitcher... Barrett
Lee... Catcher... R. Sproul
Crosby... First Base... C. Sproul
Ramsay... Second Base... O'Brien
Wilson... Third Base... Walsh
Thorne... Left Field... Currie
McKinnon... Centre Field... McNutt
Carson... Right Field... Ritchie
Bairstow... Pitcher... W. Sproul
The score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Portland... 5 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Clippers... 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

There seems to be some hitch in the arrangement for the playing of the postponed game in the Inter-Society Base Ball League series. It is said that a dead-end game exists between St. John's and St. Peter's on the question of nine innings. The score of the game will be disappointed if the league is not finished out.

NEWCASTLE WINS FROM CHATHAM

A good game of baseball was played at Newcastle on Thursday afternoon between Newcastle Rough Riders and the Chatham Stars, which resulted in a victory for the former, score 19-13.

BATTED BALL KILLED BIRD.

Says the Manitoba Free Press of Winnipeg in Friday's issue: "A remarkable incident occurred Tuesday in the barracks at the military camp. A sparrow was killed by its untimely end. Major Macdonell hit a ball to square leg, which went to the boundary, and in the flight it came in contact with the bird, which was flying across the ground, killing it instantly. The bird is being mounted by a local taxidermist on the same ball which caused its death, and it will thus be preserved in the officers' quarters as a memento of one of the most unusual happenings."

TOM DAY KILLED IN MAINE

Was Working on Bangor and Aroostook Railway--Well Known Boxer With Good Record.

Tom Day of North End, well known as a boxer of ability, is reported killed at Brownville Junction, Monday. It is believed Day attempted to pass between the cars of a train and was caught and crushed to death.

Charles Kennedy, Mr. Day's brother-in-law, left for Brownville Junction this morning and will probably bring the body home.

The first word of the accident came to Mr. Kennedy in a telegram received at 10 o'clock Monday afternoon, stating that Mr. Day had been injured and requested him to come to Brownville Junction.

Later, news of his death was received and it is understood he met his death on the track of the Bangor and Aroostook Railway at Brownville. He is reported to have been crawling under a car when the train started and inflicted the injuries which caused his death.

Mr. Day sometimes went by the name of Duques, and he is probably better known as a boxer. He is a son of the late Abraham Day, of Brooks street, and his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Ann Day, is still living with her grand-daughter, Mrs. Kennedy, 99 Sheriff street. Mr. Day's mother married the second time, his second husband being Simon Duques. A brother William Day survives.

THE TURF

GOOD RACES OUT WEST.

One of the most successful meetings ever held in Saskatchewan was in Weyburn on July 24 and 25. During the two days over 5,000 spectators passed through the gates. The free-for-all was won by the fast Weyburn horse, Little Buck, and it was a very popular win. Owing to the lameness of Chestnut (2:07), he was withdrawn from the race of five heats was won by Welcome News. In the 2:30 race Captain John forced Happy Jim to cut his mark to 2:24.12. This was a great race, and was really won by Frodo, a handsome four-year-old stallion, but he was set back in the final heat for an infraction of the rules. The Weyburn track is considered the best west of Winnipeg, and the accommodation for visitors is unexcelled. Next season the club propose inaugurating two stake events with handsome purses.

QUITS

On the Charlotte street, west side, pitch last evening, the City Stars defeated the Hillside in three games of quito, by a score of 21-17, 21-18, 21-20.

THE RING

BILLY ALLEN A FIGHTER.

Tommy Feltz, the much-touted Philadelphia, was trimmed by Billy Allen, of Ottawa, in a fifteen-round fight, on Hull Thursday evening. Feltz, who was expected to win, was badly beaten and was forced to quit in the tenth round.

Tommy Burns, the heavyweight champion, who is manager of George Mensic, the Chicago lightweight, says he will train Mensic for his twenty-round bout with Joe Gans, which is to be fought before the Pacific A. C., of Los Angeles, Cal., August 12. Burns is confident that Mensic will beat Gans, and intends to wager $500 on his chance.

GOLF

THE AMERICANS ONE UP.

The Canadian team selected from the best material available at the national amateur tournament was beaten one point on the day's play at Lenox today. F. Herreshoff beat George S. Lyon, the Canadian champion, one hole, and the match between Stewart and West was carried to the nineteenth hole.

TO CHANGE RULES.

LONDON, July 29--There is a report about to the effect that the United States Golf Association has approached the Royal and Ancient club with a view to co-operation in a proposed revision of the rules. The only those who have been in the inner circles of golf for a long time and know the feeling of the Royal and Ancient can quite appreciate what many old golfers would regard as the impudence of this suggestion--though the present writer is far from suggesting that it is an impudent one.

HOW TO SWIM

Valuable Instruction for Readers of The Times

THE BREAST STROKE

There are many swimmers who on no argument, logical or theoretical, can persuade to move through the water by means other than the good, old-fashioned breast stroke. This method of progression, no less than the more advanced, is capable of a great possibilities, and requires as much care and endeavor as the more technical and complicated side or overhand movements.

Let us begin by asking the swimmer who wishes to attain perfection, economy of power, and speed, to make no attempt to hold the head above water. The chin should be submerged, and the head poised in such a manner as to allow it to find its own level. What is wanted in this respect is to keep the lips at parts of the stroke only sufficiently clear of water to allow of their being parted for breathing purposes.

The three movements of the arm stroke--the front stretch, the round outward half-circle swing, and the contractile bend--are each done in the same length of time, no one part is of more prolonged duration than another. The arms are straightened out somewhat slowly, and entirely devoid of anything like a sudden dash out; and unless in the case of a race, the following movement, although a propelling one, requires no greater exertion, nor should the motion that again follows when the hands are returned in front of the chest be done more quickly, suddenly, or sloper than that part of the stroke which immediately precedes it. The hands and arms should not at any part be more than two, or at most, three inches under the surface of the water. For reasons that must be obvious this is imperative in fast swimming. The leg movements require much more care and attention than those of the arms, as from them we obtain the greatest propelling force. The three movements that go to make up the leg stroke are each one performed separately it is true; but the one is made to merge itself into and form part of the other, and bring about the complete and requisite combination.

There is, and always has been a prevalent idea that the part of the kick is obtained when the legs are sent out from the body. This is folly, and to no little extent accounts for wrong-directed efforts and ungainly jerky movements. The legs are sent out and spread as wide apart as possible, but with no strong muscular exertion further than is necessary to merely perform the movement. The propelling part of the kick is when the legs are swung strongly and stuck together.

One often hears the remark--"What great feat; what a splendid swimmer he would make!" as a matter of fact there is little or no power obtained from the soles of the feet. The most of the propulsion is obtained from the inside of the legs, from the front down along to the knees, calves, ankles, and sides of the feet to the great toes, and as a matter of fact when the legs have been closed the soles of the feet are facing to the surface of the water. The foregoing are the true movements. Take nothing from them, add nothing to them in any respect whatever, as in them we have all the elements of correct and graceful aquatic progression.

To attain speed, constant regularity, continued practice is necessary. The head is made to lean forward with the legs, thereby diminishing its weight, and, of course, rendering it easy to carry.

The legs are in the first instance spread as wide apart as possible, and swung strongly together, and the arms are put forth their great effort as they are being carried round after being parted on the forward part of the stroke. To breathe naturally and easily exhale by the nostrils when the hands are stretched straight forward, inhale by the lips when the hands are carried outward and round, and there be a cessation as the arms are bent and the hands brought under the chin.

Pay no attention to the position of the legs when regulating the breath--judge and time entirely and wholly by the arm movements as indicated in the foregoing.

AS LA PATRIE SEES IT

The following is a translation of an article published by La Patrie, Montreal, on August 1:

"Mr. David Russell has made statements to the Herald which are very interesting, as they lift a corner of the veil which screens from the vulgar gaze the actions of Mr. Pugsley's friends, throwing a new light upon the struggles over the portfolio of railways."

"In the article which we dedicated to the experience of New Brunswick, last Saturday, Mr. Russell has seen eagerness to hinder the advancement of this profligate politician, to raise the public against him, etc. Mr. Russell has wrongly interpreted us or has not understood us. We never said that Mr. Pugsley had been a party to the sale of La Presse. We brought no accusation against him, nor did we deprecate his qualities. We are ready on the contrary to recognize his ability and merits."

But La Patrie, which sees the influence of work around this politician, knows also the apprehension which is felt among the Premier's councilors, and has considered it a duty to inform its readers. Mr. Russell does us an injustice in imputing to us other motives. Mr. Russell affirms that the railway companies are opposed to the entry of Mr. Pugsley into the Laurier cabinet. With this political man as Minister of Railways and Canals, no one, says he, neither C. P. R., G. T. E., nor Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann, could ever obtain control of the Intercolonial."

"Stop and think of the unpopularity of the Maritime Provinces if the Intercolonial ceased to be exploited by politicians who have their hands full of patronage! We do not believe that this war cry has much effect at St. John, where the Canadian Pacific has established the terminus of its immense system of railways and its magnificent fleet. Doubtless much stress is laid upon Mr. Pugsley's chances of being elected at St. John in preparation of his case to the Prime Minister. With any other candidate, it would be unanimously predicted that the county would be lost to the Government."

"The Conservatives of St. John were deprived of organs. The sale of the Telegraph and the Times to Mr. McKane assures them the support of two of the most influential journals in N. B."

"Mr. Russell says he has made an excellent deal. We can only congratulate him. But if the friends of the Government should get it into their heads to make Mr. Pugsley bear a little of the responsibility for this transaction which deprives the Liberals of a precious trump card!"

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Trouble of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves--the inside nerves--mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all druggists.
