DR. MAHER WRITES OF THE TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL PROJECT

Names Six Physicians as Opposed to Site and Refers to Threatened Injunction

St. John, N. B., July 21, 1913.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir—In a short editorial in the "Times" the other evening you stated that medical men and experts had pronounced the Merritt street site a desirable location for the proposed tuberculosis home.

In view of the strong protest made by some of the largest tax payers in the city, all of whom concede the great and immediate necessity of such a home, but who feel that consideration of location should receive due attention, where such a large amount of money is about to be expended, I feel that it is but fair to have an opportunity to present our side of the case.

I have already published a letter from one who is supposed to be an expert with regard to matters of this kind, wherein the writer pronounced strongly against the proposed site, and in addition to this expert there are many leading physicians of this city who are of the same mind.

As a matter of fact, personally, I have not heard one physician favor it as a most desirable place, and I have taken occasion to speak to many. Whilst all, without exception, are strongly in favor of such an institution, some unhesitatingly say it is a miserable location at best in which to place people so afflicted, that the air of this locality is not the most conducive to good health for people in that stage; that the environments are not what they should be; and that the noise of trains, saw mills, etc., is deadly against it. This has been my attention from the beginning.

The names I present for your consideration are the following, all of whom are well known as leading, reputable and responsible practicing physicians of the community, and all of whom, whilst endorsing, recognizing and encouraging the immediate need of such an institution, do not hesitate in permitting me to register their names against the present site:

Geo. A. B. Addy, M. D.
Edward J. Broderick, M. D.
Francis J. Hogan, M. D.
Howard D. Fritz, M. D.
Elihu M. Kelley, M. D.
Charles M. Pratt, M. D.
William F. Roberts, M. D.

This may be a revelation to those who contend that the people who have opposed the location have been actuated by selfish motives.

Many citizens think that if the large amount of money contemplated is to be spent on the erection of a new hospital, that it would be desirable to convert the present hospital into a tuberculosis home, and start out with a new location, such as the grounds already mentioned at Mount Pleasant.

Would you consider such a scheme as this feasible, or worthy of consideration? Have the city approach the provincial government, asking it to sell the present building and grounds now used as a home for nervous diseases, and convert the present hospital into a tuberculosis home. This is certainly one of the most desirable sites in the province for a city hospital.

Many physicians and others consider the present isolation hospital as an ideal spot for the proposed home, but to segregate all these poor people in a noisy, busy place, where the air is being blown by going on for some years, as it is at present for instance in the erection of J. E. Cowan's house, the observatory, the Tilley buildings, etc., and where business will be largely increased on the erection of a new bridge or other means to people troubled with insomnia.

Is the building to be of wood? If so, is there no danger of sparks from the engines that are constantly passing, and which will increase in number later on? No one who is in good health or lives away from close proximity to a railroad, can appreciate what the constant roar of these trains and other means to people troubled with insomnia.

Dr. Miller, superintendent of the sanitarium at Kentville, N. S., although situated half a mile from the railroad, complains to the Nova Scotia government that the trains seriously affect the recovery of his patients. Is this a matter for consideration or not?

If this does not suffice to end the question, we will in the best interests of both the patients and the community apply immediately for an injunction.

Yours very truly
J. D. MAHER.

DREDGE FROM ENGLAND FOR COURTENAY BAY; BIG ONE NEXT MONTH

It is reported that Norton Griffiths & Company have secured in England a large and powerful dredge which will be brought to St. John and put to work in Courtenay Bay. The dredge is expected to reach St. John about the end of August.

Situation Improved

New York, July 19—The situation abroad is somewhat improved. Acceptance of finance bills, now beginning, indicates this, with belief that the Balkan crisis is now past for good. But this does not release hoarded gold; revival of confidence must come first. At any rate, for five or six weeks we shall probably see a lull in the demand for gold, and the stock market will have its chance. The will come again, lightening money and crop scares. But by that time the European situation may be further cleared, the tariff bill passed, the currency bill nearer perfection, and the crop, notwithstanding scares, pretty well assured. Copper has become active and strong, with European buying revived at a high level of volume. Cheerful views of steel predominate, although consumers are waiting for easier financing before putting out orders, and new contracts are declining, with steel mills busy on old business. Our foreign trade for the fiscal year 1913, shows big increase—over $420,000,000—in totals. Both exports and imports show gains over all past years. The excess of exports was $68,000,000.

The feeling among investors is gaining ground that this country is all right, and awaits only complete settlement abroad, to start up at a quickened pace. Stocks are attracting more attention, and when activity develops, it is not on recessions as heretofore, but on advances. Such stocks as Southern Pacific, which has been under the pressure of threatened distribution for weeks, are beginning to attract attention from their net earnings' showing. For the year ended June 30, 1913, Southern Pacific's gross is $1,700,000 larger than in any year in its history, and its indicated net earnings on the common stock, 9.2 per cent, compared with 7.92 per cent. last year. Around 92 its yield is 61.2 per cent. per annum.

"BLOOMER GIRLS" WERE MEN

Then 4,000 Fans Wrecked Things on the Ball Field

Washington, July 21—One policeman is in a hospital, two others are nursing bruises and awaiting new uniforms, and part of the union league baseball park is a wreck today as the result of a riot at a Sunday baseball game when 4,000 "bloomer" girls discovered that a team of "bloomer" girls were really men in disguise. The team was taken to an east-bound train under police protection. A half hour before the storm broke the manager of the "girls" had acquired the gate receipts and disappeared.

RAILROAD HELPS THE FILIPINO
Iron Horse Only Second to School as Civilizing Influence

"The schools of the Philippines have done much to bring the people of the islands to a high state of development, but in my opinion the railways that have been built in the islands also have been of great assistance in arousing among the inhabitants a keen desire to accept the white man's way," said James Ross, general attorney for the Philippine Railway Company, just from Manila.

"I have been in the islands for thirteen years and without fear of contradiction I may say that railway construction has done as much in its way as soldiers and schools, because wherever we build roads the natives who had previously got little or nothing for their labor received rewards that were far in excess of anything they had ever expected.

"It encouraged the men to further efforts; it made lazy natives ambitious for the first time in their lives, and brought prosperity to communities that had been nothing but collections of shacks. I have seen places, where we built stations, that were only clusters of thatched houses grow to towns inside of a few months. During the last three years we have built 200 miles of road on the island of Cebu and 100 miles in Panay.

"When it is realized that the last rice crop of the islands was worth $15,000,000 it is easily understood that business is rapidly increasing and that this is due to railway development. Our road has experts traveling along its line all the time giving instruction to the natives regarding the planting of rice, cane and other crops. I feel that the railways have done their part in the upbuilding of the trade of the islands and the people."—Washington Post.

BRIDE WHOSE LIFE WAS THREATENED

This shows Sir Joseph and Lady Tichborne on their way from church after their marriage. The day before this event Lady Tichborne, then Miss Greville, received a letter threatening her life if she married Sir Joseph. The writer was Miss Theresa Doughty-Tichborne, daughter of the famous "claimant" for the Tichborne estate fifty years ago, when the trial of the suit was the sensation of England for several months. The father of the present Sir Joseph was then an infant, and the claimant represented himself as the uncle whom everyone had thought as lost at sea. He served a term of fourteen years for perjury after the trial was over. His daughter, Miss Theresa was this week sent to prison for six months for sending threatening letters to Miss Greville, the bride-to-be.
