ASQUITH MAY MAKE CHANGES IN CABINET

John Burns Likely to Go to Home Office While Winston Churchill Will Become President of Local Government Board

London, Jan. 31.—With Premier Asquith on the continent and Chancellor Lloyd George closely following him, politicians are resting on their arms, discussing what lines of battle will be taken in the new parliament.

The moral commonly drawn from the elections is that the country generally does not want radical changes in the House of Lords or in the government policies. The spirit of conciliation, therefore, is abroad, and schemes for a compromise are being debated.

Conservative papers propose the most interesting plans: That a cabinet be chosen from the moderate men of both parties to carry on the government for two years, and that a truce be declared on party questions in the meantime.

whereby no new legislation shall be included in these bills. Liberal Proposals. The Liberals want to deprive the House of Lords of the power to veto any bill whatsoever. Their favorite plan would be to compel the Lords to accept the bills sent to them for the third time by the House of Commons, which, while making the House of Commons consider a rejected bill carefully, would give that body the power to pass any legislation on which it had determined, in one session.

It is taken for granted that the House of Lords will pass the budget, since the country has decided against the Lords on the face of the election returns, but they may be obliged to crase the whiskey taxes to get the votes of Irish members. Beyond the reform of the House of Lords and the passage of the budget, parliament is not likely to get far with anything. Irish members probably will obtain the introduction of a Home Rule measure, but Conservatives will oppose that solidly, and a number of Liberals are pledged against Home Rule also.

Several cabinet changes are probable when the new government is formed. Reginald McKenna, who has been unpopular as first lord of the admiralty, will likely be dropped. He may be given a peerage for war, may be made secretary of a Home Rule measure, but Conservatives will oppose that solidly, and a number of Liberals are pledged against Home Rule also.

DISTRESS ACUTE AMONG HOMELESS

FLOOD REFUGEES WITHOUT FOOD

(Times Lensed Wire.) Paris, Jan. 31.—With 200,000 persons homeless in Paris and its suburbs, 200,000 unemployed and hundreds still imperilled by flood and acute distress witnessed on every hand, the government announced to-day that it has the situation well in hand. This statement simply means that the crisis from the flood itself has passed, and if everything goes well and none of the threatening dangers materialize, the city will be in a position to recover from its terrible blow.
