

A HAPPY EVENT AT CHRIST CHURCH

FASHIONABLE WEDDING THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Mr. Joseph Pemberton and Miss Helen Bais united in wedlock—Leave for Europe.

Mr. Joseph D. Pemberton, second son of the late Mr. D. Pemberton, of "Gonzales," and Miss Helen Mary Nader Bais, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bais, formerly of London, England, were united in marriage at Christ church cathedral.

The bride was given away by Mr. H. P. O'Farrell, and wore a wedding gown of great beauty and taste. It was of richest ivory white duchess satin wonderfully draped with quantity of almost priceless and very rare old Brussels point, which together with a lovely veil of the same exquisite lace had been in her room in the bride's gown in production.

The bride was attended by Miss Gladys Bais as maid of honor, who was charmingly gowned in soft cream silk draped with Limerick lace and large picture hat of white chiffon trimmed with lace and one sweet, white, ribbon.

The little children of Mrs. G. W. Rhodes were train bearers. The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. W. D. Pemberton. The ushers were Messrs. Schofield, Bridgman and Charteris Pemberton.

After the ceremony the wedding party drove to Mount Joy, the residence of Mr. F. B. Pemberton, where a large number of friends heartily congratulated the newly wedded couple.

The bride's mother was becomingly gowned in silver grey liberty satin, made over pale pink tulle, with rich and very beautiful old point lace. Her hat was a toque of pale grey chiffon with touch of pink, and she also carried a shawl bouffant of pale pink tulle.

Mrs. J. D. Pemberton, the mother of the bridegroom, wore a rich black silk gown with soft laces and some lovely diamonds.

Mrs. F. B. Pemberton was attired in an effective combination of black and white. Mrs. Hugo Beaven was gowned in white and green, and Miss Sophie Pemberton wore a most artistic robe of creamy white lace with brown marabout stole and large drooping hat of silky brown beaver with long brown tulle veil.

Mr. and Mrs. Pemberton left on the Princess Victoria for Vancouver en route to Europe, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The bride's going-away dress was of the very smart tailor-made costume of green cloth with heavy travelling cloak to match and hat of green silk beaver. Some of the wedding presents are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Randall, case of dressing silver; Mr. Bais, china tea service and Japanese silks; Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Johnson, silver candleabra and candelsticks; the Misses Sharman, cheque; Mrs. G. DUNSMUIR WILL CASE MUST STAND OVER

New Evidence to Be Taken—The Full Court Refused to Set Aside Injunction.

After the Times went to press last evening the following was received from its special correspondent in Vancouver: "The injunction case has been allowed in the Hopper-Dunsmuir case. It now goes back for further evidence on the California point, and the main issue has been remanded for argument until the next sitting of the Full court."

The point raised, and which has been successfully sustained by counsel for the intervenor, it will be remembered, dealt with the validity of the will. It is contended that the will, which was executed by Alex. Dunsmuir on the day of his marriage to Mrs. Wallace immediately after the wedding ceremony, is invalid according to the laws of California. The witnesses to the will, the appellants say, were not aware of the contents of the document when they signed it and in reality did not even know whether it was the will of the testator or not.

The case of Spencer vs. Drysdale-Stevenson, an attempt has been made by the defendants to set aside the injunction prohibiting the sale of stock in the Dunsmuir-Stevenson company until the trial of the action. In this case it will be remembered D. Spencer, of this city, claims stock in the defendant company's shares on an agreement made with C. E. Stevenson, one of the partners. This stock was given him with another block purchased by Mr. Stevenson now refuses to hand over the stock. The injunction against selling the stock was granted by Mr. Justice Morrison. An appeal taken to the Full court to set aside this injunction was refused, and the appeal must stand over until the January sitting of the Full court.

BABY'S WELFARE

Every mother is naturally anxious that her little ones shall be bright, good natured and healthy. Every mother can keep her children in this condition if she will give them an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets cure indigestion and stomach troubles, prevent diarrhoea, cure constipation, allay simple fever, break up colds, destroy worms and make teething easy. And the Tablets are guaranteed to contain no opiate or harmful drug. Mrs. E. Long, Pencland, B. C., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets unsurpassed for teething troubles, breaking up colds and reducing fever, and they make a child sleep naturally. They have done me little or no good. I would not like to be without them." Druggists everywhere sell these Tablets, or you can get them by mail at 25 cents a box by sending the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BESIEGERS' WORK WILL BE TEDIOUS

A CORRESPONDENT'S OPINION OF WAR

Saw All the Attacks Made on Port Arthur Between October 19th and November 8th.

Richard Barry, a young correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle, who witnessed every attack on Port Arthur from October 19th to November 8th, arrived here Thursday afternoon on the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Iyo Maru. Armed with pages of copy and many rare pictures of the fights he saw, he left for the Golden Gate last evening, leaving Victoria on the Whitcomb, and intending to travel overland from Seattle to San Francisco.

Mr. Barry says it will be a considerable time before the Japanese besieging Port Arthur achieves their aim. The six big vessels in the harbor have been dismantled, their heavy guns have been moved ashore, and in cases many of the crew have been called on to assist the defending land forces. The ships are exposed to the Japanese fire, and Mr. Barry does not suppose that the Japanese will ever attempt again to take the vessels out of port.

Although with Nogi's army, and claiming to have enjoyed every moment of the siege of the Japanese officers, Mr. Barry contends that the Japs have not yet reached the strongest positions about the fortress. Two Hundred and Three-Metre hill, he says, is not a vital point, as recent dispatches from the scene of operations assert, but when taken will mark an important stage in the advance of the besiegers. Then again there are positions which are absolutely untenable. The forts throughout are so arranged that each is covered by others, in some places as many as six being so situated as to dominate the one that is held pressed.

The Japs have dug trenches; they have tunneled, and are accomplishing their work slowly, but they have still a long and desperate fight before them. Port Arthur is the strongest fortress in the world, and the men who are defending the place are slowly but they have still a long and desperate fight before them. Port Arthur is the strongest fortress in the world, and the men who are defending the place are slowly but they have still a long and desperate fight before them.

The strength of the army before Port Arthur, Mr. Barry declined to state. "I suppose," he said, "that that might be regarded a military secret, and I am bound not to divulge news of this kind. Every correspondent who leaves the army cannot return within three months. But I am going back, and am desirous of saying nothing that will be offensive."

Of the many stories employed by the Japanese and their wonderful endurance, Mr. Barry tells a number of very interesting stories. He has seen men hold one position for 48 hours without sleep. He has seen men live in places and under conditions so white man could stand. In the attack on some of the forts he has seen them crawl along on their hands and knees up the slope of a hill, carrying out places with their hands in which to take shelter from the Russian guns, and lying prostrate until they got an opportunity to rise. This would be done at night. A whole force would thus cautiously proceed until they got close up to the parapets. The defenders would perhaps shoot at night, but could not see the bold little attackers. When dawn broke the Russians would perhaps be surprised and nonplussed by the appearance of the invaders on the very parapets of the fort. The fighting that would ensue would be of the most desperate character. On the one side there were the Japs, who for long had seen their rifles and their machine guns, and their goal of their ambition at all hazards.

On the other side there were the equally courageous defenders willing to die where they stood.

The heavy mortars of the Japanese are playing havoc with the Russians. There are the plunger shells, which reach any position, and which wreck all the defenses in contact. Mr. Barry saw a big eleven-inch shell strike the Retzivan in the bow and tear a terrible hole in her. All the Russian ships, he states, are expected to be sunk by Admiral Togo's fleet in the roadstead.

Mr. Barry says that Port Arthur had been provisioned for a year, and he believes that the defending force now exceeds 8,000. During his connection with the Japanese army he was accompanied by Frederick Villiers, the famous war correspondent of the London Illustrated News, who will arrive on the next inbound Empress of the C. P. R. line.

DEATH OF MRS. DAVIE

Widow of Former Premier of British Columbia Passed Away This Morning. In announcing the death of Mrs. Constance Langford Davie, which took place at St. Joseph's hospital this morning at 7.30 o'clock, it is only befitting the memory of an all-round beloved and esteemed to refer to some of the beautiful traits of character so much in evidence in her life.

Mrs. Davie was born in Victoria on the 23rd of February, 1853, of English parents, being the third daughter of the late Thomas J. and Mary Skinner, her father being one of the prominent pioneers of the country and a member of the legislative council. She was married on the 3rd day of December, 1874, just thirty years ago, to the late Hon. Alexander E. B. Davie, Q. C., sometime Attorney-General for British Columbia.

Mrs. Davie leaves a family of four daughters and one son, her eldest daughter being Mrs. McPhillips, wife of A. E. McPhillips, K. C., of this city. For many years Mrs. Davie was prominently connected with the social life of Victoria, and in her later years she was long and lingering illness, but at no time did she permit it to affect the sweet resignation of manner so characteristic of her in all her life's work. Her life ebbed away in the sweetest calm, and she was preserved from any agony of death, which will be a great consolation to all her sorrowing friends. The community has certainly suffered an irreparable loss.

RECIPROCAL ESTEEM

Rev. W. D. Barber Thanks Parishioners For Kindness Shown to Him. As an evidence of the cordial relations which exist between Rev. W. D. Barber and the congregation of St. Saviour's church, the parishioners on Thanksgiving Day presented the retiring pastor with a substantial cheque representing $500.

Accompanying it was the following address: "Reverend and Dear Sir:—We, the church members of St. Saviour's church, desire to present to you on this Thanksgiving Day a small token of our affection and appreciation of your noble falling modesty and kindness to us, and increased by the parishioners and their wives."

You accept this thanksgiving as a sincere and inadequate testimonial of our gratitude and esteem? Accompanied by the expression of their deep respect at the close of your retirement from St. Saviour's parish where you have done such good work, and the earnest hope that God's blessing you may be restored for many years of fruitful and successful labors. We beg, to remain, dear Sir, Yours faithfully, W. D. BARBER, Rector's Warden. G. BURNETT, People's Warden.

To the Rev. W. D. Barber, St. Saviour's Church, Victoria. Rev. Mr. Barber has since sent a letter of thanks to the wardens, representing the donors of the present. The letter was as follows: "Victoria West, Dec. 1st, 1904. To Messrs. G. Burnett, Church Warden, St. Saviour's, Victoria. Gentlemen:—Will you please convey to the donors of the present, my sincere thanks for their kind and generous remembrance of me, transmitted through your kind offices. I need not say how much I have appreciated the present, and how much I am indebted to you for the trouble which my illness has brought about. With my good wishes for the future welfare of the church, I am, Sir, Yours faithfully, W. D. BARBER."

KEEP THE BLOOD PURE

Nearly All the Common Ills of Life Are Caused by Weak, Watery and Impure Blood. Bad blood means bad health. That is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills mean good health—they actually make new, rich blood. Bad blood poisons the whole system, the nerves break down, the liver goes wrong, the kidneys get clogged and the stomach is unable to digest food, the lungs are unable to throw off the lingering mucus that they bring out in the form of order. Then you have headaches and backaches, can't sleep and can't eat and feel utterly miserable. And it all comes from that bad blood. It is cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which reach any position, and which wreck all the defenses in contact. Mr. Barry saw a big eleven-inch shell strike the Retzivan in the bow and tear a terrible hole in her. THE QUESTION OF REGIMENTAL BAND

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE OF OFFICERS OF FIFTH

Will Ascertain if City Council is Willing to Aid in Maintaining Organization.

An important meeting of the Fifth Regiment officers' mess was held on Thursday, when several matters of general interest were discussed. One of the first questions dealt with was whether the band, disbanded owing to the withdrawal of J. H. Finn, should be reorganized. Of course, the introduction of this raised an interesting debate.

The general opinion seemed to be that without financial assistance it would be inadvisable to maintain a band of the same efficiency as that recently controlled by Mr. Finn, and all were agreed that it would be unwise to establish an inferior musical organization. It was finally decided to leave the matter entirely in the hands of a committee comprising Surgeon Major Hart, Capt. Curry, Capt. W. H. Langley, and Capt. Ridgway Wilson.

These officers were commissioned to institute a thorough inquiry into the matter and submit a full report at the next regular meeting. Their principal duty, however, was to ascertain whether the city council is willing to extend the regiment some financial assistance if it is determined to reorganize. As previously mentioned in these columns, the Vancouver corporation has set aside an annual grant towards the support of the Terminal City militia band. Naturally the local officers think they are justified in looking for a similar appropriation from the Victoria council. They contended that the city gets as much benefit from a regimental band as the corps itself. Heretofore they have had themselves to meet many expenses. Therefore their position is that without assistance the band cannot be continued.

Another matter of great interest was the subject of the resignation of those present, namely, what they considered the standard article on the Fifth Regiment and its officers which appeared in the Vancouver Province of Wednesday, November 22nd. Asked in regard to this matter, Col. Hall was very non-committal. He acknowledged that it had been mentioned at Thursday's meeting, and announced that strong action was contemplated. What is meant by this, of course, only be conjectured. It is said, however, that the intention is to demand an apology, and in case of its being refused institute legal proceedings.

The article in question was published on the front page of the Province under the heading, "Court-Martial of Finn Dropped." It was a scathing and entirely untrue article, particularly objected to are the following: "Col. Hall, commander of the regiment, withdraws all charges preferred in their respect against the members of the band, and the latter end of the trouble is indefinitely worse than the original libel proceedings."

There are, according to military regulations and military law, but six true members of the Fifth Regiment band. This is one of the most sensational disclosures of the short-lived Finn court-martial proceedings. Furthermore, Bandmaster Finn is not one of the six. He and the great majority of the bandmen have in reality never been legitimate members of band or regiment, and it is largely to avoid official disclosures in this connection that the proceedings against Mr. Finn have been dropped. The construction of which is proceeding against Mr. Finn have been dropped. The construction of which is proceeding against Mr. Finn have been dropped.

Furthermore, on certain regimental papers it had been within the knowledge both of Col. Hall and of Major Hibben that the article is located in such a position as to be leading light to Port Simpson harbor. It stands a height of 60 feet above high water, and can be seen from a distance of 12 miles at sea. Before an adjournment a grant of $100 was allowed the Rifle Association. This is the first time the officers' mess has taken any action to encourage the shooting. It will be, therefore, specially appreciated.

FARMER TELLS OF A BAD TWO YEARS

THEN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS DROVE AWAY ALL HIS PAINS.

Was Bent Over With Pain and Hardly Able to Work 2 1/2 Years. He Used the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy. Conson, Ont., Dec. 2.—(Special)—Mr. David Rowe, a well-known and highly respected farmer, living about three miles from here, is telling his friends of his remarkable recovery from a long period of suffering by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I had very severe pains in my back more or less for upwards of two years," Mr. Rowe says. "These pains seemed to concentrate their full force in the small of my back and the pain was almost unbearable. It made me go bent over, and I could not straighten up to save my life."

"When I went to urinate it gave me great pain and you may imagine I was not able to do much work. I consulted a doctor but his prescription did me no good."

"Then I started to use the Dodd's Kidney Pills and I felt better by the time I had used the first box. Ten boxes cured me completely."

Waterfront folk got a little surprise Thursday afternoon when the City of Seattle, which reports of the past few days have stated was on the ways in Seattle preparatory to being repaired, arrived from the Sound. Tenders Submitted For the Repairs on the Steamer City of Seattle—Marine Notes.

Birnie Island lighthouse near Port Simpson has been established, and on the 29th of November was put into service.
