POOR DOCUMENT

THE STAR, ST JOHN, N. B. WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1 1909

Prizes and Winners in STAR'S Great Circulation Contest

$750 Gerhardt Heintzman Player Piano

Won by R. Humphrey Taylor of Hartland

of 2nd district prize (diamond ring) in District No. 1.

Won by W. W. Steeves of Petitcodiac which will come with the prizes. The autemobile, the planos, the motor cannoe, the trips, the jewelry and the many other prizes will offer enjoyment to the winners, and those who will eventually enjoy all of these have the heartlest good wishes of the SUN and STAR.

The SUN and STAR also the sun to be sun

The SUN and STAR are also due and hereby expressed.

The SUN and STAR have never meant this to be a "something for nothing scheme," and all who have won have fairly earned their reward by energy and ambition. The SUN and STAR have never meant this to be a "something for nothing scheme," and all who have won have fairly earned their reward by energy and ambition. The SUN and STAR have never meant this to be a "something for nothing scheme," and all who have won have fairly earned their reward by energy and ambition. The SUN and STAR have never meant this to be a "something for nothing scheme," and all who have won have fairly earned their reward by energy and ambition. The SUN and STAR have never meant this to be a "something for nothing scheme," and all who have won have fairly earned their reward by energy and ambition. The SUN and STAR have never meant this to be a "something for nothing scheme," and all who have won have fairly earned their reward by energy and ambition. The SUN and STAR have never meant the fact that the books of the contest operation to the pleasant task tor us to make the awards to the successful candidates and we do this with the ararticage and their friends, and the resistants and their friends, and the resistant task tor us to make the awards to the successful candidates and we do this with the articage an have necessarily developed self cordence, business ability and indepen ewarded for all their efforts, and they will appreciate the handsome prizes far more than if they had been laid at their feet without any work on their part, and without the manifold associations of friendship and good will which goes with these prizes, won by the assistance of all their acquaint-OF ST. JOHN MAN MAKE AWARDS WITH GREAT

Taylor, of St. John, the groom's father and mother. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a pretty travelling costume of Smoke Grey cloth, with white net blouse and large felt hat, matching the costume, and triamped with Son Daylor Branch and luncteon given in hence of Mrs. Jean Vancouver World, Aug. 25: Yesterday the mayoress entertained at a luncheon given in hener of Mrs. Jean Blewett, of Toronto at which the officers and executive of the local branch of the Women's Canadian Club were present. Among the guests were Mrs. Blewett, Mrs. J. B. Mills and Mrs. J. N. Ellis.

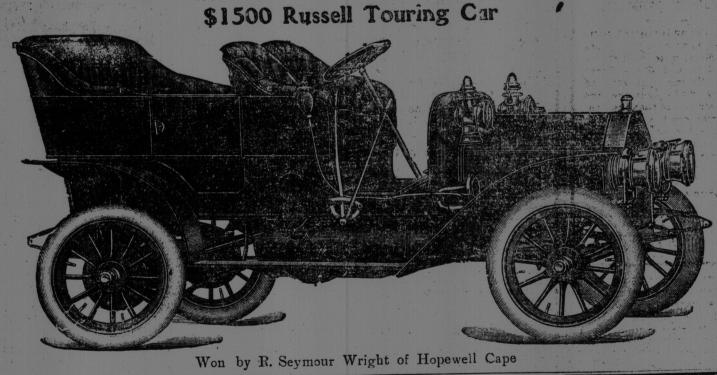

MR. ROBT. H. MURRAY, 19 Harding street, St. John, winner of 3rd prize (gold watch) in Dis-trict No. 1.

(Continued from Page One.) The story of the finish in detail is as follows: The judges arrived at the contest headquarters shortly after 3:30 o'clock. An air of hushed expectancy tell over the room. People discussed in undertones the prospects of this or that candidate, compared notes and waited generally for the count to begin.

It is no easy task to count up millions of votes and have the total 'figures waiting as soon as the last vote is recorded. The counting proceeded for some time before the figures were finally some time before the figures were final-

MR. JOHN H. C. McINTYRE, 31 Coburg street, St. John, winner of 5th prize (Morris chair) in District No. 2.

It was with us a business undertaking. Although our circulation has been some time past the largest in this province, there was yet people who had not found out what superior papers the Sun and Star were, and it was for the purpose of proving that these papers are for all the people, printing all the news all the time, "if new and true, not otherwise," that the contest was inaugurated.

By means of this contest, the SUN and STAR is a welcome visitor in many homes not heretofore reached. Hence with the great gain in circulation, these papers not only prove their tion, these papers not only prove their superiority, but stand out as the leading exponents of upright principles and clear, sound judgment.

CONTEST PROVED ATTRACTIVE. ly announced. The candidates who were waiting in breathless expectancy all of this time, drew breaths of relief and left the office jubilant.

During the past seven weeks the prize winners have found out what it is eo be "everlastingly at it." The fact that they have performed noble work will of course enhance the enjoyment.

The conditions of the contest proved attractive from the first, and as soon as the list of candidates was "ub'isa-ed, a friendly rivalry began, not only among the contestants themselves, but among the thousands of men in the city and surrounding country seeking votes and subscriptions for the various candidates.

With the excitement thus universal,

With the excitement thus universal, the close race has been followed from start to finish with great earnestness, and so even has the running been, that though one day people would venture a guess as to the winners, the next someone else would forgo ahead and their choice was found low-

EVERY ONE SATISFIED.

That everyone might have an equal chance, no matter where they lived, the territory was divided into three Districts, and each one knew that a reasonable amount of effort would bring a handsome reward, for there were many prizes to each District, in addition to the Grand Prizes. In this way everyone was satisfied, which was the chief desire of the SUN and STAR.

STAR.

be declared winners in the great frize contest.

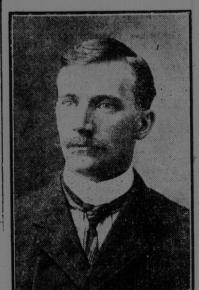

CONTESTANTS ENERGETIC.

It must be said in recognition of the good work done by the candidates, that they devoted themselves heartily to the cause, and through their efforts the public generally awakened to the fact that the SUN and STAR are certainly the papers for their homes, and today it has thousands of new subscribers who are new among its staumhest

Slowly at first, the votes began to who are new among its staunchest come in, then as the interest warmed, they rolled in in such numbers that the total soon amounted to enormous figures. The friends of the contestants desired to see them win and made the fact public by voting for them and getting their friends to do blewise. The smallest boy or girl joined his or her elders in boosting their candidates.

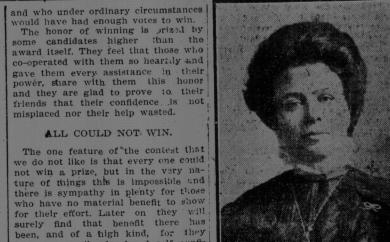

More than one man stole an hour or advertisements. This comes only as a natural result, since the greater number.

mond ring) in District No. 3. two from business at intervals during natural result, since the greater number enthusiasm were greatly increased. It caused the contestants to put forth their best efforts so that they might be declared winners in the great prize ence, which will help them to be suc-cessful in the battle that lasts long after the "battle of the ballots." Bathurst, N. B., winner of 5th prize (scholarship) in District No. 3. Those who win certainly feel richly trinmed with Saxe Blue Panne velvet and plumage. A corsuge cluster of roses was worn. Following the coremony, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left to will reside in the Metcalfe Apartments, Westmount.

MR. F. C. HOPKINS, 111 Princess street, St. John, winner of 5th prize (Morris chair) in District No. 1.

Elshop of Dacca, Bengal, India, arrived there yesterday morning on a visit to the Fathers of Holy Cross at St. Josephs.

Bishop Linneborn is the third Bishop of Dacca, and his diocese comprises about 29,000 square miles. The population is 18,000,000, chiefly Hindoo and Mussulmen. The congregation of Holy Cross was commissioned by Pope Pius the Ninth to the work of evangelizing this great territory. The life of the missionary in this far-off land is very trying and the missonaries are exposed to every kind of danger. The means of travel are chiefly on elephants, and by reviboat on the various tributaries of the River Ganges. In his district, or parisa, the priest is truly "all things to all men." since he is called upon to administer to the spiritual wants of his peeple, preach the Gospel to the pagans, and in general act as magistrate, judge, adderman, mayor, and not infrequently constable.

Bishop Linneborn looks as if there were many years of usefulness before him. He is fully six feet tall, well proportioned and his hair just turning grey. Born in the United States, he was for many years professor in the University of Notz Dame, He was ten years procurator general of his congregation at Rome. He speaks and writes with facility German, Italian, prenent and English. Add to these the knowledge of several Bengalese dallects and one understands how well fitted he is for his exalted position.

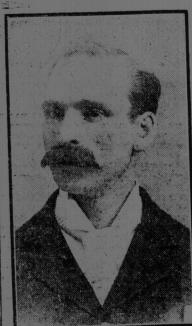

At present he is visiting the houses of the congregation with a view to becoming acquainted with the different subjects who will from time to time be assigned to his field of labor. He will return on Wednesday to Montreal and afterwards leave for France on his way to India.

TOSTON, Mass., Aug. 31.—A dispatch to the Chamber of Commerce today from Nuevitas, Cuba, states that the three-masted schooner Havelock, of Annapolis, N. S., has been picked up at sea abandoned and towed to that port. Part of the cargo has been swept overboard and the vessel was leaking. No news has been received of Captain overboard and the vessel was feating.
No news has been received of Captain
C. C. Berry and his crew. The Havelock left Annapolis on July 25 for Caribbean, Savannah and St. Jago.
The schooner was built at Bridgetown,
N. S., in 1901, and was owned by Pickells and Mills of Annapolis.

MR. J. A. MAILMAN,
St. John West, winner of 2nd prize in District No. 2 (New York trip.)

MRS. S. D. MACNUTT, Truro, N. S., winner of 2nd prize (dia-

Won by Walter H. Golding, St. John