

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL.

The creditors of J. R. Young, of Tracadie, will meet at Bathurst on the 28th inst.

A quiet wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at the town residence of George McKean, when his daughter, Miss Mary E., was married to L. Irwin Scott, of Esnamallard, County Tyrone, Ireland, by Rev. John de Soyres. Mr. and Mrs. Scott left on the maritime express for Quebec, from which place they intend sailing for Europe.

Daniel Bailey, a painter, whose home is on Main street, sustained painful injuries to his face and head shortly before noon yesterday. He was painting a house on Portland street and was at work on a staging above the second story when the platform broke and he fell, alighting on his head. He was taken in Thos. Coggins' delivery wagon to his home and Doctor Roberts attended him.

The Albert county wells of the New Brunswick Petroleum Oil Company are turning out beyond the expectations of those interested. The wells, which have not been torpedoes, are making oil, while those which have been shot are improving every day. The company is pushing operations and new boring machinery is on the way. The outlook of the oil industry in this province is very bright.

Archie Tower, an employee at Richard's stone quarry, Sackville, was badly hurt about the face last Saturday through the accidental explosion of a rifle shell. It seems that two or three acquaintances were shooting at a mark in that part of the town when Mr. Tower joined them with his own rifle. The shells did not hit his own rifle and he did not have much sport. When the others left the field shortly after, young Tower remained behind in the hope of getting his rifle to work better, but the very first shell stuck and while endeavoring to dislodge it the thing burst, the powder striking him with terrific force full in the face. He will be laid up for some time, says the Post.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Wickham, Monday morning at 10 o'clock, when Eva May, eldest daughter of Gilbert Dyleman and granddaughter of William Roper of this city, was united in marriage to Chalmers John Stiles, of Boston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. A. Cady, rector of Greenwich, in the presence of their immediate friends and relatives. The bride and groom, who were attended by a large number of bridesmaids and flower girls, stood under a beautiful canopy formed of vines and flowers. At the close of the service the hymn, "O Jesus I have promised," was sung. B. D. Richards, of Oak Point, was organist. After luncheon the happy couple left on the May Queen for St. John, thence to Boston, their future home. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Stiles wish them every blessing in their journey through life.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

Traffic Boom on I. C. R.—Some C. P. R. Plans—New Brunswick Coal and Railway Company's Road.

Passenger traffic over the Intercolonial continues to boom. On Monday night the Maritime express had four extra sleepers to accommodate the crowd. Yesterday's train was also an extra long one, besides which was also an extra train of six sleepers through Moncton with the delegates of the A. O. U. W. convention at Charlottetown.

C. P. R. District Passenger Agent Foster, who was in Boston last Saturday to confer in regard to the trains for the winter schedule, left for Montreal last evening on the same errand and that end of the line and also to arrange for another bar-vesters' excursion to the Northwest. He stated to a Telegraph reporter that the winter arrangement of trains will probably be the same as has been in force with such satisfaction this summer, bringing the American and Montreal mails here an hour earlier than last winter.

F. Barbour, of Boston, who has been making his monthly inspection of the new central road of the New Brunswick Coal & Railway Company, left again for Boston last evening. He says that the section of the road between Chipman and Newcastle is now practically ready for the rails, which will be laid as soon as they can be obtained, and that it will be opened for traffic in October or November. Work by the James Barnes Construction Company is concentrating in all required points.

Work was begun yesterday upon the foundation for the new station, of the Boston & Maine at Yarmouth to replace the station that was burned.

The work of placing salmon in the Carleton pond has ceased for this season. There are now 926 for the fall stripping.

A cow moose died at the park a day or two ago. The animal had its eye poked out with a stick by some one.

The Intercolonial Copper Company at Dorchester is doubling the capacity of its plant. It is expected that the improvements will be completed in about a month.

Arrangements have been made for the lighting of the exhibition building during next week when the exhibits will be placed.

The demand for locomotives in the west is so great that extra ones are being sent from here to the full extent at which the C. P. R. can supply them.

Tourist business in Sussex is reported as having been very good so far this season. Quite a large number of American visitors are sunbathing in the pretty little Kings county place.

The exhibition machinery hall, under the supervision of J. Thompson, is rapidly approaching completion. The Leonard self-rolling engine has arrived and is placed ready for work.

Parents are requested by the school authorities to apply at once if they want permits for their children to attend school. All applications must be accompanied by proof of vaccination of the prospective pupil.

Frank Whepley, of the North End, will in a few weeks be dry gourd. He was arrested and brought to St. John on the charge of breaking and entering the store of J. Waterman, Bangor, on the night of August 8th last, and Fred Kelson, brother of Oscar, was also arrested on the same charge.

The annual picnic of the Greenwich Episcopal church of Oak Point was held at Glenwood Wednesday on the grounds of A. L. Peabody. There was a large number in attendance. The picnicers were conveyed to and from the grounds on the steamer Springfield.

The salmon fishing season closed on the 15th inst. The season has been the best that sportsmen have seen for the past 30 years, all the rivers, with two or three exceptions, teeming with fish. The conditions for the fish getting up the rivers have been exceedingly favorable as the high water permitted the salmon to get past the nets at the estuaries. This has been an off year in trout fishing as there has been so much water in the streams and lakes that the fish could easily gorge themselves with food and would not take the fly.

DORCHESTER COPPER.

Tramway from Mines to Mill to Be Operated Shortly—Spur Track to Be Run from I. C. R.

Mr. Phillips, of the Intercolonial Copper Company, who left for Providence last Wednesday evening, after a visit to the mine, states that the work is going along so successfully that the tramway from the mines to the mill, about 2,500 feet, will be in operation next week, or as soon as the equipment, daily expected, arrives. This tram will be operated by gravity, the loaded cars down pulling the empty up the grade being sufficient for that purpose. Engineers of the Intercolonial Railway have also been secured to survey a route for a spur from the main line of that road at Dorchester to the mine, a distance of nearly 21 miles. Two big leading tanks of 150 tons capacity have just been completed and the 45 hands employed at the works are kept busy.

Mechias Seal Island Light.

The dominion government has had a large staff of workmen on Mechias Seal Island lately, improving the light and fog station there. A new reservoir was put in, the machinery placed in thorough repair and the buildings also improved. These changes, as well as the removal of the former lightkeeper, are the result of an inspection of the station made last season by Colonel Anderson, of Ottawa, chief inspector of lights. Mr. Colin Ingersoll, of Grand Manan, is now in charge of this station. Mr. Ingersoll, who received his mechanical instruction from Keeper Richards, of the Partridge Island, St. John, is giving good satisfaction. St. Andrews Beacon.

KELSON CAPTURED.

Word Received That Youth Wanted Here is Under Arrest at Bangor.

Oscar Kelson, aged 18 years, who is wanted in this city for breaking and entering and stealing, also for breaking jail, and James Briggs, who broke jail the same time as Kelson, are both in the hands of the Bangor police, having been captured there for house breaking.

Shortly after Kelson escaped Chief of Police Clark sent pictures of the fugitive to different police headquarters and he has no doubt that the person wanted in St. John is the prisoner held in Bangor, as the following telegram has been received by Chief Clark:

To Chief of Police Clark, St. John: We have Oscar Kelson all right. He goes before the grand jury for larceny. They failed to indict his brother, Fred, who was with him.

(Sig.) CHIEF OF POLICE GILMAN, Bangor (Me.)

Chief Clark was seen Wednesday by a Telegraph reporter and when asked what he intended doing regarding Kelson said he would lay the matter before Attorney-General Pugsley and request that Kelson be extradited and brought to St. John on the charge of breaking, entering and stealing and breaking jail and escaping.

Oscar Kelson and James Briggs were caught in the act of stealing goods from the store of J. Waterman, Bangor, on the night of August 8th last, and Fred Kelson, brother of Oscar, was also arrested on the same charge.

On Tuesday afternoon last the real work of the August criminal term of the supreme court was begun at Bangor when the case of Briggs, indicted for breaking and entering the store of J. Waterman and stealing $7.50 therefrom on the night of August 8, was called. When the men were arrested Briggs had given the name of Geo. Briggs, Bangor. Kelson refused to give any name. The court sat on Tuesday morning and the work of empanelling the jury began. When the court came in the afternoon the jury, composed of Briggs and Oscar Kelson, who was described as belonging to Boston, were brought in and arraigned. Kelson pleaded not guilty. Sentence was not passed upon Kelson, his counsel, John F. Robinson and Forest J. Martin, wishing it withheld until later in the term. When the jury had been sworn, County Attorney Smith began his opening, which occupied about 25 minutes, when the taking of evidence was begun. Deputy Chief of Police Bayon, Police Captain Pugh and others testified.

JAMES B. BRIGGS. Awaiting Sentence at Bangor; recently Acquired by St. John Jury.

For the state, Capt. Pugh and Patrolmen Reegan, O'Leahue and Finnian told of the capture of the men in the act of robbing Waterman's store. The only witness which the defence put in on Tuesday was Fred Kelson, who was arrested as an accomplice in the crime, but against whom the grand jury failed to find an indictment.

Bangor, Me., Aug. 20.—(Special)—Briggs was found guilty this afternoon. The jury was out 40 minutes. The sentences of both will come later.

The career of Oscar Kelson and James Briggs, the two young prisoners, is still fresh in the memory of the residents of St. John and it gives evidence that two slicker young fellows have seldom been handled by the St. John police.

It will be remembered that on March 27 last the store of D. J. Purdy, Main street, North End, was broken into and $80 in cash was stolen. Shortly after this break (Oscar Kelson, who had been in the city, left and went to the States, but had not been away more than a few weeks when he returned and was accompanied by James Briggs, who gave Boston as his home at Bethany.

The two youths—Kelson aged 18 years and Briggs 17 years, chummed about the city together. On May 24th the store of A. M. Rowan, Main street, North End, was broken into and among the articles stolen from there were two shot guns, two electric lights, razors and other cutlery. Sergt. Kilpatrick was notified that Kelson and Briggs were seen using two new guns out in Golden Grove, and on the trail of Kelson and Briggs.

The captain said he got the guns from his son and a stranger. The police then went on the trail of Kelson and Briggs, whom they suspected of knowing a lot about the breaks. On the night of May 26th the two were seen by the police on Mill street, but were soon lost to view. On the morning of the 30th, Officer James Greer went to Fairville and boarded the train bound for Boston. The train had hardly started when he found Kelson and Briggs in one of the cars and he immediately placed them under arrest and brought them back to the city.

Briggs at first gave his name as John Smith, of Boston, but afterwards admitted that his real name was James Brantford Briggs. Shortly after the arrest three other burglaries were discovered. Benjamin Dean's shop on Wall street had been broken into and some change and cigars stolen. W. J. Maynes' grocery on Marsh Bridge had been entered a couple of days before the arrest. Entrance was made from the rear stairs while the shop was undergoing repairs and some money and other articles stolen. The fifth break was reported in W. E. Thompson's grocery store at Bethany.

Kelson and Briggs were sent into jail, and on June 6, as they were left alone in the corridor of the jail, after coming in from the court, they made their escape through the new wing of the jail and out to Leinster street.

Briggs was taken into custody on June 20 and the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty and the prisoner was acquitted on the charge of breaking and entering Rowan's store, as he swore that it was Kelson who made the break and he did not know at the time that he was doing it.

As he was acquitted for stealing the crown did not press the charge of escaping and Briggs was allowed to depart on his own recognizance to appear when wanted.

He remained about the city for some days, took in the baseball game and had a good time; and one day disappeared. The next thing heard of him was on the 11th last, when he was arrested at Seville (Calif.), having made a number of charges against him, the principal ones being for breaking and entering and for a brutal assault on a Chinese laundry man.

This was the last heard of Kelson and Briggs until their round up in Bangor was reported.

The Nurses Return.

The difficulty between the hospital commission and some of the nurses, who left, as previously reported, is settled. Three of the nurses—Misses Flagler, Murphy and McFetters—have resumed their duties, their apology having been accepted. It appears that when the training school committee investigated the nurses' complaint they decided that an apology was due Miss Mitchell, the matron, because the complaints were not properly presented. Later, when the full facts were explained and they understood the apology was for the seeming but not intended disrespect to the matron, Misses Flagler, Murphy and McFetters expressed their readiness to apologize, declaring they had never intended any disrespect. The other three take the ground that as no wrong had been done an apology is unnecessary, and have severed their connection with the institution.

At yesterday's meeting of the training school committee the young ladies mentioned explained their position; their explanation was accepted.

Great Bargains in Boots and Shoes.

The attraction of readers is directed to the special advertisement on another page of a gigantic cheap sale of boots and shoes at the Union street store of Messrs. Wauchoy & Heston. Some weeks ago this enterprising firm were fortunate in purchasing from one of Canada's leading manufacturers their entire surplus stock of manufactured shoes, consisting of upwards of 11,000 pairs. This immense stock—sufficient to stock a large shoe store—was placed on sale at their store on Union street and marked at prices so low that a few days selling was sufficient to cause the people to throng the store from early morning until closing time. Thousands of pairs were soon transferred to the feet of satisfied customers. Some few shoddier pairs yet remain unsold, and John to be sure to obtain some of these wonderful bargains.

IT IS SO SUPERIOR.

The absolute purity of Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam Schnap is given in the uniform excellence of the sustained for three generations, and is a sufficient proof of its purity and superior quality. It is the excellence which rears its head above all other imitations, and is the only one that is not troubled with such ailments as would be unwise not to call for this sterling specific. Get the Genuine.

Edward Oulton, a brother of the late Isaac Oulton, was in the city a day or so ago, and in company with W. B. Wallace, went to the late Isaac Oulton's old house on Douglas avenue. Mr. Wallace could not say anything about the matter.

HIS 89TH BIRTHDAY.

PRESENTATION MADE TO DR. WM. BAYARD.

Hospital Commissioners Mark the Occasion by Presenting a Cut Glass Salad Bowl—Called Upon the Doctor at His Home Last Evening.

Dr. Wm. Bayard celebrated his 89th birthday Thursday, and the commissioners of the public hospital (of which Doctor Bayard has been chairman for some years), took advantage of the occasion to call at his residence, Germain street, last evening and tender him their congratulations.

During the evening, Michael W. Maher made a most congratulatory speech, and on behalf of the commission, presented the venerable medico with a handsome cut glass salad bowl, commemorative of his long and honorable connection with the hospital.

hospital. Doctor Bayard made a fitting reply. Aid. John McGoldrick proposed the health of the doctor, which was heartily responded to, and a round of speeches followed, in the course of which members of the medical profession testified to the esteem and high regard in which Doctor Bayard is held by them.

During the day he received many telegrams of congratulation from physicians and friends all through Canada, as well as choice floral gifts from His Worship Mayor White, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Troop and a number of others.

Friends of Doctor Bayard will rejoice that, on his 89th birthday, he is as hale and hearty as many a man half his age.

OBITUARY.

George J. Cook, Toronto. Toronto, Aug. 19.—(Special)—George J. Cook, president of Cook & Brothers Lumber Company, one of the largest lumber firms in Canada, died here today, aged 78.

Doctor Schenk. Vienna, Aug. 19.—Prof. Leopold Schenk, author of Determination of the Sex, died yesterday at Schwanberg (Slovakia).

Miss Mary Johnston. The death occurred Wednesday morning of Miss Mary Johnston, aged 36, eldest daughter of James Johnston. She had been in poor health for some time, but yesterday was attacked with hemorrhage of the brain which caused death. Miss Johnston was a member of the choir. Her funeral will be conducted Friday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock from 348 Chateaufort street, the home of her brother, J. C. Johnston.

Mrs. Andrew Stephenson. The death occurred Tuesday, after a lingering illness, of Mrs. Andrew Stephenson, of Westmorland Road. Deceased was in her 83rd year and besides her husband leaves one son and four daughters. John, William, and three others at home. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock and was largely attended.

Mrs. Mary Ann Fraser. The death occurred Tuesday at the home of her son, Alex. Fraser, Covered Bridge, of Mrs. Mary Ann Fraser, aged 84 years. Two sons, Alexander and John and six daughters survive.

Mrs. Carleton M. Killam. The death occurred Thursday, at her home, 34 Carmarthen street, of Mrs. Carleton M. Killam. Mrs. Killam was the daughter of William and Letitia Scott, of this city. Besides her husband and two small children, a father, mother and three sisters are left to mourn their sad loss.

Mrs. Abner Mercereau, Blissville. Blissville, Sunbury county, Aug. 20.—The death occurred this afternoon, after a lingering illness, of Phebe, wife of Abner Mercereau, postmaster at Hoyt Station. She was an estimable woman, a kind mother. She leaves a sorrowing husband, one son, Ellis, of this place, and one daughter, Mrs. Fred Hoyt, of St. John; also two sisters.

C. Fred Scott, Gagetown. Gagetown, Aug. 21.—The death of C. Fred Scott, second son of C. L. Scott, occurred at the latter's residence here yesterday afternoon, about 5 o'clock. Deceased had been in failing health for a few months. He returned a few weeks ago from Boston, where he had been living some five years hoping the change would be beneficial. It was evident to his friends that Fred was fast losing the end of his earthly journey, though able to keep about the house every day. The summons came unexpectedly as he walked to an adjoining room a few minutes before the messenger took him home. Deceased was 28 years old and was married some eight months ago to Miss Laura Macquarrie, of P. E. Island. Besides his father and mother, a brother and sister survive. They have the universal sympathy of the community. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock, interment to be made in the Methodist cemetery, Rev. I. N. Parker officiating.

Bradley-Ritchie Nuptials. The church of St. John the Baptist was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday afternoon when Rev. W. C. Gaynor united in marriage Miss Josephine Ritchie, daughter of Thomas Ritchie, of St. James street, and John Bradley, of Indian town. A large number of friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony and the pretty church made a fitting setting for the brilliant scene presented when the bride and groom entered the church. The bride looked very pretty in white mouseline de soie over white silk. She wore a large white picture hat and carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. Miss Annie Ryan, of Fredericton, the bridesmaid, was gowned in pale green voile with cream applique and a black picture hat. Little Miss Bessie Mellday was maid of honor and wore white chiffon and white hat. Charles Owens supported the groom and the ushers were Messrs. E. Corkery, John Kelly and E. Mooney. After the wedding the bridal party returned to Mr. Ritchie's residence, where luncheon was served after which Mr. and Mrs. Bradley left for New York. The bride's traveling dress was of navy blue cloth with applique trimmings and a few and blue hat.

The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts including silver, cut glass, furniture and several sums of gold. The groom's present to the bride was a pair of valuable engravings; to the bridesmaid a crescent brooch of pearls and to the maid of honor a turquoise ring.

Among those from out of town who were present at the wedding were: Miss McArthur, of Quebec (Mass.); Miss McKinnon, of Truro; Miss Ryan, of Fredericton, and Miss Shannon, of Dorchester (Mass.).

The average temperature of Great Britain has risen nearly one and one-third degrees within the last half century. January is now nearly three degrees warmer than it was.
