

Goddess
Corsets the face front

Sitting or Standing
"Goddess" corsets with their scientific cut and special French boning give absolute comfort. They yield to any change of position and gently hold up the figure, assuring its greatest beauty, yet causing neither fatigue nor pain.

Many of the best dressed women in Canada are wearing "Goddess" corsets. Ask Anita Stewart's opinion: "Without undue compression they add to the grace of the figure".

There is a style for every figure.

DOMINION CORSET CO.,
Quebec, Montreal, Toronto,
Makers of the "D & A" and "LA DIVA" Corsets.

J-420

"GET O'CONNOR ALIVE OR DEAD," IS POLICE ORDER

Greatest Man-Hunt in History of Chicago in Progress.

CHICAGO, March 25.—The greatest man-hunt in the history of Chicago was extended to cover the entire central west today in the search for "Tommy" O'Connor, who on Wednesday night shot his way to liberty through a cordon of policemen, killing Detective Sergeant Patrick O'Neill.

With orders to shoot to kill, more than 2,000 patrolmen are searching the city. Rifle squads have been sent to surrounding towns. Hand-bills putting a price of $2,500 on his head "dead or alive" were sent throughout Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin.

O'Connor, who was under indictment in connection with the killing of a man who had befriended him while he was a fugitive from justice, was trapped in the home of his brother-in-law. Seven patrolmen surrounded the house, when O'Connor appeared with two pistols, and shot down O'Neill as the latter stood beside the porch. As the patrolman fell, O'Connor put another bullet through his back and fled.

O'Connor is declared by the police to be one of the worst "two-gun men" in the city. He was sought for some time in connection with the cold-blooded murder of an aged elevated railway ticket taker, who was shot while resisting a holdup. His constant boast has been that he would never be taken alive. "Get him, alive or dead," was the order issued to the searchers.

WERE SHOT DOWN BY SINN FEINERS

CORK, March 25.—The bodies of four young men who were shot dead on Tuesday night after the farmhouse at which they were staying was surrounded by crown forces, are lying in the cathedral here awaiting internment Sunday. A continuous procession passed the coffin today.

Reports of the shooting were that the four young men, with several others, were taken from the house and ordered to run for their lives. They were directed upon them, it was said, four of them being shot and the others escaping.

On the first sign of bronchitis you should check it immediately by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, thereby preventing it becoming chronic, and perhaps developing into some more serious lung trouble.

Mrs. Brice Culham, Sheffield, Ont., writes: "In December, 1919, I was very sick with bronchitis, and had to stay in the house all winter. One day I saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised, so I got a small bottle which helped me very much; I then got a 60c size, and it completely relieved me. I cannot praise Dr. Wood's enough for what it did. Two of my neighbors are now using it for colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; the genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 50c and 60c; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Imported "Booze" is demoralizing social conditions in parts of this province, and impairing those conditions to greater or less degree wherever throughout the province the influence of imported liquor extends.

Imported "Booze" is breeding a disregard of law among certain classes of people in this province.

Imported "Booze" is endangering the home life of this province.

You know the conditions—the newspapers bring them to your attention every day.

You see what is happening all around you. Imported "boozie" is defeating the expressed will of the people.

Vote and vote YES!

Let us shut the door to Imported "Booze"

Ontario Referendum Committee

Don't stay illious or constipated, with your head dull, your stomach sour, gassy, upset. Take one or two Cascarets tonight sure for your liver and bowels and wake up clear and fit. Children love Cascarets, too. No griping—no inconvenience; 10, 25, 50 cents.

LABOR FEARS

Continued From Page One.

seat on the Opposition side of the Legislature until such time as Premier Durney saw fit to call for Mr. Raney's resignation. The resolution was not carried, but was tabled after the Merritt delegates said they did not wish to embarrass the Government, but they thought Mr. Raney's resignation would be in the interests of the province generally.

The conduct of Hon. Mr. Raney, one delegate said, "is unbefitting that of a democratic government."

The eight-hour-day discussion became somewhat warm at times. G. R. Hamilton, said he was sick and disgusted at some of the actions of the Labor men.

There was considerable criticism of the Ontario Government with regard to their treatment of the eight-hour-day agitation, the popular impression being that the Farmer wing of the Queen's Park combination is ready to throw down the Labor section because it happens to suit their convenience.

James Simpson, branded the Government action as the most serious betrayal of a serious trust which he had witnessed for long time.

The problem of the eight-hour-day dropped in connection with a revival of the old Chippewa war, and the discussion which circled around this point seemed to bring about the fact that even the independent Labor men are far from being a unit in their attitude towards the shorter working day.

As evidence of that fact, there was the stand of Charles Swayze, M.L.A., for Niagara Falls, who informed the convention that they might agitate for the eight-hour-day until they were hoarse, but it would not get them anywhere unless they got out and pulled off a little more educational propaganda.

The convention showed a willingness to blame three Labor members of the Legislature for the "licking" of Mr. Swayze, Frank H. Green, M.L.A., St. Catharines, and M. MacBride, M.L.A., South Kent.

Joseph Marks, secretary of the Independent Labor party, pointed his finger at these three gentlemen and named them as the ones responsible for Labor getting its trimming on the eight-hour-day. Mr. Swayze, the only one of the three present, refused to accept the pointing of the finger. The result was a bandying of a few warm remarks, followed by the declaration of John Bruce, Toronto, that the hydro and the Government had better look out. Other strikes were simmering on the Chippewa work, and unless the Government came out from behind its cover and made some definite declaration upon the principle of the eight-hour-day, as well as upon the findings of the hydro commission appointed to go into the questions, they were apt to have upon their hands a greater trouble than any faced last summer.

Alleged Poor Facilities.

Mr. Bruce incidentally wanted to bring a few charges of misadministration against the hydro. The chief of these was that there were poor facilities for caring for the welfare of the workers along the canal project, and as a result of this lack of care all the hospitals in the vicinity are filled with the disabled. That was a situation, he insisted, which the Chippewa workers would not stand for longer.

G. G. Haderow, leader of the Labor group in the Legislature, placed the responsibility on the shoulders of the workers. "Some of the actions of labor make me sick and disgusted," he declared. "They are avaricious and agitate."

On an eight-hour-day, then the first thing we know we find the same men willing to work twelve or fourteen hours a day just because they happen to get $70 a week for doing it. As long as you have men taking that attitude towards the eight-hour-day it is going to be a hard thing to get anywhere."

As a result of the discussion, the convention decided to bring the question of an eight-hour-day to the attention of the Government and ask where the Government stands thereon. As to the minimum wage board, the Independent Labor Party today agreed that the board had been working on an entirely wrong basis in fixing $12 a week as the minimum wage for laundry girls. During the discussion $14 was suggested as the lowest wage which a girl should be asked to work for in a laundry. However, the convention did not fix upon a wage scale, but decided to ask the minimum wage board to reconsider its decision as to $12 being a sufficient wage.

Would Be Bankrupt.

If G. Foster, labor representative on the minimum wage board, while the discussion was going on explained that $12 a week had been decided upon by the board because the steam laundries had been able to show that if they had to pay a higher wage they would be forced into bankruptcy. Mr. Foster came in for some sharp criticism because of his seeming to side with the laundry proprietors, but he disclaimed having done so.

Among those who formally welcomed the delegates to Welland was Mark Vaughan, president of the board of trade of this city, who appealed for co-operation between labor and the board of trade. The latter, he said, was trying to get industries in order that labor might have more work, and he thought the aim of labor should be the same.

The convention will continue on Saturday.

BEWARE OF BRONCHITIS

Bronchitis is generally caused by neglecting a cold, or exposure to wet and inclement weather. It begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty in breathing, and a wheezing sound comes from the lungs. There is a raising of phlegm, especially the first thing in the morning. This is at first white, but later becomes of a greenish or yellowish color, and is occasionally streaked with blood.

On the first sign of bronchitis you should check it immediately by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, thereby preventing it becoming chronic, and perhaps developing into some more serious lung trouble.

Mrs. Brice Culham, Sheffield, Ont., writes: "In December, 1919, I was very sick with bronchitis, and had to stay in the house all winter. One day I saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised, so I got a small bottle which helped me very much; I then got a 60c size, and it completely relieved me. I cannot praise Dr. Wood's enough for what it did. Two of my neighbors are now using it for colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; the genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 50c and 60c; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Imported "Booze" is demoralizing social conditions in parts of this province, and impairing those conditions to greater or less degree wherever throughout the province the influence of imported liquor extends.

Imported "Booze" is breeding a disregard of law among certain classes of people in this province.

Imported "Booze" is endangering the home life of this province.

You know the conditions—the newspapers bring them to your attention every day.

You see what is happening all around you. Imported "boozie" is defeating the expressed will of the people.

Vote and vote YES!

Let us shut the door to Imported "Booze"

Ontario Referendum Committee

Don't stay illious or constipated, with your head dull, your stomach sour, gassy, upset. Take one or two Cascarets tonight sure for your liver and bowels and wake up clear and fit. Children love Cascarets, too. No griping—no inconvenience; 10, 25, 50 cents.

HUNGRY BUT DAREN'T EAT

Take "Pape's Diapiesin" and eat favorite foods without fear

Your meals hit back! Your stomach is sour, acid, gassy and you feel bloated after eating or you have heavy lumps of indigestion pain or headache, but never mind. Here is instant relief. Don't stay upset! Eat a tablet of Pape's Diapiesin and immediately the indigestion, gases, acidity and all stomach distress caused by acidity ends.

Pape's Diapiesin tablets are the surest, quickest stomach relievers in the world. They cost very little at drug stores.

"They WORK while you sleep"

Cascarets

Don't stay illious or constipated, with your head dull, your stomach sour, gassy, upset. Take one or two Cascarets tonight sure for your liver and bowels and wake up clear and fit. Children love Cascarets, too. No griping—no inconvenience; 10, 25, 50 cents.

LABOR FEARS

Continued From Page One.

seat on the Opposition side of the Legislature until such time as Premier Durney saw fit to call for Mr. Raney's resignation. The resolution was not carried, but was tabled after the Merritt delegates said they did not wish to embarrass the Government, but they thought Mr. Raney's resignation would be in the interests of the province generally.

The conduct of Hon. Mr. Raney, one delegate said, "is unbefitting that of a democratic government."

The eight-hour-day discussion became somewhat warm at times. G. R. Hamilton, said he was sick and disgusted at some of the actions of the Labor men.

There was considerable criticism of the Ontario Government with regard to their treatment of the eight-hour-day agitation, the popular impression being that the Farmer wing of the Queen's Park combination is ready to throw down the Labor section because it happens to suit their convenience.

James Simpson, branded the Government action as the most serious betrayal of a serious trust which he had witnessed for long time.

The problem of the eight-hour-day dropped in connection with a revival of the old Chippewa war, and the discussion which circled around this point seemed to bring about the fact that even the independent Labor men are far from being a unit in their attitude towards the shorter working day.

As evidence of that fact, there was the stand of Charles Swayze, M.L.A., for Niagara Falls, who informed the convention that they might agitate for the eight-hour-day until they were hoarse, but it would not get them anywhere unless they got out and pulled off a little more educational propaganda.

The convention showed a willingness to blame three Labor members of the Legislature for the "licking" of Mr. Swayze, Frank H. Green, M.L.A., St. Catharines, and M. MacBride, M.L.A., South Kent.

Joseph Marks, secretary of the Independent Labor party, pointed his finger at these three gentlemen and named them as the ones responsible for Labor getting its trimming on the eight-hour-day. Mr. Swayze, the only one of the three present, refused to accept the pointing of the finger. The result was a bandying of a few warm remarks, followed by the declaration of John Bruce, Toronto, that the hydro and the Government had better look out. Other strikes were simmering on the Chippewa work, and unless the Government came out from behind its cover and made some definite declaration upon the principle of the eight-hour-day, as well as upon the findings of the hydro commission appointed to go into the questions, they were apt to have upon their hands a greater trouble than any faced last summer.

Alleged Poor Facilities.

Mr. Bruce incidentally wanted to bring a few charges of misadministration against the hydro. The chief of these was that there were poor facilities for caring for the welfare of the workers along the canal project, and as a result of this lack of care all the hospitals in the vicinity are filled with the disabled. That was a situation, he insisted, which the Chippewa workers would not stand for longer.

G. G. Haderow, leader of the Labor group in the Legislature, placed the responsibility on the shoulders of the workers. "Some of the actions of labor make me sick and disgusted," he declared. "They are avaricious and agitate."

On an eight-hour-day, then the first thing we know we find the same men willing to work twelve or fourteen hours a day just because they happen to get $70 a week for doing it. As long as you have men taking that attitude towards the eight-hour-day it is going to be a hard thing to get anywhere."

As a result of the discussion, the convention decided to bring the question of an eight-hour-day to the attention of the Government and ask where the Government stands thereon. As to the minimum wage board, the Independent Labor Party today agreed that the board had been working on an entirely wrong basis in fixing $12 a week as the minimum wage for laundry girls. During the discussion $14 was suggested as the lowest wage which a girl should be asked to work for in a laundry. However, the convention did not fix upon a wage scale, but decided to ask the minimum wage board to reconsider its decision as to $12 being a sufficient wage.

Would Be Bankrupt.

If G. Foster, labor representative on the minimum wage board, while the discussion was going on explained that $12 a week had been decided upon by the board because the steam laundries had been able to show that if they had to pay a higher wage they would be forced into bankruptcy. Mr. Foster came in for some sharp criticism because of his seeming to side with the laundry proprietors, but he disclaimed having done so.

Among those who formally welcomed the delegates to Welland was Mark Vaughan, president of the board of trade of this city, who appealed for co-operation between labor and the board of trade. The latter, he said, was trying to get industries in order that labor might have more work, and he thought the aim of labor should be the same.

The convention will continue on Saturday.

LABOR FEARS

Continued From Page One.

seat on the Opposition side of the Legislature until such time as Premier Durney saw fit to call for Mr. Raney's resignation. The resolution was not carried, but was tabled after the Merritt delegates said they did not wish to embarrass the Government, but they thought Mr. Raney's resignation would be in the interests of the province generally.

The conduct of Hon. Mr. Raney, one delegate said, "is unbefitting that of a democratic government."

The eight-hour-day discussion became somewhat warm at times. G. R. Hamilton, said he was sick and disgusted at some of the actions of the Labor men.

There was considerable criticism of the Ontario Government with regard to their treatment of the eight-hour-day agitation, the popular impression being that the Farmer wing of the Queen's Park combination is ready to throw down the Labor section because it happens to suit their convenience.

James Simpson, branded the Government action as the most serious betrayal of a serious trust which he had witnessed for long time.

The problem of the eight-hour-day dropped in connection with a revival of the old Chippewa war, and the discussion which circled around this point seemed to bring about the fact that even the independent Labor men are far from being a unit in their attitude towards the shorter working day.

As evidence of that fact, there was the stand of Charles Swayze, M.L.A., for Niagara Falls, who informed the convention that they might agitate for the eight-hour-day until they were hoarse, but it would not get them anywhere unless they got out and pulled off a little more educational propaganda.

The convention showed a willingness to blame three Labor members of the Legislature for the "licking" of Mr. Swayze, Frank H. Green, M.L.A., St. Catharines, and M. MacBride, M.L.A., South Kent.

Joseph Marks, secretary of the Independent Labor party, pointed his finger at these three gentlemen and named them as the ones responsible for Labor getting its trimming on the eight-hour-day. Mr. Swayze, the only one of the three present, refused to accept the pointing of the finger. The result was a bandying of a few warm remarks, followed by the declaration of John Bruce, Toronto, that the hydro and the Government had better look out. Other strikes were simmering on the Chippewa work, and unless the Government came out from behind its cover and made some definite declaration upon the principle of the eight-hour-day, as well as upon the findings of the hydro commission appointed to go into the questions, they were apt to have upon their hands a greater trouble than any faced last summer.

Alleged Poor Facilities.

Mr. Bruce incidentally wanted to bring a few charges of misadministration against the hydro. The chief of these was that there were poor facilities for caring for the welfare of the workers along the canal project, and as a result of this lack of care all the hospitals in the vicinity are filled with the disabled. That was a situation, he insisted, which the Chippewa workers would not stand for longer.

G. G. Haderow, leader of the Labor group in the Legislature, placed the responsibility on the shoulders of the workers. "Some of the actions of labor make me sick and disgusted," he declared. "They are avaricious and agitate."

On an eight-hour-day, then the first thing we know we find the same men willing to work twelve or fourteen hours a day just because they happen to get $70 a week for doing it. As long as you have men taking that attitude towards the eight-hour-day it is going to be a hard thing to get anywhere."

As a result of the discussion, the convention decided to bring the question of an eight-hour-day to the attention of the Government and ask where the Government stands thereon. As to the minimum wage board, the Independent Labor Party today agreed that the board had been working on an entirely wrong basis in fixing $12 a week as the minimum wage for laundry girls. During the discussion $14 was suggested as the lowest wage which a girl should be asked to work for in a laundry. However, the convention did not fix upon a wage scale, but decided to ask the minimum wage board to reconsider its decision as to $12 being a sufficient wage.

Would Be Bankrupt.

If G. Foster, labor representative on the minimum wage board, while the discussion was going on explained that $12 a week had been decided upon by the board because the steam laundries had been able to show that if they had to pay a higher wage they would be forced into bankruptcy. Mr. Foster came in for some sharp criticism because of his seeming to side with the laundry proprietors, but he disclaimed having done so.

Among those who formally welcomed the delegates to Welland was Mark Vaughan, president of the board of trade of this city, who appealed for co-operation between labor and the board of trade. The latter, he said, was trying to get industries in order that labor might have more work, and he thought the aim of labor should be the same.

The convention will continue on Saturday.

LABOR FEARS

Continued From Page One.

seat on the Opposition side of the Legislature until such time as Premier Durney saw fit to call for Mr. Raney's resignation. The resolution was not carried, but was tabled after the Merritt delegates said they did not wish to embarrass the Government, but they thought Mr. Raney's resignation would be in the interests of the province generally.

The conduct of Hon. Mr. Raney, one delegate said, "is unbefitting that of a democratic government."

The eight-hour-day discussion became somewhat warm at times. G. R. Hamilton, said he was sick and disgusted at some of the actions of the Labor men.

There was considerable criticism of the Ontario Government with regard to their treatment of the eight-hour-day agitation, the popular impression being that the Farmer wing of the Queen's Park combination is ready to throw down the Labor section because it happens to suit their convenience.

James Simpson, branded the Government action as the most serious betrayal of a serious trust which he had witnessed for long time.

The problem of the eight-hour-day dropped in connection with a revival of the old Chippewa war, and the discussion which circled around this point seemed to bring about the fact that even the independent Labor men are far from being a unit in their attitude towards the shorter working day.

As evidence of that fact, there was the stand of Charles Swayze, M.L.A., for Niagara Falls, who informed the convention that they might agitate for the eight-hour-day until they were hoarse, but it would not get them anywhere unless they got out and pulled off a little more educational propaganda.

The convention showed a willingness to blame three Labor members of the Legislature for the "licking" of Mr. Swayze, Frank H. Green, M.L.A., St. Catharines, and M. MacBride, M.L.A., South Kent.

Joseph Marks, secretary of the Independent Labor party, pointed his finger at these three gentlemen and named them as the ones responsible for Labor getting its trimming on the eight-hour-day. Mr. Swayze, the only one of the three present, refused to accept the pointing of the finger. The result was a bandying of a few warm remarks, followed by the declaration of John Bruce, Toronto, that the hydro and the Government had better look out. Other strikes were simmering on the Chippewa work, and unless the Government came out from behind its cover and made some definite declaration upon the principle of the eight-hour-day, as well as upon the findings of the hydro commission appointed to go into the questions, they were apt to have upon their hands a greater trouble than any faced last summer.

Alleged Poor Facilities.

Mr. Bruce incidentally wanted to bring a few charges of misadministration against the hydro. The chief of these was that there were poor facilities for caring for the welfare of the workers along the canal project, and as a result of this lack of care all the hospitals in the vicinity are filled with the disabled. That was a situation, he insisted, which the Chippewa workers would not stand for longer.

G. G. Haderow, leader of the Labor group in the Legislature, placed the responsibility on the shoulders of the workers. "Some of the actions of labor make me sick and disgusted," he declared. "They are avaricious and agitate."

On an eight-hour-day, then the first thing we know we find the same men willing to work twelve or fourteen hours a day just because they happen to get $70 a week for doing it. As long as you have men taking that attitude towards the eight-hour-day it is going to be a hard thing to get anywhere."

As a result of the discussion, the convention decided to bring the question of an eight-hour-day to the attention of the Government and ask where the Government stands thereon. As to the minimum wage board, the Independent Labor Party today agreed that the board had been working on an entirely wrong basis in fixing $12 a week as the minimum wage for laundry girls. During the discussion $14 was suggested as the lowest wage which a girl should be asked to work for in a laundry. However, the convention did not fix upon a wage scale, but decided to ask the minimum wage board to reconsider its decision as to $12 being a sufficient wage.

Would Be Bankrupt.

If G. Foster, labor representative on the minimum wage board, while the discussion was going on explained that $12 a week had been decided upon by the board because the steam laundries had been able to show that if they had to pay a higher wage they would be forced into bankruptcy. Mr. Foster came in for some sharp criticism because of his seeming to side with the laundry proprietors, but he disclaimed having done so.

Among those who formally welcomed the delegates to Welland was Mark Vaughan, president of the board of trade of this city, who appealed for co-operation between labor and the board of trade. The latter, he said, was trying to get industries in order that labor might have more work, and he thought the aim of labor should be the same.

The convention will continue on Saturday.

LABOR FEARS

Continued From Page One.

seat on the Opposition side of the Legislature until such time as Premier Durney saw fit to call for Mr. Raney's resignation. The resolution was not carried, but was tabled after the Merritt delegates said they did not wish to embarrass the Government, but they thought Mr. Raney's resignation would be in the interests of the province generally.

The conduct of Hon. Mr. Raney, one delegate said, "is unbefitting that of a democratic government."

The eight-hour-day discussion became somewhat warm at times. G. R. Hamilton, said he was sick and disgusted at some of the actions of the Labor men.

There was considerable criticism of the Ontario Government with regard to their treatment of the eight-hour-day agitation, the popular impression being that the Farmer wing of the Queen's Park combination is ready to throw down the Labor section because it happens to suit their convenience.

James Simpson, branded the Government action as the most serious betrayal of a serious trust which he had witnessed for long time.

The problem of the eight-hour-day dropped in connection with a revival of the old Chippewa war, and the discussion which circled around this point seemed to bring about the fact that even the independent Labor men are far from being a unit in their attitude towards the shorter working day.

As evidence of that fact, there was the stand of Charles Swayze, M.L.A., for Niagara Falls, who informed the convention that they might agitate for the eight-hour-day until they were hoarse, but it would not get them anywhere unless they got out and pulled off a little more educational propaganda.

The convention showed a willingness to blame three Labor members of the Legislature for the "licking" of Mr. Swayze, Frank H. Green, M.L.A., St. Catharines, and M. MacBride, M.L.A., South Kent.

Joseph Marks, secretary of the Independent Labor party, pointed his finger at these three gentlemen and named them as the ones responsible for Labor getting its trimming on the eight-hour-day. Mr. Swayze, the only one of the three present, refused to accept the pointing of the finger. The result was a bandying of a few warm remarks, followed by the declaration of John Bruce, Toronto, that the hydro and the Government had better look out. Other strikes were simmering on the Chippewa work, and unless the Government came out from behind its cover and made some definite declaration upon the principle of the eight-hour-day, as well as upon the findings of the hydro commission appointed to go into the questions, they were apt to have upon their hands a greater trouble than any faced last summer.

Alleged Poor Facilities.

Mr. Bruce incidentally wanted to bring a few charges of misadministration against the hydro. The chief of these was that there were poor facilities for caring for the welfare of the workers along the canal project, and as a result of this lack of care all the hospitals in the vicinity are filled with the disabled. That was a situation, he insisted, which the Chippewa workers would not stand for longer.

G. G. Haderow, leader of the Labor group in the Legislature, placed the responsibility on the shoulders of the workers. "Some of the actions of labor make me sick and disgusted," he declared. "They are avaricious and agitate."

On an eight-hour-day, then the first thing we know we find the same men willing to work twelve or fourteen hours a day just because they happen to get $70 a week for doing it. As long as you have men taking that attitude towards the eight-hour-day it is going to be a hard thing to get anywhere."

As a result of the discussion, the convention decided to bring the question of an eight-hour-day to the attention of the Government and ask where the Government stands thereon. As to the minimum wage board, the Independent Labor Party today agreed that the board had been working on an entirely wrong basis in fixing $12 a week as the minimum wage for laundry girls. During the discussion $14 was suggested as the lowest wage which a girl should be asked to work for in a laundry. However, the convention did not fix upon a wage scale, but decided to ask the minimum wage board to reconsider its decision as to $12 being a sufficient wage.

Would Be Bankrupt.

If G. Foster, labor representative on the minimum wage board, while the discussion was going on explained that $12 a week had been decided upon by the board because the steam laundries had been able to show that if they had to pay a higher wage they would be forced into bankruptcy. Mr. Foster came in for some sharp criticism because of his seeming to side with the laundry proprietors, but he disclaimed having done so.

Among those who formally welcomed the delegates to Welland was Mark Vaughan, president of the board of trade of this city, who appealed for co-operation between labor and the board of trade. The latter, he said, was trying to get industries in order that labor might have more work, and he thought the aim of labor should be the same.

The convention will continue on Saturday.

LABOR FEARS