

INDIA.

INDIA! What a thrill runs through our veins at the mention of that name! We think at once of the fearful cruelties which were exercised there upon our friends and countrymen during the last rebellion. We remember the hundreds of women and children who were so savagely massacred by the Hindoos and Mahometans. And while we weep over their terrible sufferings, our hearts swell with indignation at the murderers.

But, let us not forget our blessed Saviour's command, in
