

It is to be noted, too, that all the discussion on this Bill proceeded from the wrong point of view. Combinations, as such, were denounced as an evil thing, and it sought to make criminal what was an inevitable industrial tendency. It was the possible abuses of combinations rather than combination itself, to which attention should have been directed.

W. L. Mackenzie King Papers
Volume C 4

PUBLIC ARCHIVES PUBLIQUES
CANADA