OUTPORT DAY SUNDAY IN THE C. OF E. PULPITS

Services Taken and Sermons Preached By Prominent Out of Town Clergymen

GOOD PULPIT ORATORY WAS GENERAL FEATURE

The Occasion Was the Feast of St. John Baptist, Patron Saint of the Cathedral

Yesterday being the Sunday within the octave of the Feast of St. John the Baptist, the Patron Saint of the Cathedral and city, the services at the Cathedral were those proper to the day.

Mathis was said by Rev. J. Brinton, Revs. Pittman and Jeffrey reading the lessons and Canon Bolt the Litany.

The Preacher

The preacher was the Rev. A. G. Bayley, M.A., who delivered an impressive discourse on sin and disaster, basing his remarks on 2 Chronicles 20, verse 37, "The ships were broken that they could not go."

Many Clergy Present

Besides the above mentioned clergy several others, including the Bishop, were present and took part in the procession.

Yesterday being also the eve of the Feast of St. Peter the service at Evensong was that proper to the first Evensong of the Feast. A large number of clergy took part in the procession. The office was sung by Rev. J. Brinton, assisted by Canon Bolt and Rev. Mr. Jeffrey.

Special Feast Day

To-day, the Feast of St. Peter, Apostle and Martyr, is being observed as the Patronal Festival of St. Augustine's College, Canterbury. A large number of the clergy of this diocese received their training at St. Augustine's, and they assembled at the Cathedral this morning to plead the merits of the Holy Sacrifice for the work of the College and its students.

St. Thomas's

Rev. H. J. Read, Rector at Channel, was the preacher at St. Thomas's Church yesterday morning and delivered a most impressive discourse. At Evensong the Lessons were read by Rev. A. Pittman and the preacher was the Rev. W. R. Higgett. Taking as his text "Sons of God," he delivered a forceful discourse, showing what was required of the Christian.

The Rev. gentleman spoke for three quarters of an hour and had the strictest attention of the congregation. It was a very able discourse and made a deep impression on the minds of all present.

SCHR. BURLEIGH FOR HUDSON BAY

Will Take North a Band of Practical Fishermen to Investigate the Value of the Fisheries There—Going On Canadian Government Service, Captain John Bartlett in Command.

Halifax, June 27.—Completing repairs on the marine slip the tern schooner Burleigh is now tied up at one of the dock yard piers receiving her finishing touches for the Hudson Bay service this season.

The Commander

Mr. Comeau of the Department at Ottawa will accompany the ship. She will be in charge of Captain John Bartlett, one of the famous Bartlett's whose Arctic explorations have made them world renowned.

Captain John Bartlett was commander of the steamer Algerine when two years ago, while conveying a party of gold seekers to Baffin Land, she was ice pinched off that coast and sunk. His nephew, Captain Bob Bartlett, is at present with the Karluk in northern Pacific waters.

"HANDS ACROSS THE SEA" CLUB TO GO ON TOUR

Arrangements Being Made in London For Accommodation of Overseas Teachers From This Country

THE COLONIALS WILL MAKE A TRIP THROUGH BRITAIN

Delegation Will Include a Number of Teachers From This Country

London, June 28.—Fred. J. Ney, honorary secretary of the 'Hands Across the Sea' movement, who recently arrived in London, is busy getting into shape a permanent residence in the West End of London to accommodate the visiting teachers from the Overseas Dominions.

He has just concluded arrangements with the London County Council for the exchange of twelve teachers for one year, the change to take place September next. He is also preparing for the annual trip of the Canadian teachers through Britain.

Sails July 3rd

The parties leave Montreal on July 3rd on the Gramplan, and will disembark at Plymouth from whence they will start on a six weeks' tour. Since the Empress disaster there have been forty withdrawals.

Besides this party, there are many from New Zealand and Newfoundland. Hon. J. R. Boyle, Minister of Education, and the Archbishop of Rupert's Land, are expected to accompany the teachers.

A large and reverent congregation gathered at the early Eucharist, many of whom made their communion.

At the 11 o'clock service the Rev. A. G. C. Stamp officiated, assisted by the Rev. F. P. Law, Priest of Heart's Delight, who gave a brilliant discourse on the sacraments, during which he made reference to the loss of a faithful son of the Church in the great sealing disaster.

Evensong was sung at 6.30 by the Priest in charge, it being the eve of the Festival of St. Peter, Apostle and Martyr, the altar being draped in festal red. The preacher was the Rev. H. Facey, Priest of White Rock.

Splendid Effort

Speaking from Matthew 16.16, "Thou art Christ, the Son of the Living God," he gave a beautiful treatise on the many successes and failures of the great apostle and drew many helpful lessons for the Church to-day. Proceeding the Rev. gentleman (Continued on page 6.)

Archduke Francis Ferdinand, Heir to Austro-Hungarian Throne, Slain In Streets of Bosnian City

Assassination Was the Work Of a Young Provincial Student

Archduke and His Wife Were Both Assassinated as They Made an Apparently Triumphal Tour Through the City.

Sarajevo, Bosnia, June 28.—Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his morganatic wife were shot in the main street of the capital to-day, by a student, while making apparently triumphant progress through the city on their annual visit to the annexed provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The Archduke was hit full in the face, and the Princess was shot through the abdomen and throat.

Their wounds proved mortal a few minutes after reaching the palace, to which they were hurried with all speed.

Ghastly Enemy

Those responsible for the assassination took care it should prove effective as there were two assailants, the first armed with a bomb, the other with a revolver.

The bomb thrown at the Royal automobile as it was proceeding toward the hall, where the reception was to be held, but the Archduke saw the deadly missile coming and warded it off with his arm and it fell outside the car and exploded, slightly wounding two aide de camps in the second car and half a dozen spectators.

Fatal Wounds

It was on the return procession that the tragedy took place. As the Royal automobile reached a prominent point on route to the palace, an eighth-grade student, Gavrie Prinzip, sprang out of the crowd and poured a fusillade of bullets from a pistol at the Archduke and Princess. Both fell mortally wounded.

Almost Lynched

Prinzip and fellow conspirator barely escaped lynching by the infuriated spectators and were finally seized by the police who afforded them protection. Both men are natives of the annexed Province Herzegovina.

The assassins, when questioned by the police, seemed to glory in their exploit. Prinzip declared he had long intended to kill some eminent person from Nationalist motives. He was waiting for the Archduke at a point where he knew the auto would slacken speed. The presence of the Princess in the car caused him to hesitate, but only for a moment, then his nerve returned and he emptied his pistol at the Imperial pair. Prinzip is 18 years old, a Galician, who is 21 years old told the police he had obtained the bomb from anarchists at Belgrade.

Fatal Wounds

Johnson Still Boxing Champ. Of The World But Frank Moran Stood Up For Twenty Rounds Before Being Defeated

Paris, June 29.—Jack Johnson holds the heavy weight championship of the world. In a hard-fought battle here to-night he defeated Frank Moran of Pittsburgh easily in a twenty-round contest. Moran was game and stubborn and stood up to the negro. He did lots of leading and made many friends. The blackman's superior skill and his effective upper cutting kept down his opponent and won for him a match which at times seemed rather amateurish.

Played Old Game

The terrific upper cuts on which Johnson had relied in many of his previous battles were again brought into play on his young adversary, who was unable to effectively block them. They were repeatedly sent to Moran's jaw, when he least expected them and several times with such force that the Pittsburgher was sent wabbling about but there was not a single knockdown or anything that looked like a finishing blow.

At the close of the bout Moran's face was bleeding from cuts and from the nose and under the left eye. Johnson showed no marks.

It was announced that the receipts exceeded $40,000 and it is understood that Moran is to get $5,000 and Johnson $30,000.

ANCHOR LINER ON THE ROCKS

The Gunboats Have Been Rushed to Assistance

Londonderry, June 28.—The Anchor liner, California, is on the rocks off Troy Island, and calling for assistance. Gunboats have left to render aid.

SONS OF ENGLAND

A special meeting of Dudley Lodge, S.O.E., takes place in Victoria Hall tomorrow evening when the sending of a delegate to the Supreme Lodge Session, and the proposed amendments to the Constitution will be discussed.

CONNAUGHT MAY GO TO IRELAND

Report In London That He is to Succeed Earl of Aberdeen.

London, June 29.—If, as now seems probable, taking into consideration the recent march of events, Home Rule becomes an accomplished fact, says Reynolds's newspaper, the Duke of Connaught will succeed the Earl of Aberdeen as Lord Lieutenant.

POLICE STOP ENROLMENTS

Vienna, June 28.—The police to-day prohibited further enrollment of volunteers among the returned officers and men of the Austro-Hungarian armies, many of whom were to go to Albania to protect Prince William of Wied.

SHORTEST DISTANCE ACROSS ATLANTIC

Is From Newfoundland to Ireland—1650 Miles.

Halifax, June 24.—A gentleman writing from New York to a friend in Halifax says: "I was surprised the other day to see in a Nova Scotia paper an article copied from the Cleveland Plain Dealer, headed 'The Narrowest Atlantic,' in which it was stated that 'between Brazil and Guinea the Atlantic Ocean is only about 1800 miles wide. From Newfoundland to Ireland the narrowest breadth north of the Equator, is nearly twice as far.' The distance from land to land—Newfoundland to Ireland—does not exceed 1650 miles."

CARRIED REGULAR ARSENAL

London, June 25.—The trial to-day of the suffragette Miss Irene Casey, who was arrested at the time of the King's recent visit to Nottingham has revealed that she was carrying in her dressing bag a regular arsenal, including four quarter-pound boxes of a high explosive, detonators, twenty feet of fuse, a bottle of benzine, chisel, pliers, and a glass cutter.

Clara Carter, of Grand Junction, Colo., an invalid, predicted the hour of her own death a week in advance.

A Russian is not of age until he is 26 years old. Until that time at least four-fifths of his earnings must go to his parents.

MUCH CRITICISM OF HONORS LIST

English Papers Think That It Smacks Too Much of Reward to Party Politicians—General Approval Though of the Honor Done to Lord Kitchen-er and To R. L. Borden.

Montreal, June 28.—The Daily Express comes out strongly against the list of names on the King's Birthday honors, says a London cable to The Daily Mail. The catalogue, The Express declares, exhausts all the possibilities, and claims that dull nonentities have received the distinction.

"The list is only redeemed by the earldom conferred upon Lord Kitchen-er, and that of Grand Commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, granted the Right Hon. R. L. Borden." The Express thinks that the latter honor is a very proper recognition of the worth of true statesmanship.

Too Many Politicians

"It is the one appointment upon which the Government may claim some congratulation," says the editorial. "The Chronicle says the list calls for very little comment. It thinks the honors given for the sake of party politics are unusually large, many unexpected officials having been noticed."

Great Favorites

Personally, the Archduke and his wife were almost as great favorites in England as they were in German court circles. They were frequently visitors to London, generally coming incognito, because of court etiquette which prevented the Duchess from being officially recognized for the reason that she was not of Royal Blood.

The Archduke and Duchess visited King George and Queen Mary at Windsor last year and were shown every possible attention. News of the assassination caused a deep impression in London. When word of it came from the British Embassy at Vienna, the King sent a telegram of sympathy and ordered all court affairs cancelled.

Suffragettes Circumvented The Policemen

London, June 28.—Militant suffragettes circumvented the police to-day and bombarded King George and Queen Mary with leaflets at the entrance to Hyde Park.

A bundle of papers struck the King's hat and threw it sideways, while the Queen's parasol caught another shower of leaflets. The women were seized and carried away, struggling violently.

NEWFOUNDLANDER DEAD AT SYDNEY

Passing of C. J. Phalen of The Western Union Staff.

Canso, June 29.—P. J. Phalen died suddenly yesterday. He was a member of the Western Union Cable staff and was just returning to work after a month's vacation. He was a native of Newfoundland and leaves a wife and five children.

Sir Henry Lucy Says National Crisis at Hand

London, June 25.—Sir Henry Lucy, a prominent Liberal of long Parliamentary experience, whose relations with Ministers are often intimate, writing in the Observer, says: "The Irish question has drifted into what looks like a helpless impasse, and except by modifying the Home Rule Bill in favor of Ulster, the Government are at the end of their tether. Ulster still insists upon the absolute and final exclusion of the province from the Bill. This Mr. Asquith cannot, and will not, grant, and a remarkable Nationalist volunteer organization exists to prevent it."

"Moreover," Mr. Lucy says, "a considerable and influential section of the Ministerialists in the House of Commons would turn and rend the Government if they thus mutilated the fundamental principle of Home Rule, namely, the ultimate unity of Ireland under a Parliament in Dublin."

"As things are now moving the Home Rule Bill will be added to the statute book without any agreement as to the Amending Bill."

NEW POST OFFICE AT HARBOR GRACE HAS BEEN OPEN'D

And The Harbor Grace Standard Has Something to Say About its Advantages and Disadvantages

COFFISH ARE VERY SCARCE AND ARE SMALL IN SIZE

Old Customs Building to be Used as a Hospital—News of the General Trade

Harbor Grace, June 26.—The work of removing the Customs, Postal Telegraph, and Post and Savings Bank Offices into the new Public Building was completed on Tuesday last, when the Post Office was opened to the public. The Post Office is approached by a short flight of steps. It is a very spacious and generally well arranged. The post office boxes have been increased to 120 in number, and placed on the side, away from the general delivery. They may be got access to by the front or by a side entrance. Box owners may get their mail on Sundays from 9 to 11 a.m.—a fish of one and flesh of another arrangement, we scarcely think well of, particularly as there is little rush concerning letters in our day of cheap telegrams. The boxes will not likely be half taken up unless the price of the smaller size were brought down to half or so of what it is, which is $1.20.

Savings Bank

The Savings Bank Office adjoins the inside part of the P.O., and the open grill partition should be sheathed with board so as to insure desirable privacy. For the same reason there should be a partition run up to separate the general place of entry for postal matter from the place where people write their postal telegrams and speak to the operator on matters connected therewith. The operator's room, which we are pleased to say is fitted with a telephone, is a miserably cramped place. With these exceptions, the quarters on the first flat are generally pleasing, convenient and commodious. The Customs Office, which has also a telephone, is situated on the next flat, to the south of the commodious Town Hall, and part of the basement also, is devoted to that branch of the public service. Some little adjustment are necessary to make it "just right."

Use It As Hospital

It is rumored that the old Custom House building will shortly be converted into a hospital for operating purposes. A hospital is badly needed, and it is better to take a half loaf than no bread. It will be a stepping stone for something better. The Rev. Canon Noel went to St. John's by Saturday's forenoon train to conduct divine service on Sunday at the Cathedral. The Rev. C. M. Stickings takes his place, during his absence.

Codfish Scarce

Codfish have been very scarce and small in size here; but the "signs" of them the past few days and the coming in of the caplin give some encouragement to the hope that the late fishery will be moderately good. Mr. G. G. Christian, the well-known and popular traveller for Messrs. Archibald Bros., Ltd., is on a combined business and pleasure trip to the United States. He left this on Friday morning last for St. John's where he took the S.S. Florizel for New York. He will also visit Boston and other places.

CONTENTS THAT THE CAPTAIN AND OFFICERS TOLD FALSE STORY ABOUT SEAS VISITORS

ALSO THAT CAPT. KENDALL WAS ALTOGETHER UNNERVED AND LOST HIS HEAD WHEN THE COLLIER Hove IN SIGHT AND EMPRESS WAS UNMANAGEABLE

Quebec, June 28.—Contending that the story submitted to the Empress Commission by the captain and officers of the lost liner was false, and that the present heading of the hull proves the Storstad's owners' conviction as to how the collision took place, and that Captain Kendall, unnerved by the appearance of the collier after his steering gear had broken down, lost his head, formed the main part of the address made by E. R. Haight, on Saturday.

He attempted to show that the collier was not blameworthy for the collision, which was caused solely by the Empress being stopped directly in the path of the Storstad. His speech, which lasted four hours, was well reasoned out and gave evidence of being carefully prepared.

After thanking counsel for their close application to their several tasks, Lord Mersey adjourned the sittings, and as Haight concluded and sat down, Lord Mersey addressed him "Your case involves the necessary conclusion that Capt. Kendall and his witnesses have deliberately placed a story before us that is false."

"That is the effect of it," Haight concluded.

"After that, the deluge. We are on the brink of a grave national crisis. The duty of all citizens is to recognize, and prepare to deal with, implacable facts."

Several popular artists have consented to take part.
