The Canadian Freeman, referring to the Bank's murder says a coincidence in connection with the sad affair is that Michael Garret, father of the accused in this case, was killed much in the same manner as Banks at Sharbot Lake, when the building of the K. & P. R. was going on. The four men accused of the murder were tried at Kingston and acquitted.

An unusual sight was witnessed in Perth on a recent Sunday morning. A farmer from the township of Burgess appeared in town on Sunday morning about ten o'clock with a load of wood. He had been in town on Saturday with a load of wood and he went back home with a load of hogs, the latter probably making him forget that the following day was Sunday. He left the wood in a local boat yard until Monday when he sold it.

On Friday morning, about two o'clock, the frame house on the farm about a mile west of Lyn, recently purchased by Mr. C. A. Kincaid from Mrs. James Bissell, of the town, was burned to the ground. Superintendent Kelo, who looks after neglected children, is right when he claims that the junk shop is responsible for seventy-five per cent, of juvenile crime. The proprietors seem to be so avaricious that they will buy from old and young alike, without making the necessary inquiries, and by so doing encourage theft in that they provide a market for the plunder.

Wm. Young of North Bay, a C. P. R. conductor, died some time ago, leaving $1,000 insurance in the Catholic Order of Foresters. His brother John was named beneficiary in the policy, but his will, made three days before his death, decreed that the money be given to Mary Ann Gillie, who had nursed him throughout a long illness. The rules of the society, it is said, did not permit such a transfer, while the Ontario Insurance Act does. At all events Mrs. Gillie's husband sued John Young for the money, and was unsuccessful before Chief Justice Falconbridge, whose decision, however, is overturned by a judgment given by the Divisional Court on Wednesday.

An exchange very truly says "You no doubt 'hear' things every day that are not true, and repeat them. Try not to do it. It is surprising how many things are told that are untrue and cruel. It is surprising how many people like this sort of talk. Be above circulating an untrue and damaging story about any one to oblige some mischievous gossip. There is no place too hot for the gossip monger. The man or woman who circulates mischievous gossip about their neighbors, are liars, and the people soon find them out. In nearly every instance these scandal mongers are trying to cover up their own misdeeds by lying about their neighbors."

There need be no hesitation in answering the questions of the enumerators in regard to confidential matters when a census comes to be taken next month. Every officer or other person employed in taking the census is required to keep inviolate the secrecy of the information gathered by enumerators and entered on the schedules. Enumerators are not allowed to show schedules, keep copies of them or give out any information, directly or indirectly, and the same obligation of secrecy rests on the employers of the census at Ottawa. No information in regard to the census is to be given out in advance of the printed bulletins or reports, except by the head office of the census, acting under the authority and by the direction of the Minister of Agriculture.

It is a minister was one day walking along a road, and to his astonishment he saw a crowd of boys sitting in front of a ring with a small dog in the centre. When he came up to them he put the following question: "What are you doing to the dog?"

One of the little boys said: "Whoever tells the biggest lie wins it."

"Oh," said the minister, "I am surprised at you little boys for when I was like you I never told a lie!"

There was silence for a while, until one of the boys shouted: "Hand him up the dog!"

PECULIAR PROBLEM. Subtract 45 from 45 and have 45 left. It can be done, strange to say Here is the method: Put down the numerals 1 to 9 in a row in reverse order; underneath place the same numerals in regular order. The sum of the figures is 45: subtract the lower from the upper:

9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1—45 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—45

8 6 4 1 9 7 3 2—45 The sum of the third line of figures is also 45. Thus you have taken 45 from 45 and have 45 as a remainder.

Rev. J. R. Frizzell, B. A., is now in charge of the Presbyterian churches of Athens and Toledo, and on Sabbath the Athenian congregation heard with pleasure and profit his eloquent discourse on "The Sinlessness of Christ." He will occupy the manse at Toledo.

Mr. W. H. Comstock of Brockville gives this explanation of the naming of his pair, Sloppy Weather: "Long before she took a record of 2.14 1-2, in fact, when she started in her first green race it happened. It was at Canton N. Y., several years ago. When the race in which she was entered was called it was raining. What's the name of your mare?" inquired the judges of the quaint old fellow who had her in charge. She hasn't any nor was the quick reply. And looking round for a minute said: Just put her down Sloppy Weather! So there you have it. I am not afraid of anybody stealing her name either."
