SERIOUSLY INJURED

On Wednesday afternoon last Miss Addie Hunt, professional nurse, was very seriously injured in New York city, having both legs cut off by a rail way train.

A telegram to Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Stevens announced the accident, and they at once obeyed the call to "come at once." They were driven to Brockville on Thursday and took the afternoon train to New York. They found Miss Hunt in a critical condition in Flushing hospital, and the medical men then gave very little hope of her recovery. The first particulars of the accident reached here in a letter written by Mr. Luther Murphy who visited the hospital immediately on learning of the accident.

Miss Hunt had lately been giving electrical massage treatments, and it was while returning from a regular visit to a patient that the accident occurred.

A New York paper reports the accident as follows:—

"Miss Hunt was driven from Miss Alger's home, which adjoins W. Gould Brokaw's summer residence, to the station at Great Neck. She left the carriage and stood waiting for the train, which had almost reached the station.

"Suddenly she ran across the track to the carriage to get something she had forgotten. The train had begun to move. Miss Hunt ran for it and in crossing the east bound track was struck down by a train from Long Island City. The wheels of the locomotive cut both legs off, one just above the ankle and the other near the knee.

"Passengers on the train for New York had seen the accident and the train was stopped. It backed into the station and Miss Hunt was put in the baggage car. Mr. H. Bramhall Gilbert, brother-in-law of W. Gould Brokaw, ran up at this moment and took charge.

"The engine driver was told to put on all speed for Flushing, a run of fourteen minutes, and a telegram was sent ahead for an ambulance. Mr. Gilbert in the car ripped off his shirt, disregarding costly links and studs, knelt on the floor of the car and showed that he knew something of "first aid to the injured."

"He was aided by a young woman passenger, and together they did what they could by improvised tourniquets to stop the hemorrhage. Mr. Gilbert stuck to his work of nurse until the train pulled into Flushing, where an ambulance from the Flushing Hospital was met by the train.

"Dr. Benoit, of the hospital, who came with the ambulance, said there was not much hope that the woman would live. If she does it will be due to the quick action of Mr. Gilbert."

Latest reports indicate that Miss Hunt will recover. The news was a great shock to her friends here, among whom she has spent the greater part of her life. Her profession took her into the homes of many wealthy people, and they are testifying their friendship by securing for her the best medical and nursing skill obtainable.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens will remain until there is a decided change in the patient's condition.

Anglican Lawn Social

The lawn social held on the grounds of the Rectory by the ladies of Christ Church on Friday evening last fully met the expectations of all interested. The weather was perfect, and the large attendance included many from neighboring villages. The lawn was illuminated with Chinese lanterns and a booth at which confections and fruit were sold was elaborately ornamented with flags, bunting and colored lamps. The company was most sociable and thoroughly enjoyed the hour spent amidst such beautiful surroundings. Piano music and selections from an excellent phonograph added to the pleasure of the evening. The refreshments included sandwiches, a variety of cakes, ice cream, tea and coffee, and they were promptly served by an efficient staff of waiters. The net proceeds of the social amounted to about $100.

Public Holiday

In accordance with the desire of a large proportion of the business men of Athens, the recess requests that Monday next be observed as a holiday instead of Saturday (Dominion Day). The business places generally will be closed on that day, and the public are respectfully requested to note the fact.

Strawberry Festival

A monster strawberry festival and brilliant illumination will be held on the parsonage grounds, Addison, on Wednesday evening, July 5th. There will be an attractive programme, consisting of recitations, songs, brief speeches by prominent speakers, etc. A large orchestra will furnish music. Admission, 25 cents; children, 15 cents. If weather unfavorable, will be held the following evening.

The 12th in Athens

Bills announcing the 12th of July celebration in Athens by the L. O. L. of the County of North Leeds will be issued this week. Music will be furnished by the Newboro Brass Band, and a number of distinguished speakers will be present, including Geo. Taylor, M.P., J. R. Dargavell, M.L.A., Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald, Rev. S. J. Hughes, M.A., Rev. L. M. Weeks, B.D., Rev. R. B. Patterson, M.A., R. G. Harvey, Esq., and A. E. Donovan, Esq. Special excursion rates will be given on regular trains of the B.W. & N.W.

The Drainage Proposal

The meeting called by Mr. Loverin, Village Engineer, on Monday evening, to arrange for putting down the big drain in the south ward, was not very largely attended. It was a representative gathering, however, and the result will be accepted as conclusive. Mr. W. G. Parish was elected chairman and Mr. H. Jones, secretary. Mr. Loverin detailed the steps he had taken since his appointment to the office of Engineer and submitted statistics of measurement and estimate of cost. The total length would be 1,775 feet and the cost complete, using cement tile, he estimated would be $767.51. This estimate covers cost of everything, including superintendence, connecting existing private drains with the new drain, etc.

The matter was discussed at length, and it soon became evident that a unanimous opinion on the mode of procedure and basis of payment was out of the question, and the meeting adjourned at a late hour without any progress having been made, excepting the agreement to disagree.

Mr. Loverin now announces his intention of proceeding with the work under the powers conferred by the Ditches and Watercourses Act.

Home from California

On Saturday last Mr. R. D. Judson returned home, after spending the winter at the Coast, and is being warmly welcomed by old friends. He left here on Dec. 26, and his arrival in Ontario County, California, was a very pleasant experience. He travelled in company with Mr. P. Strong and made his headquarters at that gentleman's ranch in California. From that point he made trips to mining villages in the mountains, to the chief cities, business centres and winter pleasure resorts, orange groves, fruit farms, plantations, etc., and after carefully considering the whole industrial situation, as he viewed it, he is of opinion that life there is not quite so strenuous as here and that the returns are rather better.

A trip to the Santa Catalina islands furnished him with material for a fish story that will put old Whitefish Joe out of business.

On leaving California this spring, Mr. Judson visited a number of the coast towns, including Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane. At Spokane he found our former townsman, Mr. Arthur Robeson, engaged in real estate business. He then visited friends at Victoria and Vancouver, spent a month in the Territories and Manitoba, and came home via the C.P.R. steamers from Fort William. The trip has agreed with him thoroughly, and he has probably only said adieu and not farewell to the Pacific Slope.

There was to have been a wedding at the Methodist church, Winchester, Thursday afternoon of last week, but owing to the absence of the bridal couple, failed to take place. The minister was all in readiness and about one hundred and fifty spectators were present to witness the ceremony. A messenger informed the minister that the contracting parties were at the parsonage and desired his presence there. The spectators, taking the hint from the minister's departure, quietly dispersed. It seems the bride was too modest to stand before the crowd and preferred the seclusion of the parsonage. When last seen the couple were entering the photographer's studio.
