Long Delay.

Halifax, June 11.—Twenty Maritime Province passengers by the Empress of Ireland from Liverpool, arrived Saturday night in a very angry frame of mind. They bought their tickets in London on the explicit understanding, they allege, that the Empress was to land them at Sydney. Two days after leaving Liverpool the captain announced that he irad received orders to proceed to Rimouski.

The passengers protested, but in vain. Off Cape Race they sent a protest by wireless telegraphy to Sir Richard Cartwright, acting Premier, but got un reply. Then at Rimeuski, they were told the sea was too rough and the tender too small to disembark, and they were taken on to Quebec, where, they say, they were left to look out for themselves, while their baggage was sent on to Montreal thy mistake.

Had they landed at Sydney, Halifax would have been reached Wednesday night.

Suffered Tortures With Terrible, Dry Eruptions Since Reaching Manhood-Doctors All Failed-Became too Disfigured to Leave House - Now Well and Says:

CUTICURA REMEDIES WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD

"I cannot help expressing to you my most sincere thanks for the benefit which I have derived from the use of Cuticura Remedies. They represent a perfect miracle and each set is worth itsweight in gold to suffering humanity. Ever since the time I grew into manhood I have been suffering from a dry eruption which at times appeared very extensively, and at other times, but to a limited degree, on my body. I consulted a number of medical men without result, and last January I was affected with a terrible eruption on my hands, scalp, and face, which was so bad that I could not even leave the house, so I finally resorted to Cuticura. "In the morning after breakfast I took a tablespoonful of Cuticura Resolvent, the same after dinner and supper. Three times a day I washed myself with Cuticura Soap, and three times a week I took a bot bath with Cuticura Soap and applied Cuticura Ointment to the parts that were painful. So far my Cuticura Remedies represent an outlay of only a few dollars and I am completely restored to health, while formerly I had spent dollars upon dollars on doctors, remedies, and ointments without getting cured. Needless to say, I am quite ready to spend my last cent for Cuticura Remedies. Henry E. Kamping, 633 Eagle Ave., New York, N. Y., Feb, 16 and Mar. 15, 1906."

MANIA FOR CONFESSING

One Line of Attack on Orchard's Evidence by Defence.

Suggestion of Great Counter Conspiracy-Under Influence of the Detectives-Planning the Vandicator Mine Explosion-Burned a Cheese Factory-Received $600 Insurance-Controlled Federation.

Boise, Idaho, June 11-Into the fur-tective McPartland. He showed some spirit in answering many of Attorney Richardson's questions, but he firmly held to all of his first stories, and was calm and certain throughout the long, trying examination. Two more crimes were brought home to him. He confessed that he burned a cheese factory in Ontario to get $600 insurance, and that he began his life of crime by selling cheese at short weight.

Orchard Corrects.

Orchard Cowects.

Harry Orchard was still on the stand when yesterday's session was begun at 9.35 a.m.

Orchard first asked permission to correct two statements made by him on Saturday, one that Bill Easterly and himself had made bombs with "Pettibone dope" at Cripple Creek, and the other that he and Steve Adams had carried their shotguns in holsters when they were stalking Governor Peabody. He said Billy Ackerman, and not Easterly, made the experiments with him, and that he and Adams did not carry their guns in holsters.

Adams did not carry their guns in holsters.

Attorney Richardson, for the defence, brought out that Orchard was in conference with Detective McPartland yesterday morning, and with McPartland and Attorney Hawley before, and that each meening he visits Hawley's office.

"Didn't McPartland speak to you about the method by which you could withstand cross-examination?" demanded Mr. Richardson.

"No, sir," replied Orchord, "but he spoke of what gave me strength to go through the examination."

Orchard has professed religion.

Orchard said he had first discussed the blowing up of the Independence depot with Parker and Davis, the strike managers in the Cripple Creek district. Haywood whispered constantly so his attorney at this juncture.

ly to his attorney at this juncture. Federation In Jeopardy. Orchard said he later discussed the Independence matter with Parker and Davis in Denver, and in the lobby of the control of the lobby o Davis in Denver, and in the lobby of the miners' convention, which then was in session. The witness declared that it was because Haywood's control of the federation was in jeepardy in the convention that the leaders wanted "something pulled off."

Richardson next jumped back to the Lyle Gregory murder in Denver, asking if Orchard had not gone to the Adams Hotel that evening.

"No sir," replied the witness, "I first went to Pettibone's backyard and buried the sawed-off shotgun and then went home." Orchard denied he had jumped from a window of the Adams Hotel, while Detective Chief Loomis of Denver sought him.

Attorney Richardson finally asked Orchard suddenly: "Look here, have you been cautioned not to give definitely any time or place during this cross-examination?"

"I have been cautioned as to nother that it was the cautioned as to nother that the testing the same transport to the cautioned as to nother that the testing the same transport to the same transport to the cautioned as to nother that the testing the same transport to the same

First Money From Pettibone.
Orchard thought the first money he received from Pettibone was paid him in the zear of the latter's store. Usually no one was present at the interviews regarding money, except himself, Adams, Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone. During the time he and Adams were "working on Mr. Peabody," Orchard said they got $50 or $100 whenever they worked for it.
"Now these defendants had nothing to do with planning the Vindicator mine explosion?" suggested Richardson." First Money From Pettibone.

"Nothing, other than to pay it," replied Orchard. They had nothing to do with any
