immigration question, which has been the subject of considerable comment in The Planet recently, is one of the important problems to' be discussed at the coming meeting of the trades and labor congress for the Dominion at Winnipeg, and if the other delegates share his feeling in the matter, the probable result of the discussion will be in the framing of a place renowned in history. Here when they arrive they find there is nothing for them to do where they expected to find employment, and they are simply dumped into the country, sometimes without any means of support whatever.

"The result is naturally to breed discontent, and as a further result visited Baltimore, and from there to be specified by of Washington city. They then discontent, and as a further result visited Baltimore, and from there to be seen to the country of the country. discontent, and as a further result the Canadian workingman suffers in many cases. Then men who are landed in the country begin to look for work in towns and cities, and in many cases the workingman who has been earning a fair wage finds himself displaced for a man who is willing to accept a smaller wage.

"The kind of immigrants we want are not artisans, but agricultural farmers and railway builders and from there to Philadelphia, where at that time the city was decorated for the Elks meeting. They visited the art gallery, which is supposed to be the best in the world. They saw many families and They work. While in New York they visited Madison Square and saw the roof garden, where Harry Thaw shot Stanford White. This was particularly interesting, as the roof garden is regarded now as a world renowned.

farmers and railway builders, and steps should be taken by the Government to direct the incoming tide in the proper channels. As an ideal arrangement the system in New Zealand is worth looking to. There the Government will even step in and take over land from owners of large tracts which are not under cultivation, turning it over to settlers who are allowed to pay the Government out of their annual returns. In Ontario it would not be necessary to do that, as the province already owns large tracts of land, but when such large sums of money are being expended to bring in new settlers, the Government should assume greater control."

A COUNTRY ROAD

By Jean Blewett.

Not this road, friend; 'tis whim of To turn my back on beach and pine And running brooks that sing and shine, The while your prospects you define, And press your suit with ease. I went this road another day,

A glowing, pulsing, perfect day. The growing grasses laughed with The young leaves quivered in their glee;

The ox-eyed daisies peeped to see So glad a thing as I.

As I, a-trembling with sweet fear, Because of one who lingered near, Because he whispered in my ear The very words I longed to hear; Because—because he was so dear— Not this road, friend, I pray.

Of this one spot my thought doth make
A garden rare for old sake's sake;
And should your foot crush fern or
i brake,
Or or-eyed daisy, wide awake,
This worldly heart of mine would

RAPS DOMINION SYSTEM.

Allan Studhomme, M. P. P. for East Hamilton, the labor representative in the Provincial House who is now in Windsor on missionary work, expresses the opinion that the Ontario Government should exercise greater control in directing the tide of immigration that is being brought in by the Salvation Army and other organizations. The immigration question, which has been the subject of considerable comment in the world and is far superior to the displays at the Pan American and St. Louis exhibitions. They were at the Park the night before the big fire, and the louise the light before the big fire, and the ter, the probable result of the discussion will be in the framing of a strongly worded memorial demanding that each province adopt some definite system for controlling immigration.

"The present system," says Mr. Studhomme in speaking of the methods employed by the Dominion Government, "is in reality nothing more than a dumping system, and in many cases people are enticed to Canada through entirely false representations. They are made to believe that there is work waiting for them, but when they arrive they find there is

Take Hall's Family Pills for

New York, Aug. 3.—George Weeener, employed by the New York & New Jersey Telephone Co., was instantly killed by electricity at Mineola. Wesener held one end of a measuring tape, made of linen or cotton and coated with a sort of shellac, while his assistant climbed a pole with the other end. There was no metal on the tape. When the man aloft let go the tape it struck a high tension wire.
