EXAMINATION OF ST. JOSEPH'S SCHOOL.—The first examination of St. Joseph's School, held in St. Andrew's Hall, Poyser Street, took place on Thursday, the 6th instant. The fine Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, with a very large audience of all denomination. The front seats were occupied by the venerable Bishop of Charlotteville, by several of the Catholic Clergy; and on the left of the Bishop we noticed the estimable Chief Justice, the Honorable Robert Hodgson. The children who composed the School were very numerous—all little girls from about three years up to ten or twelve—they were dressed very tastefully and all looked healthy and pretty. The School is under the management of some of the good Ladies of the Congregation Notre Dame, and was organized for the purpose of affording an education to those poor children living at the west end of the City, whose parents can not afford to send them to the Convent, and also for the benefit of orphans depending entirely for subsistence on the charity of poor relations. The School is, indeed, to a large extent, a free one, and its establishment and successful operation reflect great credit on the Ladies who have charge of it, and upon the good Bishop to whom it is indebted for its existence, and who is its most liberal Patron.
The exercises consisted of examinations in spelling and grammar; geography and arithmetic; sacred history; Kerney's history; dialogues; a very interesting dramatic piece, entitled "Pride punished and Virtue rewarded"—the whole course of the exercises being interspersed with songs of music, and recitations. The classes, (for there were more than one,) in geography and arithmetic, created much admiration for the promptness and correctness with which they answered the numerous questions put to them; and in all the classes showed that they had been instructed with great care and success.
After the distribution of prizes by the Bishop, his Lordship addressed the children, congratulating them on the advancement they had made in so short a time, exhorting them to renewed efforts when their holidays would be over—pointing out to them how far their success in life depended upon their own industry and industry upon their minds, and the advantages of a moral, intellectual, and religious education, which St. Joseph's School was so well qualified to afford, without any sacrifice on their part but a little time.—Ed.

NEW YORK, July 15.—At the Commercial Convention yesterday, at Detroit, Mr. Howe of Nova Scotia announced that the annexation of the British Provinces to the United States had no place in the minds of the Provinces. He added that any one who should go the hangings as an advocate for annexation would be treated as a fugitive from the loyalty and alliance due from him to his British America.
A resolution recommending the negotiation of a reciprocity treaty received the unanimous vote of the Convention.

TESTIMONIALS.—REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF HOTEL PROPRIETORS, PUBLISHED BY GREAT PATENT GAS COOKING STOVES. CHICAGO, ILL.—We, the undersigned, present by invitation, yesterday, to witness the operation and working of the new principle of gas used for cooking purposes, were present during a series of experiments, in our view fully calling out the utility of these stoves. As the result of a special experiment the following was performed:—
Roastbeef was cooked in four minutes, its juices and flavor retained; and, further, the claim of the inventor abundantly sustained, that by this process much fat is rendered tender and makes an early application at the Gas Works, as only a limited number will be disposed of.
Bread cut fresh from the new loaf was delicately browned in six minutes.
In each case these viands would be pronounced deliciously and thoroughly cooked. In the case of the meats, the exterior surface was cooked, the interior remained uncooked, the substance of the whole, when cooked retained their juices and flavor.
In neither nor any case was there the faintest perceptible odor or vapor of gas in or about the Stoves, or in the food when cooked. We regard the process as entirely superior and successful.
