

CORSET SATISFACTION.

Correct corseting proves a revelation to all types of forms. It not only remedies defects by giving lines of grace, but adds a buoyant elastic step. When you buy a Corset it is worth while to get all the information you can on the subject. Many of the things that determine the value of a Corset are out of sight. The exterior of may resemble many other Corsets, but there is no other make of Corset to which the interior corresponds. Our styles for 1918 are selected from the very best makes we know, and you will find that the model our Sales-woman selects for you will be correct in every detail. They are guaranteed not to Rust, Break or Tear.

A New Disease.

By RUTH CAMERON.

A friend of mine has a new complaint. Like all new diseases, it is at present quite rare (are you old enough to remember what a distinction the first few cases of appendicitis lent their victims? And now appendicitis is really quite too ordinary, but he feels sure that it will rapidly become more common.

The name he gives to this complaint is "autosis." Its symptoms are a profound aversion to riding in an automobile (except for the definite purpose of getting somewhere). He says he would just as lief be wheeled about in a baby carriage as to be everlastingly toted around the country in an auto.

The Mistaken Kindness Of Friends. Its cause is mistaken kindness on the part of his friends. They have been gradually acquiring autos, and they are filled with a desire to cheer up his poor autoless state with rides. "It was all right at first," he said, "I quite enjoyed it. But it's becoming a regular nuisance. I either have to hurt somebody's feelings, or I have to go riding over the same blamed country about once in so often. They all take me to see the same 'lovely stretches' of road. And, confound it, I'd ten times rather be reading a book or playing a game of tennis."

He words touched an answering chord in my heart. I wouldn't go so far as to say that I have autosis. In fact, there are certain purposes for which I distinctly like autos. If I am hived up in the city, I love to have something come and take me for a spin into the country. I also highly appreciate the utility of an auto as a means of keeping in touch with friends. And I am sure I should adore to go-a-gyping from place to place en auto. But I am one with the victim of autosis, in having no use for being trundled about the same old country in an auto just for the sake of keeping in motion. Time is so precious and there are so many things one wants to do. Of course, I can easily look back to the time when a ride in an automobile was an adventure. I can distinctly recall the glamour of my first few years, it has come to this! Will We Get Tired Of Flying? One wonders, of course, if one will live to see the same thing happen to air travel. Shall you and I see the day when an invitation to aviate will be a commonplace? It seems impossible, and yet look back and see the impossibilities that have become commonplaces. But what, completely staggers my mind is this—after that, what then? What on earth will the next generation see pass from an impossibility to a commonplace? Perhaps it won't be on earth at all, but in a broader realm. Who knows?

Supreme Court.

DOOLEY ACQUITTED. Following recess from yesterday morning's sitting, the Supreme Court resumed its hearing in the case of Rex vs. Dooley at 2:30 o'clock, when the evidence of Dr. McDonald, who attended the late Robert Penney before death, and also assisted Dr. J. S. Tait at the post-mortem, was taken, as was also the evidence of Capt. Howley, of the Record Office, who read to the Court the record, kept by the Militia Department, of the deceased. The accused was next examined by Mr. W. J. Higgins and cross-examined by Mr. C. B. Hunt. At 3:40 o'clock Mr. Higgins addressed the jury, and was followed by Mr. Hunt, both of whom in a very learned and able manner dealt with the case from their respective positions. At 4:40 the Chief Justice charged the jury, who retired to their Chamber at 5 o'clock and after 40 minutes deliberation, filed back into Court, and through their foreman, Mr. J. A. Williams, announced a verdict of Not Guilty. The accused was thereupon released.

Just Folks.

By EDGAR A. GUEST. THE LILAC BUSH. There's more within a lilac bush than clumps of purple bloom. And Mother Nature's kindly grace and delicate perfume. There's more than springtime's loveliness for weary eyes to see; I think the lilac keeps alive the joys that used to be. The lilac lived when I was young and bloomed beside the door. And it has treasured all the smiles that I shall see no more. It holds the gentle mother's charms, the little sister's too. And all the tenderness and love which as a boy I knew. It keeps the souls of loved one fine, and when the breezes blow I seem to hear the voices lost that spoke so long ago. And in its clustered blossoms laughing gayly back at me. Are the wondrous happy faces that I'm hungering to see. It is of the family circle, it's a friend we know and love. It is memory, never fading, of the ones who've gone above. And each springtime I am living with the joys that used to be, in the fragrance and the beauty of the simple lilac tree.

WAKING UP. The government is wakening from its profound repose; it's nudging round a huddled mass of things to can the foe. Big men are being chosen to make a k e things hump along; our feet, which have been frozen, will know s o m e warm ere long. Ford's building naval divers, or something of the kind, to give the Teuton shivers, and knock the U-boats blind. And Schwab is nimbly skipping along Atlantic piers, to hustle up the shipping, that's badly in arrears. And Ryan has been captured to turn out aeroplanes, and every one's enraptured who knows this man of brains. And Edison, the wizard, has something up his sleeve to chill the Teuton gizzard, and make the Kaiser grieve. Our Uncle Sam has risen, he takes a wiser stand; the nation's brains are his'n, to order and command. The giants it is calling, they come with loyal cheers; the little men are falling back to their normal spheres. In times of peace the lawyers may do official chores, but when the foe's destroyers are threatening our shores, we need the towering giant, conditions to improve, the captain, self-reliant, who's built to make things move. The Government is looking for big men, everywhere; the giants it is booking don't deal in heated air.

Everyday Etiquette.

"When the first course at dinner is soup should it be on the table before the guests are seated?" asked Marie. "No, the maid may serve the soup from the kitchen or the hostess, from a serving tureen," said her aunt.

Fishermen, now is the time to secure O. Mustard's Jiggers or P. H. Hooks. They are bright, small and act as a minnow, attach small swivels to make it spin. Just try this famous Norwegian fish killer, any ordinary lead sinker will suit, but place one swivel above the sinker and the other below to keep your line from twisting. apr26,tf

PRISONERS OF WAR AS INDUSTRIAL WORKERS. AMSTERDAM, May 22. (Correspondent of the Associated Press.)—Our growing labor army, in the description applied by the German newspaper to their prisoners of war, is an official statement the German people are notified that Germany and her Allied States now hold 3,575,000 prisoners. The statement lays stress on the supreme value of these prisoners, as man power for industries and agriculture. They will go far, it is said, to compensate Germany, for the men she has had to withdraw from peaceful pursuits for active military service. The longer war lasts the more adaptable and useful these prisoners become, says the statement.

SPANISH VESSELS ABANDONED. PARIS, May 22. Apparently having had a severe encounter with a submarine, the Spanish sailing vessel Jacquina, 333 tons, has been found abandoned and drifting near the African coast by a fishing vessel. There was no trace of the crew, whose fate is unknown.

AUSTRIAN ROYALTY VISITS TURKEY. AMSTERDAM, May 22. Emperor Charles and Empress Zita, of Austria-Hungary, arrived at Constantinople on Sunday. They were met at the station by the Sultan, the Turkish Ministers and diplomatic representatives of the Central Powers. The guests were formally received in a ceremony in the Yildiz Palace.

HEAVY GAS BOMBARDMENT. LONDON, May 22. On the Flanders front the Germans carried out a heavy gas bombardment on the sector to the northeast of Bethune.

EVENTS IN IRELAND. DUBLIN, May 22. Events of the past few days have not drawn as much support to the Sinn Feiners, as they expected, from the more moderate Irish parties. Indeed there are indications that the feud between the Sinn Feiners and Nationalists has only grown more bitter. To sum up the attitude of the two factions it may be said that the Nationalists believe in constitutional methods of settling the Irish question, while the Sinn Fein demands revolution, and the Nationalists consider that the Sinn Feiners by their revolutionary tactics are spoiling Ireland's best chance of a satisfactory settlement.
