Northern Fleet Delayed.

The head winds and unfavorable sailing weather during the full week passed have delayed the arrival of the Northern fleet of fishing schooners just that period over their originally announced schedule. This unforeseen delay, however, will not in any way interfere with the carrying out of the programme which has been mapped out, and the arrival of the main body of the fleet in port will be the signal for the commencement of the entertainment planned for Mr. Coaker and those who give him allegiance. There has been no let-up in the policy to be adopted. All the arrangements have been perfected, and the few details to be considered will be finalised in short order. That there may be no misapprehension on the part of the lawful guardians of the peace, with regard to the proposed demonstration, it can truthfully be said that those alone who fear the power of the fishermen of the North need be in dread. Not that there is anything of a violent nature in contemplation. The dread will be more moral, or political, if that is better phrasing, than physical, for no bodily injury will be done any person opposed, no matter how strongly, to the reasonable demands of the toilers of the sea. These men have wrought night and day at their calling in a successful effort to wrest from the depths of ocean the wherewithal to support themselves and families, and now that they begin to perceive that the legitimate fruits of their labors is about to be taken from them, they utter their formal protest in the one way which appeals to them, and which they consider will be the best means toward attaining their end. Every man on board the fleet is a law-abiding citizen of the colony, and would not countenance any overt movement toward a breach of the peace of our sovereign Lord the King, or against his crown and dignity. Any newspaper which alleges unlawful conduct against the proposals of these tried and true men of the North is guilty of incitement to rebellion, and we would ask the Advocate to kindly make a note of this, and be guided entirely in its reports of what might occur, by strict adherence to the truth. The Northern men are in no mood to stand for any of the stock-in-trade epithets carried in the Advocate's vocabulary. "Traitors to the Union" and "Expelled members" should have no place in press references to the fishermen's reasonable request. There have been too many of these in the past. No man's liberty of thought and freedom of personal action, within the law, will be safe, if the Ku Klux Klan methods of the President of the Fishermen's Protective Union are allowed to be used against members of that organization who held different opinions, and do not see eye to eye with the Grand Wizard. There is no appeal from the sentence of the controlling power, and expulsion from the Union not only means the sending of any independent member into the outer darkness of his contumacy, but his name is blazoned forth in the columns of the Advocate as though he were the greatest criminal of the age, instead of being a free man asserting the right to possess and ventilate his own opinions.

In connection with the approaching Convention of the F.P.U. to be held at Port Union in the near future, would it not be well for the Administrator of the Government to take notice that one of his advisers is Secretary of two ramifications of that Union for which he doubtless draws a substantial salary, while at the same time he is a minister of the Crown and in receipt of Ministerial emoluments from the taxpayers of the Colony. Is this consistent? Is it right? Is it just?

Coaker Not Burnt in Effigy.

BUT HIS DAY IS DONE!

Special to Evening Telegram.
WESLEYVILLE, To-day. Although Coaker was not burnt in effigy here last night he is finished as far as Bonavista Bay is concerned, and the northern fishermen are very indignant that he should report in the Advocate that they are backing down, which is absolutely false, for the men here are more determined than ever to win out and see such men as Coaker as far from the Government as possible. Our committee has lately returned from visiting Bonavista, Newman's Cove, Flat Island, Deer Island and other places and report everybody solid for the Resolutions and determined to fight till the end. We are advising all fishermen of Newfoundland to stick together and sell no fish till their demands are acceded to. Owing to the disagreeable weather, it was impossible for us to land our fish to come to St. John's, but after one fine day we will leave in a body of 100 vessels for town to enforce our demands, if not got otherwise.

On behalf of Committee.
JESSE WINSOR,
Chairman of United Fishermen.

ADDITIONAL PROOF THAT COAKER'S DAY IS DONE.

The following telegraph message was handed the Telegram this morning as evidence of the determination of the Northern fishermen to assert their rights in connection with the movement recently started, as an intimation to Mr. Coaker and the Advocate to keep their "hands off."

WESLEYVILLE,
Nov. 2, 1922.

JOB BLACKWOOD,
S. A. College, St. John's.
Publish in all newspapers of St. John's that the Advocate's report that Northern men are backing down is absolutely false. We are more determined than ever.

JESSE WINSOR.

Minister of Public Works MAKES STEP IN MORAL DIRECTION.

Unenviable prominence given one of our public institutions during the past couple of days has evidently stirred heads of other departments to action, and in this connection Mr. Jennings, Minister of Public Works, to-day posted a notice in the Board of Works building forbidding any except the regular office staff access to certain parts of the establishment. The janitor is ordered to have these instructions carried out under pain of instant dismissal.

No Prospect of Improvement.

"THE PRICE IS WHAT COAKER MAKES IT."

"If the price of fish is what Coaker makes it," a message received by a prominent planter of Brookfield is not encouraging. This message advised the planter to proceed at once to Port Union, where $4 per qt. can be obtained, as the price is going "down, down, down," maybe to $3.50 and possibly some may not get their catch clear at any price.

Fishermen's Delegation Visits Bonavista.

Successful Meeting Held and Action of Committee Endorsed--Rev. C. Lench Acted as Chairman.

Left here 9.30 a.m. Thursday, 28th inst. for Bonavista in open motor boat with Mr. E. J. Wornell, delegate to hold public meeting and explain Fishermen's Resolution. We arrived there 3.15 p.m. and found crowd of fishermen to welcome us. Our intention was to land Mr. Wornell, delegate, but being requested to stay we changed our plans and acceded to their request. We were taken to comfortable homes and given lunch, after which we returned to look after our boat and found the friends hauling her on beach for the night. The flag was hoisted on the Orange Hall about 4 p.m., the only notice given about the meeting. The meeting opened about 7.30 p.m., the hall being practically filled. Rev. C. Lench was appointed Chairman. After he had made a few remarks he called on Mr. Wornell to address the meeting. The speaker told the people in very simple language how the work begun and showed them how it had progressed until it had reached its present stage. The meeting was one of the most orderly and reflects great credit upon the people of Bonavista, especially when a man of the rank and file is given such honor and respect. The speaker then read the Resolutions and took his seat to give the meeting a chance to comment upon them. The Chairman then asked us to address the meeting and we certainly gave some addresses. We told the people that we've been at the fishery all our lifetime, bringing home good voyages from 600 to 1000 quintals, and find that we can hardly make both ends meet. We consider this a life or death struggle and we said we would go to France in an open boat if necessary to make it easier to live in this country. A vote was taken for all who were in favour of the Resolutions to raise their right hand when a unanimous response was made. They were then asked to confirm same by their signatures, which they did. A committee was chosen to further the work. Meeting was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem and claimed by all to be the best that was ever held at Bonavista. The following day being stormy we could not get home as we intended so we laid our plans to have a meeting at Newman's Cove. The people of both Birchy and Newman's Coves were notified and asked to arrange for a meeting in the Orange Hall at Newman's Cove. In spite of the rain and darkness we reached the hall at 7.30 p.m. and found about 40 men ready to receive us and hear the message from our delegate. Pursuing the usual course the Resolutions were read and explained. They were unanimously passed and signed. Mr. Wornell then arranged with a man to have the Resolutions taken to Amherst Cove so that the people of that place and the adjoining places be given a chance to see and sign them also. The meeting then closed by singing the National Anthem. We got back to Bonavista at 10.45 p.m. Leaving Bonavista at 8 a.m. this morning we called at Flat Islands, where we soon had a crowd assembled. The Resolutions were read and explained there by Mr. Wornell and the spirits of the people rose and they asked us to leave the Resolutions with them and they would assure us of their hearty support. We arrived home about 5 p.m. and were received royally. A public meeting was held to hear the delegate's report, after which had been given, was accepted as given in all honesty by a unanimous vote of the people. The people are still determined to spread this and make it a success. Copies of Resolutions were given to Mr. Kenneth Goodyear of Musgrave Harbor, who faithfully promised in our meeting to take the matter up and to see the Fore District would co-operate with us in our fight for an extension. The driver of the motor boat, Robert Carter deserves to be congratulated for the way in which he kept the Atlantic engine working without giving us trouble during the trip. WALTER CARTER, MARK BRAGG, Greenspond, Oct. 28th, 1922.

McMurdo's Store News.

FRIDAY, Nov. 3.
There are several good points in the Deceator Tooth Brush, which are worth noting. (1) It is not too large a brush; the handy size enables it to get round the mouth easily. (2) The shape of the brush enables it to reach all the teeth, especially those in back of the mouth. (3) The wide spacing between the bristles allows them to penetrate into the crevices where food particles accumulate. (4) The handle is so shaped that it allows you to hold the brush in the proper position in the hand for correct brushing. (5) The bristles are made of the finest and liveliest hair, and the Deceator Brush will outlast two ordinary brushes. Price 70c. each.

L.O.A. OFFICERS AT KELLIGREWS.
Provincial G.M., A. W. Piccott and officers of the Grand Lodge, L.O.A., paid an official visit to Kelligrews' Lodge last night. The visitors were warmly received by a large gathering of officers and members. A visit to Topsail Lodge will be made on Tuesday.

Our Review Column.

JIMMY HOWCROFT'S BOOK OF POEMS.

Everybody is likely to be interested in the new edition of Jimmy Howcroft's poems, which, under the title "LOOKING ON" is now issued by the author. Howcroft is an Airman who was desperately wounded during the war. Since 1916 he has been unable to move hand or foot; indeed it is a mystery to his doctors that he should be able to live since his spine is fractured. He is in constant pain, Howcroft, however, has the poet's ability to rise superior to his surroundings, and most of the poems in the second edition, an advance copy of which we acknowledge, and most of the poems in this little volume, were dictated to his nurse in the London hospital where he was looked after for five years. Howcroft now lives at Liphook, in a cottage, in comfort, largely owing to the tangible result of the sale of the first edition of this book. With his wonderful enthusiasm he is now very keen on starting a poultry farm, and he is looking forward to further sales to start him in this scheme. These verses serve to show us there are no circumstances, however adverse, which a courageous spirit may not surmount. There must be many who, admiring this war hero's sustained courage, will be glad to help in the small way of securing this little book of poems, which has proved itself of help to many on account of its outlook of cheerfulness and courage. The second edition much augmented, revised, and a new photograph added, can be obtained from the author at Little Forest Cottage, Liphook, Hants; at the low price of 2/6d. post free or by the kindness of Messrs. Eden Fisher & Co., Ltd., from them at 96 Fenchurch St., London, E.C.3. The new edition has a foreword by John Gresham, an appreciation by C. J. Tabe, and is dedicated to Miss Phyllis Harding, 13 Hyde Park Gate, S.W., London. We quote the following as an example of the author's poetic accomplishment:

LIFE.
(Suggested by a game of Chess.)
"The stage of life is set, the play slowly evolves from its first day. Some parts are small, some others great. Dictated by relentless fate. No matter what our lot may be, This, all can plainly, clearly see: The play's most poor, most humble pawn. May lead with hope towards the dawn."

DIED.

On Nov. 2nd, after a long illness, Louise Woodfine, daughter of Thomas and Sarah Dwyer, aged 38 years, leaving 3 brothers, 7 sisters, husband, 3 children and 2 step-children. Funeral from her father's residence, 25 Scott's Street, Saturday at 2.30 p.m. Canadian papers please copy.

IN LOVING MEMORY
of my dear mother, Christie Grant who died November 3rd, 1897. N.P.—Inserted by her daughter Nellie.

IN LOVING MEMORY
of my dear husband, Albert J. Earle, who died November 3rd, 1921. We trust he is gone through the beautiful gates. Away to the city of gold: Which knows no sorrow, sin or pain. He is safe in the heavenly fold. The silent grief that is in my heart No human life can trace; For many a broken heart is hid Behind a smiling face. 'Tis not good-bye dear Albert, 'tis only just farewell. A little while, a moment, we too with Christ shall dwell; Sleep thy last sleep, free from care and sorrow, But where none weep, till the eternal morrow.—Inserted by his wife.

IN LOVING MEMORY
of my dear mother, Elizabeth A. Blare, who died Nov. 3rd, 1922. But to-day I'm left in sorrow, And my heart is filled with pain; We will meet some day in heaven Where we'll never part again.

Christ has called her and we miss her, And the voice we loved is still, And no more we'll hear her footsteps, Nor her vacant place be filled.

Memories are not forgotten And the loneliness I spend; She was always glad and happy, And she smiled on her sweet face, And to-day she rests in heaven In her happy resting place.—Inserted by her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Ladd.

Drowning Averted.

LAD'S LUCKY ESCAPE.

A young lad named Churchill, aged 18 years, had a narrow escape from drowning while out bird shooting at Portugal Cove this morning. It appears that he was shooting gulls from the shore, and having met with good luck, secured a row boat to go out and pick them up. He had not gone over a hundred yards from the shore when the seulling air which he was using, broke off, and owing to the heavy seas which were running in on the land, the young chap was left in a helpless condition and the boat began to rapidly drift, but luckily, towards the shore. Before the little craft made

No Bumper Crop

POTATO YIELD SHORT.

The harvesting of root crops, especially potatoes, has been somewhat delayed by the wet weather of the few days. Farmers, however, their potatoes lifted, but owing to the general opinion of last year's production, in some instances the potato was 50% less than average. The turnip and cabbage crops are up to the average, and it is expected that heavy importations will be made to supply the market.
