Care of Blankets.

Many blankets after washing, don't smellwise over the line so that the colour will not run into the rest of the material. When quite dry, before taking them off the line, shake, beat lightly with a carpet-beater over the nap. When putting them away for a time, place pieces of volley inside the folds, wrap in newspapers, and mothballs will not attack them. Unless very badly soiled, blankets should not be soaked before washing, and then only for a short time in lukewarm soap-suds, or a solution of one tablespoonful of soda to each gallon of water.

Many want to make their day an institution.
Why not do so on Saturday.

A Thrilling Bank Robbery Discovered.

POLICE MAKE SENSATIONAL BOUND-UP.

One of the most startling bank robberies of recent years has been unearthed, but fortunately the captors were caught after a sensational round-up by police. This is just one of the stirring scenes in the great photoplay entitled "In the Name of the Law," which is to be shown at the Nickel on Monday next.

The engagement of "In the Name of the Law" will practically be the opening gun in the Nickel's fall and winter season, during which Mr. J. F.
Kieley intends to exhibit for the entertainment of local theatregoers all the greatest film attractions on the market. In seeking a big production with which to launch the new season he recognized in this picture not only one of tremendous box office potentialities, but one that will serve to bring the public to a higher appreciation of the fine calibre of the men who guard the streets of this city. Would you give up your life's savings to save your son from jail? That's the soul-searing problem that faced Officer O'Hara.
See how he solved it in "In the Name of the Law."

Wallace Reid and Lila Lee in a scene from the Paramount Picture
"Rent Free"

The mahi stick and palette are no strangers to Wallace Reid and he is quite at home in his role of an impudent artist in "Rent Free," his new Paramount picture which comes to the Majestic Theatre to-day. Mr.
Reid used to do quite a bit of this sort of thing through his specialty as cartoon work.

Mr. Reid smiled somewhat reminiscently as he dabbed at the colors on his palette.

"It's a good thing," he observed, "that artists like attic rooms, for in many cases they have to use them because they are cheapest. It seems funny that art is such a tough game and yet pays such splendid dividends when once the artist has arrived. Yet the life of the studio—the artist's studio, I mean—is most fascinating."

In the picture, which is by Mann Page and Isola Forrester Page, with an adaptation by Elmer Rice, Mr.
Reid is an impudent artist who takes to the roof tops because he can't pay any rent. He goes down an open scuttle and takes possession of an empty home. Later he meets the girl who has lived there with her father and stepmother till the former's death. The will discloses her in favor of the stepmother and she is left to shift for herself. But the artist finds a secret message which proves there is a later will in favor of the girl and helps her to attain her rights and wins her love.

This charming story makes a collecting comedy-drama. Lila Lee is the girl. The support is quite adequate.

BIRKENHEAD TELLS AMERICAN CONSTITUTION "CAST IRON"
DOCUMENT.

MINNEAPOLIS, August 30.—(United Press)—Whether the "cast iron" American constitution will prove superior to the British system, controlled by the people instead of by the courts, can be decided definitely until the negro question and American industrial and social problems are worked out, the Earl of Birkenhead, former Lord High Chancellor of England, declared in a speech before the American Bar Association here Wednesday night.

"The difference between the two constitutions is profound, Lord Birkenhead said, in tracing sixty years development of British laws."

"Your constitution is a cast iron

"The decision is premature whether you and those who agree with you have any right in trying to shake the free will of a free people by judicial control or whether we have been right in trusting the free will of a free people to work out their own salvation."

Lord Birkenhead said he is not of an opinion that early socialists the Socialist party in British politics.

C. L. B. Cadets.

Major Herbert Outerbridge, M.B.E., Second in Command, was Acting Officer Commanding last night in the absence of Lt.-Col. Walter Randall with the following Officers on duty: Captains Fred Burden, A. S. Lewis, F.
B. Rendell; Lieutenants R. J. Ash (multi), Fred E. Reid, Harold Hayward and W.
R. Moty. Total of all ranks on parade 96.

The Battalion proceeded countrywards for a route march under command of Captain P. B. Rendell. They marched in the Freshwater, Wishing-well and Pennywell Roads.

Recent orders contain the following:—Pte. M. Lane, of F. Company is transferred to Grand Falls. The Officers are now ready to receive more recruits. All lads wishing to join can make application to the Recruiting Officer any Tuesday or Thursday night at 7.45. The age limit is raised for those already members, from 19 to 21.
Two lads for persistent non-attendance have been struck off the strength of F. Company. The orders also actually announce that the Battalion will drill Tuesdays and Thursdays from date. All ranks will please notice.
Sergeant A. Johnson has been promoted to Staff Sergeant with the rank of Company Sergeant Major. Lieut. M. Job Taylor, has been transferred to A.
Company from Sept. 6th and is Orderly Officer for week ending Sept. 13th.
The Regiment will parade to St.
Michael's Church at 2.30 p.m. on Sunday next, Sept. 9th. Old Comrades are also asked to turn out in full strength.

The Officers and W.O.s were glad to welcome ex-Sergeant Gerald White, formerly of Field College Companies at Headquarters last night. Mr. White looks well and has been studying at King's College, Windsor, N.S. He is a son of the Regt. Chaplain the Bishop of Nfld. Mr. White secured his B.A. last year and has now accepted an offer on the staff of King's College School, Windsor, for a time when he will also take the opportunity of studying Divinity for a two years course. Lately he has been of great assistance in Church work there as an assistant to the Rector of Windsor. Mr. White arrived yesterday by the St. Lawrence holiday of two weeks before resuming duty and all his Brigade friends were delighted to see him again.

Grand Falls Company sends in their August reports first this time. "Com-gratulations. A strength of 68 lads reported in their C.L.B. Savings Bank Book for emergencies. Major Tait, M.
C. and Veteran Adjutant has gone and we hope to soon announce his successor. Perusing his camp report of 1923 we find it a most comprehensive and business-like document. The New Mess Hut, Telephone Service of the Avalon Telephone Company, Electric Service of the United Town & Co., the motor service of friends; the new canteen arrangements of Captain Lewis; Dr. Burden's medical services; Quartermaster Moty's food supply, the Rector of Topsail's kind services, and the gentlemanly behavior of all ranks was duly given a meat of praise.
Not a single case of insubordination or breach of discipline was on record.

The camp was a banner day for attendance. Topsail, Bell Island, Bay Roberts and Grand Falls all sent contingents. Special praise is given Grand Falls Company for their all round camp service. No illness was on record although many days were wet and cold. Major Lindsay and the C.L.
B. Ladies' Auxiliary of Bell Island were also thanked for their courtesies during the trip to Bell Island.

Inspection was made by His Excellency the Governor on the day of breaking camp. The Governor expressed his satisfaction and pleasure at the appearance and conduct of camp routine. Major Tait's last camp will long be remembered and all ranks wish him good luck in his adopted country. We notice in the Annual Report of the Governing Body in London for last year a very complimentary reference is made to Old Comrades Lodge No. 1 in Newfoundland "in that the members made a magnificent annual contribution to the funds and so helped to relieve financial anxiety." This work of the Old Comrades here is cited as a pattern for English Companies to follow and profit by the example. In the list of Colonial Regiments Newfoundland comes second, with ten companies at work to Capt. Towns Regt., South Africa with 25, Toronto, Canada, has one company; Montreal one; Nova Scotia two; New Westminster, B.C. one, and Fredericton, N.B., Canada only one. We are sorry citizens of these places have not yet awakened to the realization of what a great honour it is to be affiliated with the Church Lads Brigade of England and have their growing manhood participate in the physical and moral privileges of a well organized systematic and well tried institution as that of the C.L.B. founded by our good friend, the late Col. Gos, in 1881.

Canadian Bride Most Welcome.

GOSSIPS HOLD PRINCE COMING HERE FOR CANADIAN BEAUTY.

LONDON, August 25.—(United Press)—Romantic England, always on the alert for news of a romance affecting the Prince of Wales, yesterday gave ear to an under-current of gossip to the effect that an unnamed Canadian beauty is the real cause of his projected visit to the Dominion.

This is probably untrue, but there is no doubt that a Canadian bride would be most acceptable to the whole Empire. New talk of a marriage for the heir to the throne has been stirred up by the advent of Queen Marie of Rumania, and the reports that she is coming here to arrange a match between the prince and her daughter.
The wagering is all against Queen Marie being able to accomplish anything of the kind. In the first place, Henrietta is not yet 15 years old. The prince has repeatedly and firmly made it known that he does not intend to wed until he is quite ready to do so, and that in the remote and misty future.

His Royal Highness is very strong-willed and it is understood that Buckingham Palace is reconciled to his remaining in a condition of single-blessedness, at least for sometime to come.

Empire Pride.

It has even been rumored that plans have been discussed whereby the Duke of York would become heir to the throne in the event that the prince remains steadfast in his refusal to wed. This arrangement, it is understood, would be satisfactory to the prince who enjoys the free and informal life which bachelorhood permits.

It is universally assumed that his Royal Highness, if and when he marries, will choose a British girl. Selection of a foreign bride would be a blow to the nation and would arouse great criticism for times have changed since the days "before 1914." The war definitely "scotched" the project of marrying him to either the Kaiser's daughter, Princess Louise, or to the Czar's daughter, Grand Duchess Olga. London newspapers in 1912 hopefully and at length commented on the prospects of a Russian or German marital alliance, pointing out that the royal families had exchanged visits, during which candidates, there still remain the Italian Princesses Mafalda, 21, and the Belgian Princess Marie, 17.

Lady Mary Thynne, who was one of Princess Mary's bridesmaids, has been mentioned, as well as one or two other names never appeared in the newspapers because they lack both money and high station.

Since 1914 the list of those who have been mentioned as possible royal brides had included the names of Lady Mary Cambridge, Lady Rachel, Curandish, and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon. All of them lost hope—if they ever had any—of marrying the prince, and found husbands elsewhere.

Alberta's Wheat Pool Now Certain.

Calgary, Aug. 30. (Can. Press).— Alberta's wheat pool, with at least fifty per cent. of the wheat acreage of the province signed, is practically assured by September 5. Statements to this effect were made when members of the Alberta Legislature, representing practically the whole southern portions of the province, met here yesterday. The meeting was called under the auspices of the wheat pool.

Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Attorney-General, outlined the progress made by the provincial board of wheat trusttees. Mr. Brownlee said one of the questions to be taken up at Winnipeg on Saturday would be to decide how the bankers and mortgage people intended to collect from farmers with mortgages on their farms.

Representatives of the pool, including Brownlee, H. W. Wood and Lew Hutchison, in addition to negotiating with the devoting companies, have arranged a meeting with financial interests, when questions of finances in connection with the pool will be discussed.

Participation certificates, given by the pool to farmers under contract, would be garishable, he said.
