

FLD. TEAM SATISFIED WITH RESULT OF RACE.

Obstruction On Course, Was Unavoidable, Says Robertson.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 19.—Eric Robertson, St. John's, Nfld., manager St. John's team that won the team prize in the Halifax Herald's 10-Mile Road Race, here Saturday afternoon, in an interview with the Canadian Press this afternoon, expressed satisfaction with the result of the race and the treatment accorded Newfoundland boys while here. "Winning the team prize with twenty-five points," said Mr. Robertson, constitutes a record of which we are justly proud, and while O'Toole narrowly missed taking the coveted honor, I look forward to him as some other member of the team taking the premier honor next year. Our boys have made many friends during their visit here and hope to return next year. One thing I would like to see would be that all the winners of Saturday's race, come to St. John's along with Hawboldt, of Westville, who came third on Saturday, and try conclusions with O'Toole and the rest of the Newfoundland boys. It would be a good race and give our people the opportunity of seeing the best runners of the east in action." Referring to the conclusion of Saturday's race, when O'Toole took to the sidewalk when a truck crossed the course and in so doing lost his advantage over Miles, Robertson remarked, "While regretting that unfortunate incident, I consider that the happening was altogether unavoidable, and in no way reflected on any of the competitors or officials."

NFLD. RUNNERS' SUCCESS IN DARTMOUTH.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 19.—The Newfoundland runners who captured the team prize in the Herald and Mail 10-Mile Road Race Saturday, and whose star, Ronald O'Toole, was a close second, continued to shine in local athletic circles, when Ronald O'Toole took first place in the 2-Mile Race staged in Dartmouth to-night by the Imperial Athletic Club. Jack Bell, also of Nfld., was second and Gower Stone, his team mate, was third. Seven entered. O'Toole's time was 10.41. Gower Stone and Jake Ralph, Newfoundland, were third and fourth respectively in the half mile race.

INTER COLLEGIATE FOOTBALL.

Felidians 0
The opening game of the second round of the Inter Collegiate Football Series took place at St. George's Field yesterday afternoon, under most unfavorable weather conditions. The contesting teams were the Felidians and Collegians, and victory went to the latter by one goal to nil. The game was played in the height of a heavy wind storm, which made it very uncomfortable for the spectators and players alike.

First Period
The Collegians, winning the toss, defended the eastern goal in the kick-off, giving their opponents the advantage of the wind. Play opened with the Collegians pressing the Felidian goal, but the play did not remain very long at that end, as the forwards were unable to control the ball against the wind. In the balance of the half the Felidians had matters practically all their own way, when a succession of shots were rained on the Collegian goal, but without result. When the half time whistle blew no goals had been recorded.

Second Half
Upon ends being changed the Collegians kept up a furious attack on their opponents goal, but they too, like the Felidians in the first half, were unable to keep the ball under control to get the desired results. Play was confined mostly to the eastern end during the half, and during one of the M.C. attacks, Johnson found the net. The goal, however, was disallowed by the referee, as the player had knocked it into the goal with his hand. Play progressed with the Felidians putting up a fine defence game, and just about the time when many were of the opinion that the match would end in a draw, Barbour scored for the Collegians what proved to be the winning goal.

During the progress of the game, Rendell, of the Felidians, received a slight injury, but after a brief rest he was again well enough to continue play.

The St. Bon's and Felidians will meet to-morrow afternoon.

DEMPSEY INSISTS HE'LL GO THROUGH FIGHT WITH WILLS. Jack Says That Stories That He Didn't Intend To Fight Were As Ridiculous As The One With The Missus.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—When Jack Dempsey arrived in Los Angeles Tuesday he got quite busy trying to convince the scribes and all his well wishers that he was positively going to fight Harry Wills. The champion pointed out that the stories that he didn't intend to go through with the bout with the Panther were as roundly ridiculous as the one which had him and the Missus on the "outs." Jack spiked the latter yarn by posing in honey dove poses with his wife at the railway station. He told the writers then and there that he was just as sincere in his wanting to fight the negro challenger. One thing that Dempsey has cleared up to my satisfaction and that was the fact that he did not tell the Fistic Fathers he would return from the South, where he went to visit his wife's folks and settle the Wills thing. He said in a letter to a close friend in this city that no mention was made of his returning and that he intended to go right on to the coast after that visit.

That was what made me doubt his sincerity. Now that he insists he made me no such promise I am not going to point out that action on his part as suspicious. Another thing that I have harped on, and in which I may have done Dempsey an injustice is the fact that he has switched from Tex Rickard, his friend and benefactor, to Floyd Fitzsimmons, when looking for a promoter.

Now it appears from a second letter sent to this city, that Dempsey warned Rickard if he did business with or through Kearns, he, the champion, would have no part of him or his promotion of the bout. Kearns must not be included in any arrangements Rickard was to make. Well, as a matter of fact, Rickard could not help himself. The Commissioners accepted Kearns as Dempsey's manager, and Rickard, like Kearns, was asked to put up $21,000 guarantee of good faith.

Rickard was thrown into association with Kearns whether he wished it or not. If Dempsey ran out on Tex for that reason, then he has done Tex an injustice, for the tall Texan has nothing to do with Kearns being in the picture. Kearns will be in the picture, however. He will invoke the Law. Horrible before the shooting match comes off. Dempsey in one of his letters also insists that Ray Cannon is not his manager but is Kearns's friend.

The whole trouble with Dempsey is a deepening hatred for the man who did so much to establish him as champion. I think that Dempsey will rue the day that he ever cut admit from Jack Kearns. Managers as clever as he do not grow on huckleberry bushes.

Rev. C. H. Johnson, of George St. Church, leaves by to-day's express for Halifax, N.S., his father having developed a serious illness. In Mr. Johnson's absence Rev. E. Moore will attend the emergency calls.

The moment Uncle Lucky stopped at the little gate in the old fence around the dear Old Bramble Patch, he searched his waistcoat pocket for the knife which he had brought for Little Jack Rabbit.

"Yes, here it is," laughed the anxious old bunny uncle, and helping Little Miss Mousie out of the Luckymobile, he hopped up the winding path through the bushes to the little white bungalow.

"Hurry with the angel cake," whispered Little Jack Rabbit, from the garret, as he spied his uncle and Little Miss Mousie. Quick as a wink the pretty rabbit lady opened the oven door and taking out the cake, all rusty brown, placed it on the table.

"Ha, ha!" laughed the old gentleman rabbit, lighting his old wedding wattle hat as he paused a moment in the doorway.

"Lady Love knows how to bake. Most delicious angel cake. And her turnip tea is nice. Good for rabbits and for mice."

and with a bow to his tiny housekeeper, he kissed Lady Love on her pretty pink ear. Yes, sir, Uncle Lucky was a very polite old bunny man. Although he often remarked that he was full of rheumatism and forgetfulness, he never slipped up on his manners. No stress he had never forgotten what his dear mother had taught him when a boy. And what one is taught by one's dear mother one is careful always to remember.

"Will you cut the cake," asked Lady Love, turning to Little Miss Mousie.

hold was too frightened to answer. The roses faded from Lady Love's cheeks, Little Miss Mousie turned as pale as a lily, Uncle Lucky's whiskers trembled like leaves in the wind, and Little Jack Rabbit's pink nose twinkled with fright just like a star on a frosty night.

"The Farmer is just outside with his gun. Mr. Wicked Wolf, you had better run." twittered the Little Canary Bird from her gilded cage on the front porch.

"Without waiting to say 'Excuse me' or 'Goodbye,' the wicked old wolf jumped right over the bramble bushes and sped away for the Shady Forest.

"There he goes, Pa," cried the Farmer's Boy.

"Bow, wow, wow!" barked Old Sic-em, the watchdog up at the farm. But, goodness me! That was all the good it did, for the next minute Mr. Wicked Wolf was lost to sight amid
