THE GRAND TRUNK PLANS.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: The objections to these parts of the G. T. R. plans, which will injure the city of London, have in no way diminished, but are growing as rapidly as the people understand what the company and railway committee seem to have agreed upon, namely, the building of supports for the embankments on our streets and the closing of William street to traffic. The railway committee seem to consider that the G. T. R. have made concessions at each crossing, by agreeing

The streets cannot be too wide at railway The closing of the William street

cline need not extend over York street nant, Reggie MacMackenzie, Earl nor over Bathurst. This can be proven by the railway company's plans. The only objection is the necessity for a deep sewer extending south, which would cost about $12,500. This sewer is needed at the present time, and could be used to drain all streets south near future, and now is a good time to make the G. T. R. help pay. Voters and property owners should keep posted on each clause as passed
