Chairman of School Board Says There Will Be No Picnic This Year.

AGITATION IS UNWISE

Declared Secretary McElheran, of the Board of Education-Another Collegiate Petition.

The passing days only add to the de termination on the part of the pupils in the city schools that the board of education shall not deny them their accustomed holiday. At the Collegiate Institute the feeling has reached very virulent stage, and after more than a week of discussion the students have decided to take drastic action. A petition has been circulated through the school, asking all those who are willing to take the picnic, with the approval of the authorities, if it can be obtained, but in any case to stand by the old institution at any cost, to sign a document to that effect. This manifesto is being met with strong favor by the students, and already a good part of the school have attached their signatures. It is the intention of the scholars to present the petition at the next meeting of the board of trustees, and request that they be permitted to hold their picnic as usual on the 8th of June.

Are Growing Bold. This petition is merely to be nice to the teachers and trustees, however, and if they do not see fit to grant the petition the students claim that they will take the holiday in any case. They success, they say; committees will be formed to conduct all arrangements. and prizes will be secured from the serious charge this is. parents of the scholars, many of whom are in favor of the pupils' move. Another Petition. The pupils do not show any disposition to mince matters. Witness the following conciliatory epistle:

Mr. McElheran thought that the agitation, especially in the matter of its presentation, had been very unwise.
