 Traffic was resumed last week over the section of the main street which has been closed during the construction of the concrete bridge over the water course near the Methodist Church.
 The members of the W. A. of Holy Trinity Church gave a pleasant little social affair which they served afternoon tea at the Rectory on Thursday, December 23rd. The proceeds of fifteen dollars were for their funds.
 Expressions of satisfaction are heard on all sides over the splendid bridge connecting Granville Ferry with Annapolis Royal. Both town and village feel that it is a great asset and hope that it may prove to be more and more so in the coming years. It invites "Come and go when you please; pay nothing." It saves the car owner a superfluous journey of something like twenty-nine miles (up and around Bridgetown) when he wishes to go from here to Annapolis, Digby or other points in Western Nova Scotia. It has been the means of attracting attention to the historic old town, which has, this year, added some very unusual chapters to its history, and to the pretty little village across the river. It is hoped that it may be the means of attracting more summer visitors and more traffic over our roads. The optimists believe that the bridge is the harbinger of better and brighter times.

 A goodly number attended the A. C. F. A. banquet held in the Demonstration building Tuesday evening.

THE EDITOR'S BLACK EYE

(Ponoka, Alta., Herald)
 This is an age of inquisitiveness. The public want to know, and so here goes: It was not the pump handle, the other fellow, nor an over dose of prune juice, it was simply through falling on the ice while curling, that the Editor got a peach of a black eye. He is sincerely grateful to the public at large for their kind solicitations and begs to say that he trusts that in a day or two his countenance will have resumed its natural and charming appearance.

NEXT TO NOTHING

It is not easy to get something for nothing, but venturesome investors can now get German marks for almost nothing.

FOR FIFTY YEARS

Mother Seigel's Syrup has been the world's remedy for indigestion, and it is still the best and cheapest of stomach and liver tonics. The medicinal extracts of varied roots, bark and leaves restore the natural efficiency of the digestive organs and it has banished numerous cases of pain after eating, headaches, flatulence, acidity, biliousness and constipation. Sold in 50c. and $1.00 bottles at drug stores.

IMPERIAL FRUIT SHOW PROVES NOVA SCOTIA APPLES ARE EQUAL TO ANY PRODUCED IN THE WORLD

Annapolis Valley Dealers Have Grievance Over Small Returns Received For Their Labor.
 On a recent trip among the apple fraternity, the writer got opinions on a variety of subjects ranging from the prospects of crops the next season to Einstein's theory of relativity. From these was chosen the text for this discourse.
 That the Valley is the most beautiful place in Canada, and its inhabitants as agreeable and intelligent as can be found anywhere in all America is freely admitted by all who have travelled and compared them with the inhabitants of other sections. That the apples they grow are better flavored than any others in America is granted in all markets.
 On some points the apple man of the Valley has a grievance, and with good reason. He knows, as all know, that he can put up better flavored, and as highly colored fruit as can be found anywhere in an attractive box as anyone and he is willing to do it if he gets adequate returns for his labor.
 The record of Nova Scotia at the Imperial Fruit Show proves this beyond question. He is, also for the sake of the poor consumer, who cannot afford to gratify his eye and buy poor flavored fruit on account of its nice color and attractive package; in order to give this poor consumer a beautifully flavored apple at a price that he can afford to pay he is willing to put his domestic and No. 3's in barrels that cost 75c each and send them to Halifax, St. John and Montreal markets, and take chances on getting more for them than if he saved the package and turned the fruit into vinegar.
 In spite of the good prices this season, the grower has only received around $1.25 per barrel for his No. 3's. Counting the packing at 25c, the barrel at 75c, and picking at 25c, the man who grew them would have been much better off to have shaken the trees and turned the apples into the cider factory at 25c, if his orchard had been all No. 3's. The market has a place for such apples and will pay a certain price for them, well and good. If no apples of a higher grade than No. 3 were grown the farmers would be away out of pocket. That the No. 3's are mixed with No. 1 and No. 2, when they are growing is the reason for their being picked, graded, packed and shipped to a consumer, who will pay something for them.
 The No. 3 Ribston this year sold for much less than the cost of production, or the man who bought it got a present amounting to 50c, to $1.00 with every barrel that he bought.
 Here is where the apple man gets his grievance. He is giving the consumer big value for his money in his low grade fruit, selling it for less than the cost of production. Where is the Economist, the Labor Agitator or the Bolsheviki, who would ask him to do more? It is not his fault if a huckster shouts No. 1 over No. 3 apples, or if in other ways No. 3 are disposed of as No. 1 after leaving his jurisdiction, but he does get angry when one of his neighbors after observing some of his No. 3 apples on the market, rails in the press over the dishonest packers in the Annapolis Valley. The uncalculated raving which went on last winter is having a double effect, it is improperly injuring the reputation of the Valley apple man, who in 99 per cent. of the cases is doing his level best, and it is gradually removing the cheap apple from the market to the detriment of the housewife, who wants low priced cooked apples, and the poor who want and need fruit in their diet.
 The grower says: "If I cannot send a barrel marked No. 3's to market without being called dishonest, because I did not fill the barrel with choice No. 1's, I will turn the No. 3's into canned apples, dried apples, cider, syrup, jelly, etc., then I will get a higher price for my No. 1 and No. 2, when there are no No. 3's to compare and those who formerly bought No. 3's at $1.25 will be forced to buy No. 1's."
 Already this season over 100,000 barrels of apples that were formerly marketed as No. 3 have gone into cans, dried apples and vinegar, in the Annapolis Valley. In this way the grower is showing that he can and ultimately will put all of his No. 3's into cans and dried apples, where they will bring him more than when marketed as green fruit.
 If the unjust attack made on the Annapolis Valley growers by one of their neighbors last season is having any effect, it is in developing the canning, evaporating and vinegar industries to the permanent advantage of the Annapolis Valley and the removing of the cheap apple from the market and the raising the price of the No. 1 and No. 2 apples.

Be sure your match is out, Pinch it before you throw it away.
