

A SUMMER ROMANCE.

1. Perfect satisfaction of Jenkins in getting wet, having gallantly persuaded the delicate Miss Jones to protect herself with his coat in an unexpected shower.

2. But the following day, when he was laid up with a cold, and somebody else took Miss Jones to the ball, he was not quite so happy.

SMITH CATCHING THE TRAIN.

MEETING THE DIFFICULTY.

BROWN:—Why, what the dickens have you got on?
JONES:—Oh, I had this made to order for going out, so that if any other fellow takes my coat, you know, I shall get the best of the exchange.

PATIOCINATION.

POST-OFFICE CLERK. "Here! your letter is overweight." PAT. "Over what weight?"
P. O. C. "It's too heavy: put another stamp on it."
PAT. "Och, git out wid yer foolin'! sure if I put another stamp on, wou'd it be heavier still?"

L'ALLEGRO.

YOUNG PIGGY. "Well, Lord Bacon, how do you find yourself this morning?"
OLD PIGGY. "He! he! he! bless its dear heart, what a funny little pig it is, to be sure!"
